* A special census of the Europeans in the Darjiling Municipality was recently taken, as the census of this section of the community, taken in February 1881, was not reliable owing to the Europeans being at a minimum in that month. The number of the natives remains as before, as it was not necessary to re-census them. The ratios have consequently been calculated on the revised population under all heads in the above table, except "Age," the ratios under which have been omitted, inasmuch as the census of the Europeans, above alluded to, cannot be employed as a basis of calculation owing to the results of the census under this head not having been recorded under the authorized form of age classification.

Notice by Deputy Registrar requiring Appellant to prepare List of papers for Paper-Book.

2. When an appeal has been filed from an original decree made in a suit in which the value of the subject-matter of the claim exceeds five thousand rupees, the Deputy Registrar shall, upon receipt of the record, serve a notice upon the Appellant, requiring him to prepare and deliver to such Deputy Registrar a List of the papers to be inserted in the Paper-Book at the expense of such Appellant. Such List shall be in the following form :—

Number on the record.	Mark (if any) in the Court below.	Description and date of Paper.	Whether the whole, or portion, and (in case of a portion) what portion, to be inserted in the Paper-Book.	Page of Paper-Book (to be filled in after).

What papers to be entered in the List.

3. There shall be entered in such List all papers to which the Court must refer in order to the decision of the appeal.

(1) The following papers shall be translated and printed in every case, and it shall be unnecessary to enter any of them in the List, viz.:—

(b) Written statements of parties ;

(f) Schedules ;

(g) Maps and plans in all cases other than Chur and Boundary cases ;

(h) Accounts, jama-wasil-baki and similar papers, except particular entries relevant for the decision of the appeal ;

(i) Leases, Pattas, Kabuliyats ;

(j) Receipts, Chalans.

But any such paper shall be entered, if a reference thereto is absolutely necessary in order to the decision of the appeal.

Time for delivery of List by Appellant.

4. The Appellant shall, within thirty days after service of the notice required by Rule 2, deliver to the Deputy Registrar a List, prepared in accordance with Rules 2 and 3, of the papers to be inserted in the Paper-Book at his expense. Such List shall be termed "The Appellant's List."

Notice to Respondent of delivery of Appellant's List.

5. As soon as such List is delivered to the Deputy Registrar, he shall, if the Respondent has appeared, give notice of such delivery to such Respondent.

Respondent may inspect and take copy of List.

6. Every Respondent who has entered an appearance shall be entitled to inspect the Appellant's List, and at his own expense to obtain a copy of the whole or of any portion thereof.

Respondent's List of papers.

7. Every such Respondent shall, within twenty-one days after service upon him of the notice required by Rule 5, deliver to the Deputy Registrar a list in duplicate, in the form in Rule 2, of the papers, other than those inserted in the Appellant's List, to which such Respondent desires that reference shall be made by the Court at the hearing of the appeal, and which shall be inserted in the Paper-Book at such Respondent's expense. Such List shall be termed "The Respondent's List." When the Respondent intends to take any objection to the decree, which he could have taken by way of appeal and the taking of which is subject to the provision as to seven days' notice contained in section 561 of the Code of Civil Procedure, any papers relevant to maintain this objection shall be included in such Respondent's List.

Application by Respondent for amendment of Appellant's List.

8. If the Respondent considers that any paper or portion of a paper, which ought to have been inserted in the Appellant's List of papers under the provisions of Rule 3, has been omitted therefrom in violation of these provisions, he may, within fourteen days after service upon him of the notice required by Rule 5, and after giving notice to the Appellant of his intended application, apply to the Court for an order that such paper or portion of a paper be inserted in the List of such Appellant. When the Respondent, though he has not appealed against any part of the decree, intends to support such decree on any of the grounds decided against him in the Court below (section 561 of the Code of Civil Procedure), he is entitled to have included in the Appellant's List any papers relevant to such ground.

On Respondent's default, Paper-Book to be prepared according to Appellant's List.

9. If the Respondent do not enter an appearance or do not deliver the List in duplicate directed by, and within the time prescribed by Rule 7, and if no order be made under Rule 8, the Paper-Book shall be prepared in accordance with the Appellant's List.

One List only to be delivered by two or more Appellants or Respondents having same interest.

10. When two or more Appellants or Respondents have the same interest in the appeal, one List only shall be required from all such Appellants or Respondents Appellants or Respondents having separate interests shall deliver separate Lists. In such cases the principle of Rule 16 shall apply.

Paper printed in former Paper-Book to be printed unless order to the contrary.

11. If any of the papers, which must be inserted in the Appellant's List or in the Respondent's List, was previously printed in a former Paper-Book, the fact of its having been so printed may be stated in the List in which such paper is inserted. But such paper shall nevertheless be printed, unless the Court otherwise direct.

Papers not inserted in the Paper-Book may not ordinarily be referred to at the Hearing of the Appeal.

12. No paper in the record of the case, which is not inserted in the Appellant's or Respondent's List and printed in the Paper-Book, shall be referred to at the hearing of the appeal without the special leave of the Court. If either party intends to ask such special leave in respect of any particular paper, he shall give notice of such intention to the other party not less than three days before the hearing of the appeal. But this rule shall not preclude the Court from referring to any paper to which it considers a reference necessary for the ends of justice.

Deputy Registrar to make and deliver to Appellant and Respondent an Estimate of Cost of preparing their respective portions of the Paper-Book.

13. The Deputy Registrar shall, within twenty-one days after the delivery by the Appellant and the Respondent of their Lists respectively, make and deliver to such Appellant and to such Respondent separate Estimates of the cost of preparing their proportions of the Paper-Book. Such Estimates shall state separately the cost of transcribing, translating, examining, printing, &c., at the following rates, viz. :—

(1) "estimating" at 10,000 vernacular words per rupee :

(2) "translating" at 200 vernacular words per rupee, three figures being counted as one word :

24. There shall ordinarily be printed thirty copies of the Paper-Book, but the Deputy Registrar may, when necessary, direct a larger number to be printed. The Appellant and Respondent shall be entitled to have, free of charge, as many copies as they have Advocates and Vakils engaged in the appeal. In any case they shall each be entitled to three copies. When the Paper-Book has been prepared by the Appellant's Vakil, he shall deliver to the Deputy Registrar the total number of copies printed, less the number which he is entitled to have under this rule, or he may upon request deliver to the Respondent the number of copies to which such Respondent is entitled under this Rule, and deliver to the Deputy Registrar the remaining copies together with the Respondent's written receipt for the copies delivered to him.

When Paper-Book ready, appeal to be entered in Court Lists.

25. As soon as the Paper-Book has been prepared by the Deputy Registrar, or has been prepared by the Appellant's Vakil and delivered to the Deputy Registrar, such Deputy Registrar shall have the appeal entered in the List of appeals ready for hearing, and have such list hung up in the usual places in the Court-house. The appeal shall not be entered in the Peremptory Daily List of Causes until the expiry of seven days from its entry in the list of appeals ready for hearing.

26. There shall be printed at the end of every Paper-Book, and in the following form, a statement of the cost incurred in its preparation by the Appellant and the Respondent respectively. This statement shall not include the costs (if any) incurred under Rule 19.

Any surplus remaining after deducting the costs actually incurred by each party from the amount deposited with the Accountant of the Court shall be refunded upon request to the party by whom the deposit was made.

Assessment of Cost of preparing the Paper-Book by the Taxing Officer of the Court.

27. In the absence of a written contract between the Appellant or Respondent and the Vakil in whose office a Paper-Book is prepared, the cost of preparing the Appellant's or Respondent's portion of the Paper-Book may be assessed by the Taxing Officer of the Court: and such Taxing Officer shall assess it in accordance with the rates prescribed by Rule 13, upon demand by the party or the Vakil, and after notice of the time and place at which he intends to make such assessment. The assessment of the Taxing Officer made under this Rule shall be binding upon the party and the Vakil. When there is a written contract between the Respondent and the Vakil in whose office the Paper-Book is prepared concerning the charges to be made for preparing the Respondent's portion of the Paper-Book, or when such Respondent has assented in writing to the charges made by such Vakil, or when such charges have been assessed by the Taxing Officer under this Rule, the Deputy Registrar may pay such charges out of the amount deposited by the Respondent with the Accountant of the Court, provided always that such charges are not in excess of the rates prescribed by Rule 13.

Cost of preparing Paper-Book to be costs in the Appeal.

28. The cost incurred in the preparation of the Paper-Book and paid under Rule 27 shall be costs in the appeal, unless as to the whole or any portion thereof the Court which hears the appeal shall otherwise direct. Such Court may, if it see fit, direct that any costs under Rule 19 be allowed to the party by whom they were incurred.

Court may upon application enlarge time—may exempt any party from operation of these rules in whole or part—or may make other special order.

29. A Division Bench may, upon application and upon sufficient cause being shown, enlarge the time prescribed by these rules for doing any act to be done under their provisions. An application for enlargement of time must ordinarily be made before the expiry of the prescribed time, and must be supported by an affidavit of facts and also by a certificate of the Deputy Registrar showing the dates on which the acts prescribed by these rules were done. Such certificate shall be granted upon payment of a fee of two rupees. A Division Bench may also, upon application and upon sufficient grounds proved by affidavit, exempt any Appellant or Respondent from the operation of the whole or any part of these Rules, or may make such special order as it deems fit as to any matter with which these Rules are concerned.

Rules to apply to Appeals in cases of Probate or Letters of Administration.

30. An appeal against a grant or refusal of grant, or revocation, or refusal of revocations of probate or Letters of Administration, shall be governed by these rules, although the value of the property concerned may not exceed five thousand rupees, subject, however, to the following alteration, namely, "fourteen days" shall be substituted for "thirty days"

in Rule 4: "ten days" shall be substituted for "twenty-one days" in Rule 7: "seven days" shall be substituted for "twenty-one days" in Rule 13: "two days" shall be substituted for "twenty-one days" in Rules 14, 18 and 21: and "twenty-one days" shall be substituted for "thirty days" in Rule 15.

These Rules shall also apply, unless in any particular case a Division Bench otherwise direct, to appeals in suits in which the value of the subject-matter of the claim does not exceed five thousand rupees.

31. In these Rules words in the singular include the plural and vice versâ.

2. We have provided in section 1 that the Act shall come into force on the first day of April next. During the time which elapses between the passing of the Bill and that date, the Government will be able to prepare and issue its rules, and Collectors to make such arrangements for the assessment of the tax as they can make without calling in aid the provisions of the Act. It is important that Collectors should know as soon as possible what incomes will be assessable, and that the Government should at once be in a position to frame the necessary rules for assessment.

3. In section 5 we have, with advertence to section 24 (section 23 of the Bill as introduced), inserted a clause (clause (c)) excepting from liability to the tax the whole of the annual value of buildings which landholders and agriculturists own and occupy on, or in the immediate neighbourhood of, the land they hold and cultivate, and which are necessary to them in the exercise of their vocation as landholders and agriculturists. Thus, while a landholder will be exempt from the tax in respect of the annual value of the homestead (if any) appurtenant to his land, he will be assessable in respect of any other house he may own and occupy.

4. We have inserted in the same section a further clause (clause (g)), based on the English law, excepting from liability to the tax any portion, not exceeding one-sixth, of his income which a person pays either to the Government or to a company in respect of life-insurance or deferred annuity.

5. Clause (e) of section 5 (clause (c) of that section in the Bill as introduced) is based on a similar clause in Act VIII of 1872. The exemption appears to us to be sufficient to cover educational endowments, and does not, as has been suggested, open a door to the evasion of the Act by colourable gifts to idols or any like device.

6. We have omitted sub-section (2) of the same section in the Bill as introduced. There appears to us not to be sufficient ground for making, between official salaries and other incomes, the distinction which was proposed in that sub-section.

7. By the new sub-section (2) appended to section 5, we have made it clear that a salaried manager of land is not exempt from the tax by reason only of the income of his employer being exempt therefrom.

8. We have ascertained that companies and some other private employers are much opposed to that provision of the Bill as introduced which imposed on them the duty of deducting the tax from the salaries of their employés. To the argument that there was such a provision in force in the years 1869-72, they reply that the provision was then a fruitful cause of misunderstanding and disagreement between them and their subordinates. Under these circumstances it appears to us that companies ought not to be compelled to collect the tax. We have therefore modified section 8 of the Bill, and empowered the Collector, by a new section (section 9), to enter into an arrangement with any private employer, on terms to be mutually agreed on, for the collection by the employer of the tax payable by his employés.

9. Section 10 of the Bill as introduced followed the Acts of 1869 and 1872 in making special provision for the taxation of shipping companies. It has been stated, and we have satisfied ourselves, that the provision was unworkable and, in practice, inoperative. It has therefore been omitted from section 11, and the second schedule, of the Bill as amended by us: and we have added to section 5 a special exception (clause (d)) in favour of shipping companies incorporated or registered out of British India and having their principal places of business out of India and their ships ordinarily engaged in sea-going traffic out of Indian waters.

10. To section 18 (section 17 of the Bill as introduced) we have added clauses empowering the Local Government to authorise the Collector in any specified town or place to publish general notices inviting tax-payers to make returns of their income, and in any presidency-town to serve special notices on individual tax-payers inviting them to make such returns.

11. In section 24 (section 23 of the Bill as introduced) we have provided for houses occupied by their owners being assessed at five-sixths, instead of nine-tenths, of their annual value. We have thus reverted to the principle of section 132 of Act XXXII of 1860.

12. We have so modified section 27 (section 26 of the Bill as introduced) as to require the Commissioner to call for the record in the case of a petition for the revision of any assessment of two hundred and fifty rupees or upwards.

13. In section 30 (section 29 of the Bill as introduced) we have provided for the continuance of the summary process of recovery described in section 24 of the Bengal License Act, 1880.

14. In sub-section (5) of the same section we have provided that no proceedings for the recovery of any sum payable under the Act shall be commenced after the expiration of three months from the last day of the year in respect of which the sum is payable. The section as amended by us is more restrictive on the revenue-authorities than the corresponding section of the Bengal License Act, 1880, and less so than the corresponding section of the Northern India License Act, 1878.

15. In section 31 provision has been made, as in Act XXXII of 1860, for composition of the tax.

16. Seeing that provision is made in Chapter IV for revision of assessment, we think that section 32, sub-section (1), of the Bill as introduced should be omitted, and that section 31 of that Bill may also be omitted, as being likely, by suggesting the disturbance of settled assessments, to create irritation with which the additional revenue raised under the section would be incommensurate.

17. In section 38 of the Bill as amended by us (section 37 of the Bill as introduced) we have provided for rules being made for securing secrecy in regard to information furnished in documents relating to incomes of assessees.

18. We have deemed it desirable to specify more particularly than in section 40 of the Bill as introduced the information which may be required by a Collector for the purposes of the Act. We have, therefore, for that section substituted sections 41 to 45 of the Bill as amended.

19. We have modified section 46 (section 41 of the Bill as introduced) by providing that the delivery of a letter duly posted shall only be presumed, and we have required the letter to be registered.

20. From the first column of Part III of the second schedule to the Bill as introduced we have omitted the clause relating to stock of, or shares in, guaranteed railway companies. The clause is unnecessary, as all railway companies will be assessed on their nett earnings. We have, however, provided in new clause (c) of Part III for the recovery, in the manner prescribed in section 13, of the interest on debentures issued by companies

1. For section 265 of the said Act the following shall be substituted, namely :—

Winding up by Court on dissolution or after termination.

"265. The following report of the Select Committee on the Bill to amend section 265 of the Indian Contract Act, 1872, was presented to the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 22nd January, 1886 :—

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

2. We have so framed the new section which it is proposed to substitute for section 265 as to make it a declaration of law consistent with the form of plaint No. 113 scheduled to the Code of Civil Procedure, and to show that a partner may apply to have the partnership wound up not only after its termination but also when he is entitled to claim a dissolution.

3. We have not overlooked the difficulties pointed out by Mr. Justice Field and others as 'to the valuation and place of trial of suits under this section; but those difficulties, not being limited to suits of this class, should, we think, be considered separately and with care.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

[First publication.]

The following Bill was introduced into the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 5th February, 1886, and was referred to a Select Committee, with instructions to submit their Report within one month:—

NO. 2 OF 1886.

A Bill to amend the law relating to Government Securities.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the law relating to Government securities in manner hereinafter appearing; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title and commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Indian Securities Act, 1886; and

(2) It shall come into force at once.

Act to be read with Act XIX of 1885.

2. It shall be read with, and taken as part of, the Indian Securities Act, 1885, as amended by this Act.

X of 1885.

Repeal of part of section 3, Act XIX of 1885.

3. The words "issued before the first day of April, 1886," in section 3, sub-section (1), of the Indian Securities Act, 1885, are hereby repealed.

X of 1885.

Holding of Government securities by holders for the time being of public offices.

4. (1) In the case of any public office to which the Governor General in Council may, from time to time, by notification in the Gazette of India, declare this section to apply, a Government security may be made, or indorsed, payable to, or to the order of, the holder for the time being of the office.

(2). When a Government security is made or indorsed as aforesaid, it shall be deemed to be transferred without any or further indorsement from each holder for the time being of the office to the succeeding holder for the time being of the office from the date on which the latter takes charge of the office.

(3) When the holder for the time being of the office indorses to a third party a Government security made or indorsed as aforesaid, he shall subscribe the indorsement with his name and the title of his office.

Prohibition of indorsements on allonges to Government securities.

5. Notwithstanding anything in section 15 of the Negotiable Instruments Act, 1881, the holder of a Government security shall not be said to indorse the security, or be called the indorser thereof, if, when he signs the same for the purpose of negotiation, he inscribes his signature for that purpose elsewhere than on the back of the security itself.

XXVI of 1881.

Power of Governor General in Council to make rules.

6. The Governor General in Council may, from time to time, make rules to prescribe—

(a) the mode in which payment of interest in respect of Government securities is to be recorded and acknowledged; and

(b) the circumstances under which Government securities must be renewed before further payment of interest thereon can be claimed.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

In paragraph 5 of the Report submitted in October last by the Select Committee on the Bill which became Act XIX of 1885, it was stated that the question of applying the rule of survivorship to Government securities issued after as well as before the first day of April, 1886, would be further considered during the Calcutta session. The question has now been fully discussed, and the Government of India has decided to propose the maintenance of the rule of survivorship which has hitherto obtained. Effect will be given to this decision by the repeal of the words in section 3, sub-section (i), Act XIX of 1885, which restrict the operation of that section to Government securities issued before the first day of April, 1886.

2. By sections 4 and 5 it is proposed to introduce into the law relating to Government securities provisions (a) enabling holders for the time being of public offices to hold those securities, and (b) prohibiting the making of indorsements on allonges annexed to them.

Section 4 of the Bill, in providing that Government securities may be made and indorsed payable to the holder for the time being of an office, follows the Bills of Exchange Act, 1882 (45 & 46 Vic., c. 61), and will put an end to the public inconvenience which is caused by the present uncertainty as to the state of the law in India.

As regards section 5, the risk of fraud which attends the practice of writing indorsements upon allonges is held to justify the prohibition of annexing them to instruments which, like Government securities, are readily renewable.

3. Section 6 merely empowers the Governor General in Council to make authoritative rules for the maintenance of existing practice with respect to the record and acknowledgment of payment of interest and to the renewal of securities which have become covered with indorsements.

AMENDMENT OF THE VACCINATION ACT.

THE HON. MR. REYNOLDS introduced the Bill to amend the Bengal Vaccination Act, 1880. He said:—This Bill, as I mentioned when asking for leave to introduce it, deals principally with three points. In the first place, it gives power to the Superintendent of Vaccination at any time to require the parent or guardian of a child to have the child vaccinated, if the Superintendent considers such a measure to be necessary. Provision to this effect is made by sections 3 and 4 of the Bill. I have already explained the necessity which exists for amending the Act in this direction, and I believe no one will be prepared to say that the Superintendent ought not to be able to exercise this power, especially in cases in which an unprotected child may be exposed to the contagion of small pox, and it may be necessary to take immediate precautions against its contracting the disease.

The next section of the Bill is certainly an important section, and I referred to it on a former occasion as a somewhat stringent measure. It allows the Health Officer of the Port, if he deem it expedient, to require any unprotected person on board any vessel arriving in the Port of Calcutta to submit himself forthwith to be vaccinated, and every such person must comply with the requisition before leaving the vessel. I must admit that I have not been able to find any precedent exactly corresponding with this section. In one of the papers connected with the Bill it is said that a law of this kind is in force in New York, but, as far as I can learn, the New York law applies only to cases in which a vessel has actually been placed in quarantine, and this is no doubt a distinction of some importance. Again, there are certain provisions in the English Public Health Act which give powers analogous to the powers given by this section of the Bill, but these are not intended to be summarily and generally worked, but only on particular occasions and under exceptional circumstances. I think that what I said before of the cases of small-pox on board the ships Darlington and Empress of India in this port shows the necessity of some such power being given to the sanitary authorities of the port, and therefore I will ask the Council to accept for the present the section as it stands in the Bill; but I am prepared to admit that it may be proper that the Select Committee should consider whether some restrictions should not be placed on the very wide power given by this section to the Health Officer of the Port, so as to ensure that the power shall be exercised with proper discretion and only under circumstances which necessitate it.

Section 6 gives power of access to a public vaccinator to enter any house or vessel for the purpose of ascertaining whether the inmates are protected. To this also I believe no serious objection will be made.

I do not know that I need say anything more, but I should like to make a brief reference to two other provisions which will not be found in the Bill. The first of these is a provision for the compulsory re-vaccination of persons who have already been vaccinated. The advantage of a provision of this kind was pressed on the Government of Bengal by the Committee of the Municipal Corporation who were appointed to consider the working of the Act, and the proposal was also supported by the Sanitary Commissioner. There seems to be a consensus of medical authority in favour of the opinion that though vaccination, so long as its effects endure, is practically a protection against small-pox, it is not a permanent protection Persons who have been successfully vaccinated have subsequently taken the disease, though they have generally taken it in a mild form, thus showing that they are not absolutely protected unless they are re-vaccinated after they are grown up, and on this account both the Sanitary Commissioner and the Municipal Commissioners were in favour of a compulsory law requiring persons to be re-vaccinated. But the Government was of opinion that as there is no precedent in any other country for such a provision in any general vaccination law applicable to the civil population, it was undesirable to introduce it at present into Bengal.

The other provision to which I refer is a provision for the compulsory isolation of infected persons. This proposal was pressed upon the Government from several quarters, but it was thought that its proper place would not be in a Vaccination Act, as it would not be confined to contagion from small-pox, but should form a part of some Act relating generally to contagious diseases. I refer to the exclusion of these two provisions as tending to show that in the amendments which have been embodied in the Bill the Government has proceeded tentatively and cautiously, and has not gone in advance of public opinion, but has even declined to accept some of the suggestions which have been made to it. I now beg to move that the Bill be read in Council.

The motion was put and agreed to, and the Bill was referred to a Select Committee consisting of the Hon. Mr. Cruickshank, the Hon. Anundo Mohan Bose, and the Mover.

CALCUTTA POLICE ACT AMENDMENT BILL

The Hon. Mr. Reynolds introduced the Bill to amend the Calcutta Police Act, 1866, and moved that it be read in Council. This, he said, is a short Bill and consists of two sections, one of which gives the police power to arrest in cases where a person is found drunk and incapable of taking care of himself, or is guilty of any riotous or indecent behaviour in any street or thoroughfare, or in any place of public amusement or resort; and the other gives similar power in cases of persons who wilfully and indecently expose their persons, or commit a nuisance in or near any public street, or thoroughfare, or place. I think the Council will agree that it is necessary that the police should have these powers.

The Hon. Moulvie Abdul Jubbar said:—With reference to the Bill which the hon'ble member opposite has introduced for the amendment of the Calcutta Police Act, I beg to inform the Council that this Bill was introduced at the instance of the Commissioner of Police; but it appears to me that it escaped the notice of that officer that the suburban police required to be invested with the same power which the Bill proposes to give to the Calcutta police. So far as police administration is concerned, the procedure is the same both in the Suburbs and Calcutta. Section 41 of the Suburban Police Act, which was passed in the same year as the Calcutta Act, corresponds with section 68 of the Calcutta Police Act, and I think the amendment of the latter necessitates the amendment of the former. I therefore suggest that the amendment now proposed to be made in the Calcutta Police Act should be extended to the Suburban Police Act; otherwise there will be an anomally by no means desirable, for while men will be liable to arrest for being drunk and obstreperous on this side of Circular Road, on the other side of the same road they will go scot free. I therefore think the amendment of section 41 of the Suburban Act is as much necessary as the amendment of section 68 of the Calcutta Police Act.

The Hon. Mr. Reynolds said:—"I think the amendment suggested by the hon'ble member will be necessary, and the hon'ble member is probably right in saying that a similar provision will be required in the Suburban Police Act. That, however, is a point which the Select Committee will take into consideration.

The motion was then put and agreed to, and the Bill was referred to a Select Committee consisting of the Hon'ble Abdul Jubbar, the Hon'ble Mr. Cruickshank, the Hon'ble Anund Mohun Bose, and the Mover.

AMENDMENT OF THE VILLAGE CHOWKIDARI ACT.

The Hon. Mr. Garrett introduced the Bill to amend the Village Chowkidari Act VI (B.C.) of 1870, and moved that it be read in Council.

The Hon. Mr. MacDonnell said:—The Bill which my hon'ble friend opposite has introduced to our notice to-day seems to me to be on many grounds so worthy of support from this Council that I feel bound to do something more than record in its favour a silent vote. The efficiency of the rural police lies at the very root of our administration of criminal justice, and any proposals tending to increase that efficiency must always command an attentive hearing from those interested in the good government of the country. It has been my fortune during fifteen years' service in the mofussil to have been associated more or less intimately with the police administration, and for five years after the passing of the Act which it is now proposed to amend I paid, in the capacity of Magistrate of a district, special and continuous attention to the chowkidari question. The results of my experience tally in the main with the views set forth in the report of Mr. Munro and his colleagues, and I for one am convinced of the necessity of legislation on this question. I am also satisfied that legislation should take the general direction indicated in this Bill, though I do not pledge myself to support all the details, specially those regarding jaghir lands. It is, no doubt, true that here and there we find an energetic Magistrate who works the existing law to good purpose; who, under it, enforces the punctual payment of chowkidars' wages, and procures their attendance at the police stations at the stated times. But the able report now before the Council clearly shows that such results owe their existence to individual exertions, and they disappear with the zeal of the officer who called them into being. The consequence is that arrears of chowkidars' pay accumulate, and chowkidars, when they do not actually join the class of petty thieves, become lax in the performance of their duties. The regular police are thus cut off from their legitimate sources of information as to what is going on in the country around them, and in their turn they fail the Magistrates in the most important essentials of their duty. Any plan therefore which, by establishing a continuous and permanent agency for the payment of chowkidars, will give us some assurance of the regular and efficient discharge of their duty deserves from this Council a respectful hearing.

In his speech this day fortnight my hon'ble friend opposite dwelt on the onerousness and odium attaching at present to membership of the village punchayet. In most of what my hon'ble friend said on this point I agreed, but it struck me that he was inclined to take a somewhat optimistic view of the effect which this Bill would of itself have in remedying the abuses which he depicted One of the greatest difficulties a Magistrate encounters in administering the Chowkidari Act is the difficulty of constituting a good punchayet. At the time the Act of 1870 was passing through this Council there were hon'ble members who nursed the belief that the membership of the chowkidari punchayet would be an object of ambition to well-to-do raiyats, and that we should have eager canvassing for membership. Such a belief was sadly disappointed; and we now learn from the report of Mr. Munro's committee that appointment to a chowkidari punchayet is universally regarded as a calamity. The reasons given for this result are two, and they lie on the surface: first, there is, as Mr. Garrett has stated, the antipathy inherent in our common human nature to undertake invidious responsibilities. In the second place, there have been, as Mr. Munro's report points out, defects of administration. The antipathy we cannot altogether overcome, but the faults in administration we assuredly can. I remember an instance of a gazetted officer of Government—a Deputy Magistrate—who had been deputed to establish chowkidari punchayets in certain villages. This officer spent his time at the neighbouring police outpost and sent a police officer on Rs. 10 a month to select a punchayet. The police officer made hay while the sun shone: he put up to the highest bidder, not the membership, because for that he would get no bid, but the exemption from membership. Thus all the well-to-do people—those from among whom the members should have been chosen—secured their exemption, while poor and uninfluential people were selected to form the punchayet. The consequence of course was that these poor men, when they came to assess the rate, not to speak of collecting it, were scoffed at and hustled; that the police officer who had made these appointments reported the punchayet as negligent; and that they were accordingly forced to make good the arrears. Is it a cause for wonder that those poor men were not enamoured of the dignity and advantage attaching to membership of the village chowkidari punchayet?

Now I venture to say that no hon'ble member of this Council with knowledge of rural Bengal will deny that this case is only a sample of what has often occurred in every district into which the Act of 1870 has been introduced. How are such abuses to be corrected and prevented? Not certainly by this Bill, and not by any enactment which this Council can pass. The true remedy is of course the growth of honest public spirit and patriotism among the people under the influence of those progressive and civilising ideas so worthily represented by my hon'ble friend to my right, whom we all cordially welcome to this Council chamber. This, however, must be the work of time: and meanwhile there is nothing for it but to rely on the action of our local officers in the selection of the best villagers to the punchayet. From this point of view it is worthy of consideration by the Select Committee on this Bill whether any punchayet shall be deemed to be finally constituted until the District or Subdivisional Magistrate has visited the village and satisfied himself by personal inquiry that the social position and influence of the persons nominated to the village punchayet are such as entitle them to membership. In section 3 of the Act which it is now proposed to repeal, there was a provision that an officer exercising magisterial powers should personally explain their duties to the punchayet before they undertook them. I do not find that this provision is reproduced in the Bill now on the table; but I would now go further, and by imposing on the Magistrate or Sub-divisional Officer the duty of appointing the punchayet do as much as can be done to secure good men. There is indeed a passage in paragraph 32 of the committee's report which would seem to indicate that even personal selection by the chief executive officer of a district will not secure an efficient punchayet, but upon this point the committee's inference has been pushed too far.

With punchayets well selected and relieved from the invidious duties of collecting the village assessment, and with the payment of the chowkidars' wages guaranteed by the other provisions of this Bill, a very great advance will have been made towards securing a trustworthy body of village watchmen. But I cannot conceal from myself the fact that even with that most desirable result secured, the police administration of these provinces will yet stand in need of great improvement. The question of the pay and position of police officers must sooner or later be seriously considered: for as long as an officer in independent charge of a police outpost, with jurisdiction among many thousand people and numberless opportunities for unchecked misconduct, receives as a rule no higher pay than Rs. 15 per month, so long will our police administration remain unsatisfactory. This is not the place nor the time to dilate upon this subject; but I feel bound to declare my conviction that no measure of chowkidari improvement can have its full effect if unaccompanied by an amelioration in the position of the regular police. I believe I shall be borne out by the unanimous opinion of native and European residents in the interior who have experience of the regular mofussil police that the question of improvement in the personnel of the police force merits earnest attention. This is my opinion, not formed to-day nor yesterday, but the result of 20 years' mixing with the people, under circumstances favourable to the formation of an impartial judgment upon the matter. There is only one way in which the improvement can be effected, namely the removal of police officers from temptation to err. We must pay them better than we now do, and we must endeavour to attract better men to the police service by opening to them a better career than they now have.

I have, Sir, been an attentive reader of the luminous discussions which in another place have recently occurred upon our fiscal system, and I marked the force and ability with which proposals were urged to exempt our trade from the few restrictions upon it which now remain. No doubt impediments in the way of trade are objectionable; but nothing in the world of politics and government can be considered absolutely on its own merits Everything is relative. It is from this point of view that I would suggest the consideration whether such imperfections as now remain in our fiscal system can produce such injury as attends on the existence of an underpaid yet very powerful police force. This question of reform in the quality of the police force is therefore a matter of urgent necessity. Your own tenure of office has been signalised by achievements which are too great to be properly estimated at the present time, and it was impossible for you to attend to this question, immersed as you have been in great affairs from the time of your assumption of your high office in Bengal. Even had the time and opportunity been auspicious, an impoverished treasury would have precluded you from effective action But our finances will not always be in a depressed condition; already competent men discern signs of reviving trade. I can only express my earnest hope that when prosperity again shall smile upon the Bengal finances, and when it becomes again a question of remitting instead of imposing taxation, the improvement in the position of our mofussil police will claim and receive at the hands of the Government considerate and preferential treatment Unless this is so, I cannot foresee for the present measure that extended sphere of real usefulness which I should wish.

The Hon. ANUNDO MOHUN BOSE observed that he was not in a position to agree with all the remarks which fell from the Hon. Mr. MacDonnell, but he felt it his duty to say that he listened with great pleasure to the several observations which he had made with regard to the urgent need of reform in the system of police administration. He also agreed with the Hon. Mr MacDonnell in thinking that it was not in the provisions of any particular Bill, but in the growth of honest public spirit, that the true remedy for several of the evils complained of in the present administration of the Chowkidari Act would be found. It was because he felt that the growth of public spirit would be retarded and not accelerated by the provisions of this Bill that Mr. Anund Mohun Bose could not regard this measure as a satisfactory one. He believed that it would be by increasing the power and the dignity of the village punchayets, and not by curtailing their responsibilities, that a real stimulus would be afforded to the growth of public opinion. He drew attention to some of the broad questions of principle underlying the alterations proposed to be made—alterations which appeared to him to be in a retrograde direction. As Mr. Westmacott in his able note of dissent pointed out, the real question at issue was, whether the village chowkidars in the future were to be the police of the people or the police of the Government. The Act of 1870, which His Honor the President himself introduced into this Council, proceeded deliberately on the principle of recognizing the existing state of affairs, and not of introducing a revolution in the rural economy of the Province. It was perfectly true that in the attempts at legislation that had been made previously to the Act of 1870, in Mr Ricketts' Bill of 1859, in the suggestions in the draft Bill of Mr. Hobhouse in 1863, and in the proposals of Mr. McNeile in 1866, a different direction had been indicated, and the principle of centralization, of placing all authority in the hands of the District Magistrate, had been more or less recommended; but even at that date there was such a strong opposition, he was happy to say both official and non-official, to proposals of that description, that all those recommendations came to naught; and in the Committee of 1869, of which His Honor was a member, a Bill was prepared which deliberately recommended the opposite principle. But now it seemed to Mr. Anundo Mohun Bose that in many important points that fundamental principle was to be departed from, and he was sure that the Council would agree with him that unless necessity was proved—and there was no alternative found by which the defects in the practical working of the present system could be obviated—these alterations should not be accepted.

First, with regard to the appointment of village watchmen, which, under the present law, was vested in the punchayets. Under the Bill it was proposed that the nomination should remain with the punchayet, but that the appointment should be made by the Magistrate. With regard to that proposal, which was one of the corner stones of the Bill, he remarked that in the report of Mr. Munro's Committee, he did not find any case made out for an alteration of that description. It was not found by the Committee that the class of chowkidars appointed by the punchayets was an undeserving class of persons; and secondly, he remarked that appointment by the Magistrate would virtually mean appointment by the police. Even as regards the appointment of members of the punchayet, the Magistrate had necessarily to depend very largely on the police. and the Committee pointed out the evil effects of that necessity, having regard to the variety of functions which the Magistrate had to discharge. In the case of village watchmen, the Magistrate would have still more largely to depend on the police, for if it was impossible that the Magistrate in the course of his visits should have some knowledge of the leading men of the village, it would be still more impossible for him to have any knowledge of the class of people who would be appointed chowkidars; and under those circumstances Mr. Anundo Mohun Bose submitted that the Magistrate would have almost entirely to depend upon the police, and it was not desirable that the police, and particularly the police as they were constituted, should have this additional power entrusted in their hands.

Then the next matter of even greater importance in the Bill was the creation of a new agency for the collection of the assessments made in the various villages. It was proposed that tehsildars appointed by the Magistrate should have charge of circles consisting ordinarily of 25 villages, and would be responsible for the collections in those villages. He submitted that this would be introducing a direct Government tax-gatherer, armed with all its authority and going from door to door and hut to hut, amongst an ignorant and helpless peasantry, the result of which he apprehended would be a great deal of oppression of the people. At present the villages had to pay for their chowkidar, but at any rate the pill was gilded for them, for the actual work of collection was in the hands of their fellow villagers, who might be expected to show them some consideration, and there would at least be the check of the village public opinion upon them. But those restraints would be absent in the case of tehsildars, who would be under the necessity of collecting the dues. He submitted that the evils which were said to exist could be remedied without an innovation of this undesirable kind; but he would go a step further and say that even if they could not be remedied, of the two evils he would rather prefer the present remissness of collection and delay in the payment of the chowkidars' salaries—for that was all that was urged—than have the other evil of the tax-gatherer going from hovel to hovel and collecting from each his quota, and perhaps not unfrequently a good deal more. A great deal had been heard in this country, in connection with the fiscal measures of Government, of the evils of direct taxation; not necessarily attendant on the system, but under the circumstances of the country; but when an unsympathetic Government tax-gatherer, with all the powers proposed to be conferred on him, and who must render his account at a certain time, went from house to house to collect the tax, it must necessarily open the door to a great deal of oppression and create discontent amongst the masses. Mr. Westmacott suggested in paragraph 12 of his note certain means by which this duty of collection could be rendered far less difficult, and the office of punchayet would be rendered far less unpopular than at present, viz. by the delegation to servants of the duty of collection, an increase in the remuneration of the collector, and the assistance of the Magistrate being given, if required, in enforcing payment by defaulters. This would go a great way, perhaps entirely, to remove the evils which had been found in practice to exist under the present system. He would suggest that this remedy should be embodied in the law, and he believed that this, with certain other measures which might be devised by the Select Committee, would remedy that particular evil.

The next important innovation or alteration in the law was the creation of another office bearer, and that was the circle sirdar. He submitted that would be even more unbearable than the tehsildar. He did not find in the report of the Committee any necessity therefor or recommendation made for that appointment. The circle sirdar would be appointed by the Magistrate, and would be constituted a sort of centurion having 25 villages under his control. His work would be to go to every village to report on the work of the watchmen, and to inform the police how the watchmen had been performing their duties. He apprehended that the villagers, who were now comparatively happy in not receiving too many visits from the police, would then be subjected to the visits of one who would really be a sub-agent of the police, and oppression would follow in the wake of visits of that description. He pitied the unfortunate villagers, whose watchmen would be watched by this functionary drawing the splendid pay of Rs. 8 a month. It had been said by the hon'ble Mover that as regards the detection of crimes committed in villages additional agencies should be created, and that the punchayets and village watchmen had failed in their duty; but he found that all the Committee said—and in this they were unanimous—was that they expressly refrained from indicating any opinion on that point. In paragraph 39 of their report they said:—"As to the influence which the punchayets have had in securing more punctual reporting of crime, it is impossible to come to a definite conclusion without much more lengthened enquiry than we could afford to bestow on the subject;" and, so far as Mr. Anundo Mohun Bose had been able to discover, the only justification for the appointment of the circle sirdar lay in the fact that crime had not been reported, but he did not find that that had been made out by the Committee.

Then, with regard to the financial aspect of the question, the hon'ble member, in asking leave to introduce the Bill, said that the proposals in the Bill would have the effect of adding Re. 1-2 or thereabouts to the sum now assessed for the payment of the village chowkidar; that at present ordinarily Rs. 4 had to be levied from the villagers to make up the pay of the chowkidar; and that dividing the additional sums of Rs. 18 and Rs. 8 by 25, it would entail an additional assessment on each village of Re. 1-2. In the first place, Mr. Anundo Mohun Bose apprehended that the estimate—as estimates of all departments sometimes are—was likely to be exceeded. He thought it would be difficult on the pay of Rs. 18, including contingencies, to secure the services of a tehsildar who could be trusted to make the collections honestly without levying black mail from defaulters; but taking the figures as they were given, this additional Re. 1·2 meant an increase of 28 per cent. on the present assessment.

Where the pay of the chowkidar was Rs. 3, as in Behar, this additional sum of Re. 1-2 meant an increase of 38 per cent. on the present assessment to which the villagers were subjected. No doubt it would be possible for the hon'ble Mover to show, by dividing this additional sum amongst the number of houses, that it really meant the addition of a few pies a month to each assessment, but it should be remembered that the Council was dealing with people whose income would very often be in pice and not rupees—in fact, the copper currency of the realm would be the measure of their earnings. That therefore was an addition which would be sensibly felt, and on this point the Council had the testimony of the Bill itself, in which there was a clause providing that, when the assessment on any person amounted to 2 pice or less, he would be altogether exempted from the tax; therefore, even 2 pice was a very appreciable amount in the financial budget of most of these people. Under these circumstances, the additional sum now proposed to be raised would really entail a sensible addition to the assessment. And there was this special feature about this increase in assessment, to which he would beg to draw the attention of the Council, that it would be accompanied by a curtailment of the rights of the people as represented by their punchayets If, in order to obtain the boon of popular rights and to march on in the path of local self-government, it was necessary for them to bear this additional burden of taxation, no doubt that would have been a strong element to take into consideration in reconciling them to its pressure. But so far from there being any advantage gained, the village police, instead of being more dependent on the villagers, would be less dependent upon them, and would be centralized to the extent provided in the Bill. Thus while the rights of the villagers were to be curtailed, they were at the same time asked to bear additional taxation amounting to 28 and even 38 per cent on the present rate.

There was one other alteration proposed in the Bill which he would notice. He referred to clause 7 of section 28, which defined the duties of village watchmen. Under the existing law, clause 7 of section 39, the chowkidar was required to obey the orders of the punchayet in regard to keeping watch and other matters connected with his duties. But the Bill provided that in all matters connected with the prevention and detection of crime the village watchman was to act generally under the orders of the police officer in charge of the station within the limits of which his village was situated. And further, by section 71, the District Superintendent of Police, under the general control of the Magistrate of the district, was empowered to fine, suspend, and, with the sanction of the Magistrate, to dismiss any village watchman who might be guilty of any misconduct in his office or gross neglect of his duty. This was transferring the almost complete control of the village watchmen from the hands of the punchayet to the police authorities, but he submitted that no necessity had been shown for this proposed change. On the contrary, Mr. Westmacott pointed out that it would really be impossible, even if the members of the regular police force were to be retained in the villages, for them to be independent of the local influence of the zemindar or of the ryots, whichever might happen to be the preponderating party, as the village chowkidar was now.

These were some of the important matters to which Mr. Anundo Mohun Bose had felt it to be his duty to draw the attention of the Council at the present time. He would beg to impress upon them that this Bill, in the alterations which it proposed, certainly went in a direction contrary to that in which the Council had been marching in conferring the boon of popular rights. It would be for the Select Committee to consider whether, on the contrary, the village punchayets should not be made more independent, whether, as in carrying out the system of local self government in the appointment of union committees, a competent officer should not be delegated to carry out the law by getting a proper set of men elected by the villagers themselves, whether their position should not be made more honourable by giving them substantial responsibilities over the village police and making them less liable to interference by the regular police. He submitted that these were matters which ought to be taken into consideration; and he ventured to hope that in the Bill, as it might be finally accepted, some of the objectionable features to which he had alluded might be eliminated, and that an attempt might be made to link it to the system of local self-government and make it a means by which the progress of the people might be further secured.

The Hon. Rai Jai Prokash Lall Bahadur said:—From time immemorial the village watchman has fulfilled a well-understood function in the rural economy of the country. Just as the potter and blacksmith, the representatives of the industrial phase of the village community, have supplied the wants of that community and been allotted a specific share of the village lands, so has the watchman in the majority of cases been awarded a certain area, and in certain cases a quota of the produce of grain, for his maintenance.

This arrangement was sanctioned by Government, and the chowkidaree lands were reserved as public assets by Regulation I of 1793. The advantages derived from this arrangement were very great; it made the chowkidar a component unit of the little society of agriculturists; a sympathiser with them in prosperous seasons, and a fellow sufferer in the season of adversity. The Act VI of 1870 was enacted with a view of improving the condition of the village watchman, but it is now said that that Act has not fulfilled the expectations with which it was passed, although it is admitted by the Commission appointed to report upon the working of the Act that much improvement has of late been made in the payment of the salaries of the village watchman. I ask, has the time arrived that it can be said that the experiment has failed so as to necessitate a fresh legislation? The Government ought to give a fair trial. As far as I am aware not a single case has been brought to light to show that serious crimes have been concealed more frequently now than before. The complaint that has found expression in the report of Mr. Munro's Commission is almost the same as that which was made in 1856; and perhaps before. The fact is, that the want of punctuality in the payment of the salaries of chowkidars is not due to any special defect in the system. It is due to the defective constitution of punchayets. Section 3 of Act VI of 1870 provided that an officer exercising the powers of a Magistrate in personal communication with the residents of the village will appoint a punchayet. This has not hitherto been done, as will be observed from the report made by the Commission. It seems to us that in selecting men, too much attention was paid to the educational acquirements of members of punchayets, and that well-to-do influential, but illiterate raiyats were passed over in favour of men who had really little influence in the villages, because they could read and write. It is clear that local influence was not at all enlisted in the administration of the village police. The Magistrate made over the duty of selection to the Police Inspector, and the latter to his Sub-Inspector, and so on till the constable of the beat selected a punchayet out of the men with whom he was familiar, and whom he wished to enlist. Under the circumstances, it is not surprising that that experiment did not yield more mischievous results than was at first expected. I repeat, therefore, that it is not considered necessary to repeal the existing Act by introducing a new system, and I do condemn the change which will undoubtedly be calculated to render the chowkidaree system more unpopular. The provisions of the existing Act should be fully enforced, but if there should be no reformation still, it will be time to pronounce a verdict, and think of the necessity of a change in the law. As to the absolute need of early and correct reports of crimes, births, and deaths, I am sure there would then be very little cause for complaint. I feel emboldened now to ask the Council to pause by reason of the introduction of an Act which will bring about a healthy change in the mode in which the social and the administrative forces of the country have hitherto been connected with each other. I mean the Local Self-Government Act. In almost all areas covered by villages of importance, there should be established Union Committees, and I am confident that the establishment of these Committees would have a more salutary effect upon the village community throughout the length and breadth of the country. By this they would learn to acquire habits of cheerful cooperation with the administration, and would also be more attentive in the discharge of their duties towards the Government.

I must confess, viewed by the light of the principles which were recently so forcibly proclaimed as to the advisability of adopting a policy of Self-Government, that it is most essential that the people should be taught to manage their own affairs. The Bill seems to be wholly a retrograde measure. We are about to launch a scheme of modified local autonomy, and we are, at the same time, in one of the most vital matters which concerns the rural population, imposing upon the people an elaborate machinery of executive interference. Not only is there to be executive interference, but increased taxation, and a more harassing and irritating mode of collecting the tax.

The Hon. Mr. Garrett said he quite recognized the importance of having a strong punchayet, and, with reference to the objection brought forward by the Hon. Mr. MacDonnell, he observed that the provision in the law that the punchayet should not be appointed until the Magistrate had personally visited the village and explained the duties of the punchayet was left out from the Bill, because it was not carried out in practice; he would, however, be perfectly willing to introduce again that provision with some modifications. With regard to the objection of the Hon. Anundo Mohun Bose, he quite admitted that the present Bill was to a certain extent a retrograde movement. It was found that a step had been made in a wrong direction, and it was now considered necessary to resile from the false step. The expectation when the Act was passed was that when the village police was placed in the hands of the villagers themselves, they would loyally assist in the prevention and detection of crime, and see that the chowkidar was duly paid. The experience of local officers who had anything to do with the detection and punishment of crime was that the punchayets had not loyally co-operated with the regular police in the detection of crime, especially such crimes as the villagers very often wished to hush up; and certainly the chowkidars had not been regularly paid. It was only by the interference of the Magistrate to a degree which was not altogether warranted by the Act that the chowkidar had been more regularly paid. Then, coming to the more detailed objections which had been made, in the first place, it seemed that the hon. member was under some misconception as to the idea that the nomination of the chowkidar would be in the hands of the police. The Bill provided that the chowkidar should be appointed by the punchayet, and that the Magistrate, where the nomination was not an unfit one, would be bound to respect it, and the police would only be called upon to nominate the chowkidar where the punchayet would not nominate a chowkidar, or nominated one who was obviously unfit to perform the duties. Then, as regards the collection of the tax, the hon. member spoke of the tehsildar, on small pay, being let loose on the villagers and oppressing the people but he entirely omitted to consider the case of a chowkidar who did not receive his wages with regularity, and was driven to petty crime to find means of subsistence. At the suggestion of an officer of great experience in these matters, the appointment of circle sirdars was recommended, and it was intended thereby to provide some more efficient means of seeing what work the chowkidar did, and whether there were any complaints on the part of the villagers against him. Then, as regards the financial question, no doubt, some small additional tax would be imposed on the village; but as the incidence of the tax would not amount to more than 82 annas on the average for every 100 houses, Mr. Garrett could not think there could be any cause to complain. Then the hon. member had said that the chowkidar, even when he was nominated or controlled by the police, would never be free from the local influence of the zemindar or of the punchayet. He thought, however, that such a system would make the chowkidar a little more independent of village influences and more amenable to the influence of the regular police.

His Honour the President said:—"I should like to say a few words before this Bill passes to the Select Committee. I have listened with interest and attention to the speeches which have been made, especially to those of my hon. friends the native members of the Council. Mr. Anundo Mohun Bose, in referring to the history of the measure, has alluded to the fact that I was in charge of the original Bill in 1869, which was eventually passed into law as Act VI of 1870; and that this was the first attempt at the reform of putting upon a better system the rural constabulary in Bengal; and he has referred also to the circumstance that, in the face of considerable opposition, the Government of that day accepted the position that an effort should be made to constitute not exactly a representative system, but a more popular system, under which the village community of each village should be responsible for the appointment of the chowkidar of the village, who should be considered the servant of such villagers. The Act of the time, in conferring on the villagers that privilege, rightly, I think, imposed on them certain duties. There is no position which does not carry with it its responsibilities We conferred upon them for the first time in Bengal the privilege of nominating chowkidars, and we required that, instead of the Magistrate interfering in the appointment of the chowkidar, the villagers should appoint their own man. But we required, in return for that privilege, the performance of duties which, if they were in a certain sense important, at the same time were very light. They had to assess themselves to small quotas of contribution which should go to make up the monthly pay of the chowkidars; to see that the chowkidar was regularly paid. and to see, which was also in some sense a privilege, that the chowkidar did his duty. After listening to the speeches of the hon native members, I could not help feeling that they spoke as if the fifteen years which have passed since the Act of 1870 came into force must be entirely ignored. The fact is that fifteen years have given us a great deal of experience of the working of the Act; and no one, I think, can accuse me of being hostile to the system which was then introduced, seeing that it was introduced at my own instance, and I should be glad to keep on the same lines now. But from the report of Mr. Munro's Committee and from reports throughout the country, it is beyond any question that the principle upon which legislation was then founded has to some extent failed; that the chowkidar has not been paid regularly, although there has been an improvement in that respect on the practice which obtained before 1869. It is manifest that if the chowkidar is not regularly paid, instead of his being on the side of law and order, he at first becomes indifferent to the performance of his duties, and eventually becomes associated with crime and disorder. Therefore, it is essential to the well-being of the country, apart from the consideration of the chowkidar's rights, that the village watchman should be in the receipt of regular payment. Then, when we come to seek the reason for their not being regularly paid on a system which should be so light and easy of application—and I think this is a point which is brought out with great clearness and force in the report of Mr. Munro's Committee—we find that it is because the punchayets dislike the duty of collecting the assessment, which brings them into hostility with their fellow villagers. Every form of inducement, and latterly some form of pressure, has been brought to bear upon them to accept that position, but without effect. Reference has been made in the course of the discussion to the fact that in certain cases—a prominent instance of it has been mentioned by my hon. friend Mr. MacDonnell—the defects in the operation of the law might be traced to the carelessness in appointing the punchayets. That might have been true in some cases, but I don't think it is the general practice, and I know of numerous instances in which a great deal of trouble has been taken by Magistrates to make the Act a success. Notwithstanding such efforts, there is one point in which it has absolutely failed, and that is in getting the villagers to accept, cordially and willingly, the duty which brings them into odious contact with their fellow villagers. They dislike the duty of having to assess and levy a tax; and further they dislike the office, because eventually, if they cannot collect the contributions, the law requires that they should pay it; and if there is one thing which has been established more than another, it is that the punchayet system, left to itself, is unworkable. We are obliged then in some sense to go back, and we go back to this extent. We still recognise the village watchman as the servant of the village, and we leave the nomination of the chowkidar in the hands of the punchayet; but the confirmation of the appointment rests with the Magistrate of the district. In 99 cases out of 100, the Magistrate will confirm the nomination of the punchayet, but the Bill provides that external control must be established to secure the interference of the Magistrate where such interference is necessary; and I don't think a just complaint can be made as to this being a retrograde measure, when we find after full experience the necessity for an intermediary agency, which will help the punchayet to perform its duty. The direction in which assistance is proposed to be given is chiefly in the matter of enabling the punchayet to collect the assessment which they will still make. When they have made the assessment, it gives them assistance in the form of a tehsildar, whose duties will not be confined to a single village, but to a group of villages; and that plan has been adopted because, in the application of the present Act, we know that in certain instances punchayets and the villagers themselves were very glad to accept the assistance of a bakshi or tehsildar, and it was thought that that system might be extended with advantage to all the country. If you once establish a good system for securing the regular payment of chowkidars, you go a long way to improve the condition of the village constabulary.

I heard with some interest the remonstrances which fell from Mr. Anundo Mohun Bose regarding the proposed appointment of a circle sirdar, and my hon. friend Mr. Garrett will bear me out that I agreed with a good deal of hesitation to the introduction of this new officer. It adds to the taxation of the village, a circumstance which I am very much inclined to deprecate, and it introduces a new feature in the system which I think may be avoided. The duties of the circle sirdar are proposed to be those of inspection, to go round the villages within the circle, and to see that the chowkidars are doing their duty and are being kept up to their mark by the punchayet. My feeling is that probably, in the first instance, it would be better to abandon the introduction of this new officer, and to depend upon the regular police for this work, so avoiding the additional charge which this proposal would involve. But this is a point which the Select Committee can fully consider.

A suggestion has been made by, I think, both the native members of the Council who spoke, that probably a solution of the difficulty might be found in connecting the village police system with the system of Local Self-Government now under trial. If I may express an opinion on the point, I would say that we are in the very infancy of Local Self-Government in the mofussil. I don't speak of municipalities; that is a well-established and well-understood system, which is certain to develope into larger efficiency; but as to Local Self-Government in the interior it is at present in its introductory stage, and perhaps our successors fifteen years hence—I hope not—may be discussing the principle of Local Self-Government as applied to unions and sub-divisions, with something of the same feeling of disappointment with which we are now discussing, fifteen years after the introduction of the Village Chowkidari Act, the unfortunate failure of village punchayet institutions. My hon. friend Mr. MacDonnell perhaps travelled a little out of his course in alluding to what has passed in another place in connection with fiscal matters, and the difficulties surrounding the Government in its financial position. No one would rejoice more than myself if we had more money to apply to the improved administration of the country, and no one in my position who had such resources in his possession would hesitate to apply a portion of it at once to the amelioration of the condition of the regular police force. From my experience of the last twenty-five years, when I look back to the days of the police under the old daroga in the mofussil, and compare it with the quasi-military constabulary of the present time, and the practically efficient way in which they discharge their duties in the face of many difficulties, I cannot help feeling that very considerable improvement has been effected in our police administration; though I have little doubt that with a better educated staff and better pay still greater improvement could be realized. But I must remind my hon. friend that in connection with the financial measure recently introduced was the paramount question of financial retrenchment, which may, perhaps, have to be carried out in Bengal, where we need more money in every branch of the Administration. I am frequently reminded that better pay and pensions should be secured for the police; but instead of seeing an early day when such advantages could be attained, I am afraid that, under the enforcement of economy, we shall have great difficulty in holding our own, and maintaining the present standard of efficiency.

The Hon. Mr. MacDonnell remarked, by way of explanation, that it was not his intention, in the case to which he had alluded, to make any imputations on the conduct of the Magistrate of the district. In that case the Magistrate deputed a Deputy Magistrate to perform the duty, and it was due to the omission of the Deputy Magistrate to do what was required that the failure which resulted ensued.

The motion was then put and agreed to, and the Bill referred to a Select Committee consisting of the Hon. Messrs. Reynolds, MacDonnell, Abdul Jubbur, Cruickshank, Anundo Mohun Bose, and the Mover.

The Council was adjourned to Saturday, the 13th February.

RESOLUTION.

For several years past the attention of the Government of India has from time to time been directed to the desirability of alleviating, so far as is possible, the discomforts and sufferings experienced by Muhammadan pilgrims during the journey from India to the Hedjaz. The existence of these sufferings, more especially in the case of those of the poorer class of Muhammadans who undertake the pilgrimage, is an admitted fact; but the action taken with a view to afford relief has been necessarily of a restricted nature, owing to the unwillingness felt by the Government to undertake any direct interference with what is considered to be a religious obligation by a large section of the Muhammadan community in India. In 1880, intimation was received from Her Majesty's Secretary of State that the Turkish Government had issued orders requiring passports from all passengers and pilgrims arriving in Jeddah, whether Turkish or foreign subjects, and announcing that those who came unprovided with such documents would be liable to be repelled from the ports of the Hedjaz. In order to render these Turkish Regulations as little irksome as possible to natives of India proceeding to the Hedjaz on pilgrimage, the Government of India, after consulting Local Governments and Administrations, resolved* to establish a system under which passports should be unconditionally given to every intending pilgrim, not only at the Indian ports of embarkation, but also at the central stations of every district in British India and at the head-quarters of all Political Agencies in Native States. Arrangements were also made to grant informal passes to the subjects of other Governments, e. g. natives of Kashgar, Russian Turkistan, Afghanistan, &c., who embark for Mecca from Indian ports, it being explained that these passes impose no responsibility on the Government of India in regard to the holders, and that the Governor-General in Council could not in any way guarantee their recognition by the officials of the Turkish or any other Foreign Government. Further, in consideration of the very large number of pilgrims who annually embark at, and return to, Bombay, and to the necessity of making some special arrangements to meet their requirements, a Muhammadan Protector of Pilgrims was appointed at that port, and instructed to supply intending pilgrims with all the information and assistance within his power in respect of every matter connected with the pilgrimage.

* Home Department Resolution No. 4—193-214, dated 12th July 1882.

2. Since the above measures were undertaken, further efforts have been made by the Government of India towards the proper regulation of the India pilgrim traffic by amending the provisions of the Native Passenger Ships' Act (No. VIII of 1876) in certain important respects, and by revising the rules issued under that Act with reference to the fitting, provisioning, sanitary arrangements, &c., of pilgrim ships. These rules have been assimilated, as far as possible, with those in force for regulating the transport of emigrants to the French and British Colonies, and have been widely circulated in the form of a "Manual for the guidance of officers and others concerned in the Red Sea Pilgrim Traffic." It has been made obligatory on ships conveying more than 100 pilgrims to carry a qualified medical officer, and in order to promote the welfare of Indian pilgrims during their stay in the Hedjaz, an Indian Vice-Consul has been appointed at Jeddah, whose special duty it is to attend to the interests and well-being of the pilgrims. In order further to afford protection and assistance to the pilgrims, especially in connection with their detention in quarantine under the orders of the Turkish Government, a Muhammadan Vice-Consul has been temporarily appointed for Hodeida and Camaran. A dispensary has also been established at Jeddah for affording relief to Indian pilgrims in the Hedjaz. Lastly, in order to regulate and bring under proper control the transactions of pilgrim-brokers in the City of Bombay, it is proposed to introduce a Bill into the local Legislative Council, under which the business will in future be restricted to licensed persons; and certain penalties will be imposed for any breach of the terms of the license. The action hitherto taken cannot fail to have effected a substantial improvement in the position of pilgrims during the voyage to Jeddah and while staying in the Hedjaz. In the course of the correspondence which has taken place with Her Majesty's Secretary of State on the subject, it was considered whether intending pilgrims should be required before proceeding on the voyage to deposit a sum of money sufficient to cover the cost of their return journey. The Government of India admitted that such a regulation would prevent much misery and suffering, but the opinion of the local authorities was opposed to interference of this nature on the ground that it might be misunderstood and misinterpreted, and the Governor-General in Council accordingly decided that action of the kind was unadvisable. At the same time a public notice was issued in the English, Hindustani, and Persian languages warning persons who propose to undertake the pilgrimage of the difficulties to which they would be exposed owing to the imposition by the Turkish Government of quarantine for at least ten days at the Island of Camaran (during which period pilgrims are required to pay certain fees besides arranging for their own provisions), and impressing upon intending pilgrims the desirability of not starting unless provided with sufficient funds (at least Rs. 300) in order to meet the expenses of quarantine, of the journey from Jeddah to Mecca and back, and of the return journey to India.

3. In October 1884 a communication was received from Messrs. Thomas Cook and Son, expressing the readiness of that Firm to undertake the conveyance of pilgrims between India and Mecca. The extensive experience gained by Messrs. Cook and Son in connection with the requirements of schemes of a similar character, and the considerable degree of success which has attended their operations, clearly pointed to that Firm as peculiarly qualified to assist the Government in still further regulating the conveyance of pilgrims between India and Arabia, and in placing the arrangements on a footing more satisfactory to the Government and more convenient to the pilgrims themselves than has hitherto been found possible. Messrs. Cook and Son were accordingly informed that, if they were able to make the necessary arrangements, the Governor General in Council would be prepared to give them such assistance as might be within his power. Messrs. Cook and Son have now informed the Government of India of the conditions upon which they are prepared to undertake the agency and control of the conveyance of pilgrims to and from Jeddah, and the Governor General in Council, after careful consideration and personal communication with Mr. J. M. Cook, is of opinion that those conditions are such as may be accepted. The conditions contemplate the appointment of Messrs. Thomas Cook and Son to be pilgrim agents for the whole of India, local officers and officers in charge of treasuries being instructed to assist that Firm in making known the terms of through conveyance to Jeddah and back, and in disposing of through tickets. The Bombay Government will be requested to make over to the representatives of the Firm the issue of passports in Bombay after these have been signed by the proper authorities, and to instruct the Protector of Pilgrims to work in harmony with the Firm and to render it every possible assistance. On the other hand, Messrs. Thomas Cook and Son agree to arrange with the railway administrations, steam-ship proprietors, and others concerned, for the conveyance of the pilgrims, at through fares, from all the chief stations in India to Jeddah and back, and to do all in their power to secure the transit of the pilgrims in satisfactory ships supplied with proper accommodation in accordance with the regulations laid down by the Government. They are prepared to provide the requisite agency for the work, Muhammadans being appointed for this purpose in all cases where necessary, to establish a special pilgrimage office in the most convenient position at Bombay, and possibly also at Jeddah, and to make all detailed arrangements in connection with the issue of the necessary announcements, forms of tickets, &c. Lastly, the Firm has expressed its readiness to comply with the requirements and regulations which may be laid down from time to time by the Government of India precisely in the same manner as though they were in the service of the Government.

4. The Governor General in Council feels convinced that a scheme of the nature above described cannot fail, if successfully carried out, to be productive of much benefit to Indian pilgrims to the Hedjaz; but if success is to be ensured, it is essential that every assistance should be afforded to Messrs. Cook and Son, not only by Local Governments and Administrations, but also by District and other officers upon whom it will devolve to give effect to the detailed arrangements. His Excellency in Council accordingly trusts that Local Governments and Administrations will see that this is done, and will direct local officers to co-operate in every possible manner with the representatives of the Firm in carrying on their operations.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to all Local Governments and Administrations for information and guidance, and to the Foreign and Financial Departments for the issue of any further orders required. Also, that it be published in the Gazette of India and in all local Gazettes for general information. Local Governments are requested to arrange for its translation and publication in all Vernacular Gazettes.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86 formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL SUMMARY OF THE PROVINCE OF BENGAL FOR THE MONTH OF JANUARY 1886.

THE normal meteorology of January is very similar in all its more important features to that of the two previous cold-weather months. Usually temperatures continue low to quite the end of the month, there being a considerable difference between the night and day temperatures. Pressure also continues high, particularly for the first half of the month, though it usually commences to fall during the second half. Northerly winds with nearly cloudless skies prevail for the greater part of the month, but towards its close the character of the wind directions frequently commences to change, when the cool dry northerly current is partially replaced at the stations near the coast by winds which are more or less southerly and decidedly moist. This change is due to the rapidly increasing elevation of the sun, which, heating the land surface more rapidly than that of the sea, causes considerable differences of temperature over the two areas, which are followed by the setting in of southerly or sea winds, but which at first are only local and confined to a narrow strip of land near the coast. Directly, however, the southerly winds begin to set in, the character of the weather is liable to change, for by their interaction with the northerly current which still blows at the inland stations, ascensional air motion is produced, which results in the formation of cloud and which is attended frequently by the precipitation of rain.

The normal conditions for January, which are thus liable to be disturbed by the sudden change brought about by the causes just indicated, are also frequently reversed by the occurrence of north-east monsoon storms as described under the previous two months. These are due to the formation of areas of barometric depression accompanied by overcast skies and rain, which commence usually in the Punjab and extend southwards and south-eastwards into the North-West Provinces and Behar, and sometimes even extend to Lower Bengal. These disturbances give southerly and south-easterly winds in Bengal with damp cloudy weather and increased temperature, and are frequently accompanied by rain, and they therefore completely reverse the normal meteorological conditions.

The normal rainfall for January is therefore small and decidedly capricious. The heaviest amounts usually occur in North Behar, where the rainfall averages 0·55 inch. South Behar and East Bengal receive an average fall of 0·47 inch; Chutia Nagpur and North and South-West Bengal receive amounts of about four-tenths of an inch, while Orissa only receives about three-tenths of an inch of rain in normal years.

Meteorology of the month.—The meteorological conditions of January have shown in a marked manner the influence of the two disturbing causes above alluded to. Thus for the first ten or twelve days of the month the conditions were those which are typical of the cold-weather months. This was followed by a period of about fifteen days, in which at first the conditions were influenced by a very well marked area of depression which formed over Northern India, and which then drifted in a southerly direction, giving rain to the whole of Behar, and cloudy moist warm weather to the whole of Bengal. The depression having filled up, afterwards moist southerly winds set in at the stations near the sea-coast, and these gave rise to disturbed conditions over Lower Bengal, and as the result of the interaction of this current with the cold northerly wind current which was still blowing at the inland stations, rain showers are reported over Orissa and South-West Bengal, where the rain was fairly general and in some cases rather heavy, while less general and lighter rain showers fell in East Bengal and Chutia Nagpur. On the 28th of the month, however, the irregular winds which were previously blowing over the greater part of the province, and which at the coast stations were moist and in many cases southerly, were rapidly driven back by a strong northerly wind current, and again the weather conditions became those of a strongly pronounced north-east monsoon character, and these continued in force up to the close of the month. At this period pressure rose rapidly, temperature fell with extraordinary rapidity, and the skies cleared and became practically cloudless. As the result of these three periods, when the meteorological characters were almost opposed to each other, the general average result has not been very far removed from the normal, and thus the mean pressure, temperature, humidity, and cloud proportion for the month are nearly normal, though the rainfall has been decidedly smaller than usual.

Pressure—At the close of the previous month was rather decidedly in excess of the normal, and at the commencement of the present month the excess pressure was considerably intensified, and thus for the first week the excess above normal pressure was no less than 0·115". From about the 11th pressure commenced to fall pretty steadily, and for the second week of the month pressure was nearly normal, and this was succeeded by a further reduction of pressure during the period when rather disturbed conditions obtained in Bengal, and for the third and fourth weeks of the month the pressure was in defect by nearly a tenth of an inch. The reduction of pressure was, however, succeeded by a very rapid rise at the end of the month, and pressure became nearly normal. Thus the mean pressure for the whole month has been very nearly equal to the average, and the variation from the normal is a defect of only 0·005 inch, which is so small that the mean pressure may be said to have been normal.

Temperature—Was exceptionally low for the first ten or twelve days of the month, and for the first week the mean temperature of the whole province was 1·5° in defect of the normal, while in Orissa and Chutia Nagpur the defect was about 3°. In the second week the mean temperature was about 1° in defect of the normal, but from the middle of the month up to the 27th or 28th the mean temperature became 2° in excess of the normal.

After the second period of rainfall, and with the setting in of a strong northerly wind current an extremely rapid diminution of temperature took place, and thus from the 27th to the 28th at the stations in South Bengal, from Burrisal to Midnapore, there was an average fall in the mean temperature of 8·4°, while at Midnapore and Jessore the fall was more than 10°. The fall was particularly noticeable in the night or minimum temperatures, and in the case of Jessore there was a fall of 15° from the night of the 27th to that of the 28th, at Saugor Island the fall was 13°, and at the stations in South Bengal generally the fall during this interval averaged 11°. The mean temperature of the province for the month has consequently not varied very much from the normal, and the variation is only an excess of 0·2°, or in other words temperature has been practically normal.

Rainfall—During the month has been confined to two periods—the first, when rain fell on the 21st and in some cases on the 22nd over nearly the whole of Behar, and which rain was brought by the extension of the barometric depression from the Punjab and North-West Provinces, which has before been alluded to. The second period of rainfall lasted from about the 24th to the 28th, when the rainfall was brought about by the locally disturbed conditions over Bengal, and where the rainfall was largest in quantity in the coast districts. Orissa has thus received the largest rainfall, and the district has averaged 0·37 inch, the normal fall for the month being 0·32 inch. It has therefore received a very slight excess fall. South-West Bengal has received an average fall of 0·27 inch, while the normal fall for the month is 0·38 inch, it has therefore only received about two-thirds the normal fall. North Behar has received 0·19 inch against the normal 0·55 inch, or only one-third the normal fall. South Behar has received 0·13 inch against the normal 0·47 inch, East Bengal 0·11 inch against the normal 0·47 inch, and Chutia Nagpur 0·10 inch against the normal 0·41 inch, in all of which cases the actual fall has been a fourth of the normal, and finally rainfall has been practically absent in North Bengal.

Either light or fairly good and general rainfall has been received at all the districts in Orissa; in the Midnapore, 24-Pergunnahs, Howrah, Khulna, and parts of the Burdwan and Jessore districts in South-West Bengal; in Hill Tipperah and at a few isolated stations in East Bengal; over the whole of North Behar, and at about half the number of stations in South Behar, and at about half the stations in Chutia Nagpur.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven Meteorological Divisions of the Province for the month of January 1886:—

CALCUTTA, the 9th February 1886.

UMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL FOR THE WEEK ENDING FRIDAY, THE 5TH OF FEBRUARY 1886.

At the close of the previous week ordinary north-east monsoon conditions obtained over Bengal, and a fairly strong northerly wind current was blowing, while temperature was low and pressure fairly high. The first three days of the present week were characterised by steadily falling pressure, with increasing temperature and humidity, and there was a decided falling off in the steadiness and strength of the northerly winds, so much so that on the 1st of February winds were very irregular in direction over the province. On the 31st of January, however, an extremely rapid fall of the barometer took place in the Punjab, and a distinct area of low pressure was formed, which was followed, on the 1st of February, by rain in the Punjab, and at some of the stations in the North-West Provinces; while, at the same time a snow-storm commenced apparently all along the North-West Himalayas, and very heavy falls of snow were reported from Murree lasting at that station for almost three days, while snow was also reported at Chakrata. A rather strong and dry northerly wind current then set in from Northern India, and this was followed by rather rapidly increasing pressure and very rapidly decreasing temperature and humidity over Bengal, when the skies became slightly clouded in the northern districts, and a few rain showers are reported; but with the continuance of the dry northerly wind current the skies very rapidly cleared, and thus the close of the week was again characterised by well marked cold-weather conditions.

Pressure—Fell very decidedly for the first three or four days of the week, but for the second half of the week a very rapid rise took place, until in some instances it became above the normal. The mean pressure during the previous week had been no less than a tenth of an inch below the normal, but this defect has been to a certain extent neutralized by the rapid increase just mentioned, and the mean pressure for the whole province for the present week is only 0·046″ below the normal. The distribution of this defect is fairly even, though the defect is actually smallest in Behar.

Temperature and humidity—Rose steadily for the first four and, in some cases, five days of the week, but a very rapid reduction commenced in Behar on the 3rd, and extended to the remainder of the province on the 4th and 5th. In the case of humidity so great was the change that between the 10 A.M. readings of the 3rd and of the 4th the saturation had decreased by 40 per cent. at Calcutta and Chittagong. At Midnapore, at 10 A.M. on the 4th, the saturation of the air with moisture was only 23 per cent. of the possible quantity; while at Calcutta and Dacca it was only about 30 per cent. The decrease of temperature was so rapid that from the 4th to the 5th instant, the average fall in the mean temperature of the stations in South Bengal was 6°. The decrease in the minimum temperatures from the night of the 3rd to that of the 4th was between 9° and 10° at Chittagong, Cuttack, and False Point; while the fall was from 7° to 8° at Burrisal, Dacca, Calcutta, Saugor Island, and Midnapore. Some extremely low temperatures were also reported on the night of the 4th; thus Krishnagur registered 39·9°, Serajgunge 38·7°, Rampore Beaulcah 37·7°, Maldah 39·7°, Dinagepore 38·9°, Rungpore 37·8°, Julpigoree 39·1°, Motihari 37·2°, and Buxar 39°. Notwithstanding that in the previous week the mean temperature was 2° in excess of the normal, and that temperature rose for the first three or four days of the present week, the mean temperature for the week has been distinctly below the normal, and it averages for the whole Province 2·5° in defect of the normal. The defect is, however, largest in Orissa and Chutia Nagpur, where it is from 3° to 4°, and smallest in North Behar where it is less than 1°.

Rainfall—Has been confined to a few light local showers, which fell principally in Orissa, in Behar, and in Chutia Nagpur, and which were produced apparently by the extension of the disturbed conditions which obtained over Northern India as previously described. In no case, however, have the amounts been large, and the average fall in any meteorological district has not amounted to more than a few hundredths of an inch, and the falls have therefore been of no practical importance.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the Province for the week ending Friday, the 5th of February 1886:—

The results of observations at the Alipore Observatory are not rigorously comparable with the registers of former years (at the Park-street Observatory). The barometer is about 3 feet higher at Alipore, and, other things being equal, reads therefore ·003 lower. The diurnal range of temperature is also greater at Alipore, and the mean temperature apparently about 2°·5 lower; and, finally, the thermometer, which furnished the record of temperature at the Surveyor-General's Office during 20 years and upwards, is found to read 0·6 higher than the Kew standard thermometer, which is the standard of reference at the present Observatory.

OFFICE OF SANITARY COMMISSIONER FOR BENGAL,
The 8th February 1886.

R. LIDDERDALE, M.D., Deputy Surgeon-General,
Sanitary Commissioner for Bengal.

MEMORANDUM.

THE table appended to this memorandum exhibits the vital statistics of the principal Municipalities in Bengal for the week ending 23rd January 1886. The figures in this table indicate—

1. That births and deaths were registered in these Municipalities at the rates, respectively, of 21·6 and 25·6 per 1,000 of population, against 23·4 and 28·6 per 1,000, respectively, in the preceding week ending 16th January, indicating a considerable falling off in the registration of both events, particularly of deaths.

2. That the following Municipalities returned the highest proportions of births and deaths :—

Births.	Ratio per mille.	Deaths.	Ratio per mille.
Naraingunge	49·7	Jessore	73·4
Bhagulpore	30·8	Puri	69·3
Jessore	30·6	Naraingunge ...	45·6
		Suburbs of Calcutta ...	38·3
		Dacca	32·4
		Hughli	32·2

3. That the principal diseases, specified in the following table, proved fatal at the rates exhibited below—

	Ratio per mille during the weeks ending—
	23rd January 1886.	16th January 1886.

indicating, in comparison with the outcome of the preceding week ending 16th January, a sensible decrease in the death-rates from fever and the maladies classed under the head of "other causes," equal mortality from cholera, and no material differences in the fatal results from the other diseases.

4. That of the abovementioned diseases, excluding small-pox and injury, the casualties from which were nowhere noticeably large, and bowel-complaints, which proved conspicuously fatal only in the Hughli town, viz. at the rate of 17·4 per 1,000 of population, cholera, fever, and "other causes" proved most fatal to life in the following Municipalities :—

Rocks off Tripaloor Reef.

NOTICE is hereby given that, as a guide to vessls making Madras from the Southward, or leaving Madras and proceeding to the Southward, or navigating between Sadras and Covelong (Covolam), and in order to better distinguish the dangerous outlying patches of rock to the Northward of the Tripaloor Reef (which is situated about 30 miles to the Southward of Madras), on which the steam-ships Karamania and Tungier struck in December 1885, the following extract from Horsburgh is republished:—

"From the Seven Pagodas to Covelong, or Covolam, the coast extends N. by E. a little Easterly, about 3½ leagues; between them a rocky shoal projects about a mile or more into the sea, and bears E. S. E., from the small hill of Tripaloor, known by being much nearer the shore than any of the others. This reef should have a proper berth in passing, which is steep to, as will appear by the following extract taken from the ship Rockingham's journal.

Tripaloor Reef.

"'The Rockingham, 26th of May 1776, at half past 10 P.M., hauled in a little from 13½ to 12 fathoms, directly after she had 11 fathoms, and steered N.N.E.; next cast 10½ fathoms, steered N.E., the next cast had 8½ fathoms, and in hauling out to the Eastward, the ship struck upon a rock and soon bilged, had 6 fathoms under the bow, 6½ a little way ahead, 5½ under the stern, and 4½ at the main chains. From the wreck observed latitude 12° 43′ N., two of the Seven Pagodas bearing S.W., and the extremes of the land from North to S. by W., off shore about 4 miles. The Nancy, Captain Jamison, which anchored near us, to assist in saving the treasure, had two cables cut by the foul ground; and H.M.S. Sea-horse near her, parted a cable."

Note.—Mariners should therefore be specially careful, when navigating between Sadras and Covelong, not to proceed under 18 fathoms, as between those places dangerous outlying patches of rock extend some distance seaward.

Communications on the subject of the above rules received from the Bengal Chamber of Commerce, Messrs. Mackinnon, Mackenzie & Co., Messrs. Turner, Morrison & Co., and others.

The rules, on consideration of the above communications, have been so materially modified that a second preliminary publication is, in the opinion of the Lieutenant-Governor, necessary to comply with the provisions of the law. Sir Rivers Thompson has accordingly been pleased to direct that the revised draft of the rules, with the exception of the forms of surveyor's declaration and survey certificate, which are unchanged, be published again twice in the Calcutta Gazette, and twice in three of the local English newspapers, for the information of the persons likely to be affected. He will receive and consider any objections or suggestions which may be made before the 1st of April 1886, after which date the rules will be submitted for the approval of the Government of India.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

R. H. WILSON,

Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

UNDER the powers conferred upon him by section 24 of Act VII of 1884 (the Indian Steam Ships Act), and with the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council, the Lieutenant-Governor has been pleased to make the following rules for the survey of steam-ships:—

Application for survey.

1. Application for the survey of steam-ships shall be made to the Surveyor at the port of Calcutta between the hours of 10 A.M. and 5 P.M. on any day, except Sundays and Government holidays, on a printed sheet in the form No. 4 hereto annexed, which will be supplied for this purpose at the Surveyor's office, and should be made at least three clear days before the day on which it is desired that the survey shall take place.

Time and place of survey.

2. Surveys shall be made upon due notice or application from the owner, agent, or master on any day in the year, with the exception of Sundays and Government holidays, by the surveyor or surveyors appointed under the Act.

Surveyors' duties.

3. The surveyors will be guided by the rules issued by the Board of Trade in so far as such rules are applicable to surveys made in India. In cases where two surveyors are employed, the Engineer-Surveyor will survey the engines, boilers, and all the machinery required to be surveyed under the Act. The Ship-wright Surveyor will inspect the hull, equipments, and passenger accommodation, measure and determine the number of passengers the vessel is fit to carry, and see that the certificates of the master, mates, and engineers are such as is required by the Act; also that the lights and fog signals are in accordance with the regulations for the prevention of collisions at sea.

4. The surveyors' declarations and certificates of survey shall be made and issued in the forms hereunto annexed and numbered 1 and 2, and shall contain the particulars which are stated therein respectively.

5. Every declaration shall be sent, in accordance with section 12 of the Act, by the owner, or master, or agent to whom it is given to the officer authorized to issue certificates of survey.

6. The notice to be given under section 13, sub-section (3) of the Act, to the owner or master when a certificate is ready for delivery, shall be given under the signature of the officer authorized to grant certificates of survey in the form No. 3 hereto annexed.

7. If every part of the steam-ship is not ready for survey at the time so appointed, or if the requisite preparations have not been made in accordance with the list forwarded to the applicant under rule 1, the surveyor may fix some other convenient time for the survey.

8. If the surveyor is unavoidably prevented from being present at the time fixed, the earliest possible intimation shall be sent to the applicant, and some other time, convenient to the applicant and to the surveyor, shall be fixed for the survey.

9. With a view to obviate inconvenience and delay, owners and masters whose vessels are in dock or undergoing repairs should communicate at once with the surveyors, if their vessels have afterwards to be surveyed.

10. If a surveyor finds that any defect exists in the hull, machinery or equipments of a steam-ship, he shall, before refusing to give a declaration regarding the ship under section 11 of the Act, address a letter to the owner or master of the steam-ship, pointing out such defect and the repairs, &c., necessary to make good the same, and to enable him to grant a declaration.

These rates are for certificates which, if not in the meantime cancelled or suspended, will remain in force for one year from the date thereof.

If the ship's hull, machinery, or equipments are stated in the certificate to be sufficient only for a period of less than one year from the date thereof, one-twelfth of the above annual amount shall be payable for each month or fraction of a month comprised in the said period: provided that—

(a) the minimum fee shall be one-fourth of the annual fee ;

(b) in the case of a new steam-ship coming under survey for the first time the full annual fee shall be payable, whatever be the nature of the certificate.

Every such Respondent shall, within twenty-one days after service upon him of the notice required by Rule 5, deliver to the Deputy Registrar a list in duplicate, in the form in Rule 2, of the papers, other than those inserted in the Appellant's List, to which such Respondent desires that reference shall be made by the Court at the hearing of the appeal, and which shall be inserted in the Paper-Book at such Respondent's expense. Such List shall be termed "The Respondent's List." When the Respondent intends to take any objection to the decree, which he could have taken by way of appeal and the taking of which is subject to the provision as to seven days' notice contained in section 561 of the Code of Civil Procedure, any papers relevant to maintain this objection shall be included in such Respondent's List.

Application by Respondent for amendment of Appellant's List.

8. If the Respondent considers that any paper or portion of a paper, which ought to have been inserted in the Appellant's List of papers under the provisions of Rule 3, has been omitted therefrom in violation of these provisions, he may, within fourteen days after service upon him of the notice required by Rule 5, and after giving notice to the Appellant of his intended application, apply to the Court for an order that such paper or portion of a paper be inserted in the List of such Appellant. When the Respondent, though he has not appealed against any part of the decree, intends to support such decree on any of the grounds decided against him in the Court below (section 561 of the Code of Civil Procedure), he is entitled to have included in the Appellant's List any papers relevant to such ground.

On Respondent's default, Paper-Book to be prepared according to Appellant's List.

9. If the Respondent do not enter an appearance or do not deliver the List in duplicate directed by, and within the time prescribed by Rule 7, and if no order be made under Rule 8, the Paper-Book shall be prepared in accordance with the Appellant's List.

One List only to be delivered by two or more Appellants or Respondents having same interest.

10. When two or more Appellants or Respondents have the same interest in the appeal, one List only shall be required from all such Appellants or Respondents. Appellants or Respondents having separate interests shall deliver separate Lists. In such cases the principle of Rule 16 shall apply.

Paper printed in former Paper-Book to be printed unless order to the contrary.

11. If any of the papers, which must be inserted in the Appellant's List or in the Respondent's List, was previously printed in a former Paper-Book, the fact of its having been so printed may be stated in the List in which such paper is inserted. But such paper shall nevertheless be printed, unless the Court otherwise direct.

Papers not inserted in the Paper-Book may not ordinarily be referred to at the Hearing of the Appeal.

12. No paper in the record of the case, which is not inserted in the Appellant's or Respondent's List and printed in the Paper-Book, shall be referred to at the hearing of the appeal without the special leave of the Court. If either party intends to ask such special leave in respect of any particular paper, he shall give notice of such intention to the other party not less than three days before the hearing of the appeal. But this rule shall not preclude the Court from referring to any paper to which it considers a reference necessary for the ends of justice.

Deputy Registrar to make and deliver to Appellant and Respondent an Estimate of Cost of preparing their respective portions of the Paper-Book.

13. The Deputy Registrar shall, within twenty-one days after the delivery by the Appellant and the Respondent of their Lists respectively, make and deliver to such Appellant and to such Respondent separate Estimates of the cost of preparing their proportions of the Paper-Book. Such Estimates shall state separately the cost of transcribing, translating, examining, printing, &c., at the following rates, viz. :—

(1) "estimating" at 10,000 vernacular words per rupee :

(2) "translating" at 200 vernacular words per rupee, three figures being counted as one word :

(3) "examining translations" at 400 vernacular words per rupee:
(4) "transcribing" at 1,440 words per rupee:
(5) "examining manuscripts" at 2,880 words per rupee:
(6) "editing" the Paper-Book, at eight annas per page. N. B.—"Editing" includes (a) arranging the papers for press; (b) preparing the Table of Contents required by the Rules; (c) examining and comparing proofs with "copy," such "copy" being the originals or authenticated copies of English papers, or translations where the Rules provide for translations: and the Editor is responsible that all the papers in the Lists are accurately and completely produced in the Paper-Book:
(7) "lithographing Maps" (where necessary) actual cost:
(8) "printing" at fourteen annas per page.

Paper-Book may be prepared in office of High Court or of Appellant's Vakil. Appellant to give notice of election.

14. The Paper-Book may, at the election of the Appellant, be prepared in the office of the High Court or in that of the Appellant's Vakil. Notice of such election shall be given to the Deputy Registrar by the Appellant within twenty-one days after delivery to him of the estimate prepared in accordance with Rule 13. The Deputy Registrar shall thereupon make over one of the Respondent's duplicate List to the Appellant's Vakil, giving the Respondent notice thereof.

Deposit by Appellant and Respondent of the amounts of their respective Estimates.

Procedure where amount of Deposit found to be insufficient.

15. The Appellant, save as hereinafter provided, and the Respondent in every case, shall, within thirty days after the delivery to them respectively of the Estimates prepared in accordance with Rule 13, deposit with the Accountant of the Court the full amount of their respective Estimates. If it subsequently appear that the amount so deposited by either party to the appeal is insufficient to defray the cost of preparing his portion of the Paper-Book, the Deputy Registrar shall estimate the additional amount required and shall give notice thereof to such party. Such additional amount shall be deposited by such party with the Accountant of the Court within twenty-one days after service upon him of such notice.

Appellant may pay out of Court, when he elects to have Paper Book prepared in his Vakil's office.

When the Appellant elects under Rule 14 to have the Paper Book prepared in the office of his Vakil, it shall not be necessary for him to deposit the amount of his estimate with the Accountant of the Court, and he may make his own arrangement with such Vakil for payment of the cost of preparing the Paper-Book.

Apportionment of cost in respect of matter common to more than one Appeal from same Decree or to Appeals in analogous cases.

16. When separate appeals have been preferred by different persons against the same decree, complete Lists shall be delivered by the parties to each such appeal: but the Deputy Registrar may, subject to the order of the Court, apportion between the parties concerned the cost of preparation in respect of any matter common to all or any of such parties. Printed copies of such common matter may be included in the Paper-Book of each appeal; or such matter may appear in one Paper-Book only, the other Paper-Books containing references to the pages of such Paper-Book in which such matter appears. This Rule shall also apply when two or more separate appeals are preferred in analogous cases.

Procedure in case of default by Appellant or Respondent.

17. If the Appellant fail to deliver his list of papers in accordance with Rule 4, or if the Appellant or Respondent fail to make the deposit or additional deposit required by Rule 15, the Deputy Registrar shall cause the appeal to be set down for hearing by the Division Court having jurisdiction in respect thereof; and such Court may, unless satisfied that there was reasonable ground for the default—in the case of default by the Appellant, direct the appeal to be dismissed for want of prosecution—and in the case of default by the Respondent, direct that the Paper-Book be prepared in accordance with the Appellant's List, excluding the papers of the Respondent's List; or may pass such other order as may seem proper under the circumstances of the case.

Preparation of the Paper-Book in the office of the High Court. Mode of preparation and arrangement.

18. When the Appellant does not, within the twenty-one days allowed by Rule 14, elect to have the Paper-Book prepared in the office of his Vakil, the Deputy Registrar shall proceed to have it prepared in the Office of the High Court, so that it may be ready within the following time from the expiry of such twenty-one days, viz.—(a) when the Paper-Book is estimated by the Deputy Registrar to consist of not more than 100 pages, within two months: (b) when the Paper-Book is estimated by the Deputy Registrar to consist of more than 100 but not more than 200 pages, within three months: (c) in any other case, within four months. The Paper-Book shall include the whole of the papers included in the Appellant's and Respondent's Lists. All papers which are not in English shall be translated into that language. Such translations and the original English papers shall be printed and arranged in the following order:—

(1) Table of Contents with reference to pages:
(2) Plaint:
(3) Written Statement:
(4) Statements made by parties or others examined under sections 117, 120, 147 and 148 of the Code of Civil Procedure:
(5) Memorandum of the Issues.

(7) Answers to Interrogatories. Deposition of witnesses examined by Commission on behalf of the party having the right to begin :

(8) Documentary evidence put in by the party having the right to begin at the trial, and admitted or proved—classified and arranged as far as possible in chronological order—and detailed in a list to be inserted in the Table of Contents :

(9) Depositions of witnesses examined in Court by the other party (see section 180 of the Code of Civil Procedure) .

(10) Answers to Interrogatories, and Depositions of witnesses examined by Commission on behalf of the other party :

(11) Documentary evidence put in by the other party at the trial, and admitted or proved—classified and arranged as far as possible in chronological order—and detailed in a List to be inserted in the Table of Contents :

(12) The Judgment:

(13) The Decree:

(14) The Grounds of Appeal:

(15) Objections (if any) under section 561 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

N.B.—The parties may, by consent given in writing, substitute the memorandum of evidence made by the Judge under section 184 of the Code of Civil Procedure for translations of depositions recorded under section 182 of the same Code in a language other than English.

Appellant or Respondent may have the translations examined and certified by one of the Court's Examiners of Privy Council Appeals.

19. If the Appellant or Respondent desires that the translations of papers translated under Rule 18 be examined and certified as correct by one of the Examiners appointed by the Court for the purpose of examining and certifying translations in cases appealed to the Privy Council, he may deposit with the Accountant of the Court the cost of having such translations of papers so examined and certified, such cost to be fixed by the Deputy Registrar: and they shall thereupon be examined and certified by one of such Examiners.

Paper-Book to be printed in what form and type.

20. The Paper-Book shall be printed in accordance with the following directions issued by the Lords of the Privy Council in respect of Appeals to Her Majesty in Council :

(a) All Paper-books are henceforth to be printed in the form known as demy quarto, and not in demy folio, as hath heretofore been used :

(c) The type to be used in the text is pica type; but long primer is to be used in printing accounts, tabular matter, and notes :

(d) The number of lines in each page of pica type is to be forty-seven, each line being five inches and three-quarters, or 146 millimetres.

Preparation of the Paper-Book in the Office of the Appellant's Vakil. Responsibility of such Vakil.

21. When the Appellant elects, within the twenty-one days allowed by Rule 14, to have the Paper-Book prepared in the office of his Vakil, such Vakil shall proceed to have it prepared in accordance with the directions contained in Rules 18, 19, and 20, and he shall be responsible for its proper preparation : provided that he shall not be responsible for the accuracy of the translations in any case in which they have been certified to be correct by an Examiner of Privy Council Appeals under the provisions of Rule 19. Such Vakil shall be afforded all reasonable access to the original record in order to enable him to make transcripts of the papers and do other acts necessary to the preparation of the Paper-Book, but he shall not be entitled to remove such original record from the office of the Deputy Registrar. Certified transcripts of the papers shall be furnished to him, if he so desire, upon payment of the usual rates.

Register of Vakils willing to undertake the preparation of Paper-Books. Removal of name from the Register.

22. There shall be maintained in the Office of the Registrar of the Court on the Appellate Side a Register of Vakils willing to undertake the preparation of Paper-Books. Any Vakil may, upon application to such Registrar, have his name entered in this Register. No Vakil whose name has not been so entered shall be allowed to prepare a Paper-Book. A Division Bench may direct to be removed from such Register the name of any Vakil who has shown negligence, incompetence, or want of due diligence in the preparation of a Paper-Book undertaken by him.

Consequence of failure of the Appellant's Vakil to deliver the prepared Paper-Book to the Deputy Registrar within time allowed for preparation.

23. The Appellant's Vakil shall deliver the Paper-Book, when prepared by him, to the Deputy Registrar within the time allowed to the Deputy Registrar by Rule 18 for the preparation of a Paper-Book prepared in the Office of the High Court. If he fail to deliver it within the time so allowed, the Deputy Registrar shall cause the appeal to be set down for hearing before the Division Bench having jurisdiction in respect thereof. And such Bench may, unless satisfied that there was reasonable ground for such default, direct the appeal to be dismissed for want of prosecution, or may pass such other order as may seem proper under the circumstances of the case.

Number of copies of Paper-Book to be printed. Disposal of copies.

24. There shall ordinarily be printed thirty copies of the Paper-Book, but the Deputy Registrar may, when necessary, direct a larger number to be printed. The Appellant and Respondent shall be entitled to have, free of charge, as many copies as they have Advocates and Vakils engaged in the appeal. In any case they shall each be entitled to three copies. When the Paper-Book has been prepared by the Appellant's Vakil, he shall deliver to the Deputy Registrar the total number of copies printed, less the number which he is entitled to have under this rule, or he may upon request deliver to the Respondent the number of copies to which such Respondent is entitled under this Rule, and deliver to the Deputy Registrar the remaining copies together with the Respondent's written receipt for the copies delivered to him.

When Paper-Book ready, appeal to be entered in Court Lists.

25. As soon as the Paper-Book has been prepared by the Deputy Registrar, or has been prepared by the Appellant's Vakil and delivered to the Deputy Registrar, such Deputy Registrar shall have the appeal entered in the List of appeals ready for hearing, and have such list hung up in the usual places in the Court-house. The appeal shall not be entered in the Peremptory Daily List of Causes until the expiry of seven days from its entry in the list of appeals ready for hearing.

Specification of Costs incurred by Appellant and Respondent in preparation of Paper-Book.

26. There shall be printed at the end of every Paper-Book, and in the following form, a statement of the cost incurred in its preparation by the Appellant and the Respondent respectively. This statement shall not include the costs (if any) incurred under Rule 19.

	By the Appellant.			By the Respondent.
	Number of pages.	Rate of charge.	Amount.	Number of pages.	Rate of charge.	Amount.
Estimating
Translating, &c. (as in Rule 13) ...

Refund of surplus deposit.

Any surplus remaining after deducting the costs actually incurred by each party from the amount deposited with the Accountant of the Court shall be refunded upon request to the party by whom the deposit was made.

Assessment of Cost of preparing the Paper-Book by the Taxing Officer of the Court.

27. In the absence of a written contract between the Appellant or Respondent and the Vakil in whose office a Paper-Book is prepared, the cost of preparing the Appellant's or Respondent's portion of the Paper-Book may be assessed by the Taxing Officer of the Court: and such Taxing Officer shall assess it in accordance with the rates prescribed by Rule 13, upon demand by the party or the Vakil, and after notice of the time and place at which he intends to make such assessment. The assessment of the Taxing Officer made under this Rule shall be binding upon the party and the Vakil. When there is a written contract between the Respondent and the Vakil in whose office the Paper-Book is prepared concerning the charges to be made for preparing the Respondent's portion of the Paper-Book, or when such Respondent has assented in writing to the charges made by such Vakil, or when such charges have been assessed by the Taxing Officer under this Rule, the Deputy Registrar may pay such charges out of the amount deposited by the Respondent with the Accountant of the Court, provided always that such charges are not in excess of the rates prescribed by Rule 13.

Cost of preparing Paper-Book to be costs in the Appeal.

28. The cost incurred in the preparation of the Paper-Book and paid under Rule 27 shall be costs in the appeal, unless as to the whole or any portion thereof the Court which hears the appeal shall otherwise direct. Such Court may, if it see fit, direct that any costs under Rule 19 be allowed to the party by whom they were incurred.

Court may upon application enlarge time—may exempt any party from operation of these rules in whole or part—or may make other special order.

29. A Division Bench may, upon application and upon sufficient cause being shown, enlarge the time prescribed by these rules for doing any act to be done under their provisions. An application for enlargement of time must ordinarily be made before the expiry of the prescribed time, and must be supported by an affidavit of facts and also by a certificate of the Deputy Registrar showing the dates on which the acts prescribed by these rules were done. Such certificate shall be granted upon payment of a fee of two rupees. A Division Bench may also, upon application and upon sufficient grounds proved by affidavit, exempt any Appellant or Respondent from the operation of the whole or any part of these Rules, or may make such special order as it deems fit as to any matter with which these Rules are concerned.

Rules to apply to Appeals in cases of Probate or Letters of Administration.

30. An appeal against a grant or refusal of grant, or revocation, or refusal of revocations of probate or Letters of Administration, shall be governed by these rules, although the value of the property concerned may not exceed five thousand rupees, subject, however, to the following alteration, namely, "fourteen days" shall be substituted for "thirty days"

in Rule 4: "ten days" shall be substituted for "twenty-one days" in Rule 7: "seven days" shall be substituted for "twenty-one days" in Rule 13: "two days" shall be substituted for "twenty-one days" in Rules 14, 18 and 21: and "twenty-one days" shall be substituted for "thirty days" in Rule 15.

These Rules shall also apply, unless in any particular case a Division Bench otherwise direct, to appeals in suits in which the value of the subject-matter of the claim does not exceed five thousand rupees.

Appeals in suits not exceeding Rs. 5,000 in value.

31. In these Rules words in the singular include the plural and vice versâ.

Singular includes pural and vice versâ. Act may be done by, or notice served on, Vakil or Mukhtar of Appellant or Respondent.

32. When these Rules direct or allow any act to be done by, or any notice to be given to, an Appellant or Respondent, such act may be done by, or such notice given to, the Vakil, or (where authorized in that behalf by the Rules of the High Court) the Mukhtar of such Appellant or Respondent.

Commencement of these Rules.

33. These Rules shall apply to appeals filed on and after the fourth day of January 1886.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Calcutta, the 10th February 1886.

No. 649.

RESOLUTION—By the Government of India, Department of Finance and Commerce.

It has been determined to appoint a Committee for the purpose of examining expenditure, whether Imperial or Provincial, and reporting to the Government, within as brief a period as may be possible, what economies are therein practicable. It is desirable that the Committee should commence its labours so soon as its members can be conveniently brought together, and it is expected that early in the ensuing cold weather they will be able to submit their recommendations to the Government.

2. The question of expenditure has, within recent years, been on more than one occasion pressed upon the attention of the Government of India. On the one hand, it has been urged that since the commencement of the present decade, civil expenditure has very largely increased; on the other hand, the causes which have led to increase of expenditure have been fully explained by the Government of India in its communications with Her Majesty's Secretary of State. The documents relating to this matter will, in the course of their enquiry, be laid before the Committee; but the Committee will not fail to observe that, apart from the discussions which have hitherto arisen on the subject, the circumstances in which the Government now finds itself placed compel it to examine with renewed and anxious attention the possibilities of such an effective decrease in its expenditure as shall, in a sensible degree, contribute to relieve it of the financial embarrassments with which it is threatened. The time is opportune for such an enquiry. The Provincial contracts expire at the close of the ensuing financial year. The Government is engaged in the prosecution of a large scheme of public works, having for their object the protection of the country against famine or possible dangers upon its frontiers, for the rapid prosecution of which the utmost economy is required in other branches of the administration. The uncertainty which prevails regarding the future relative value of gold and silver compels the Government to contract, so far as is possible, expenditure which, in other circumstances, may have been desirable or necessary, but which at present it can no longer maintain.

3. The Committee, while turning their immediate attention to the revision of the arrangements now in force between the Imperial and the Provincial Governments, will extend their enquiries to all departments of the Government, whether Imperial or Provincial. They will find that the labours of the Military Commission have led to a series of recommendations, some of which have been put into execution while others await decision. Although it is not contemplated that they should travel over the ground which the Military Commission examined, they will not, on that account, decline to consider whether greater economy cannot be attained in connection with the working of the several branches of the military administration. They will review so much of the proposals for military economy as have been already approved by the Government of India, but have not hitherto been carried out, and will report their views as to the most suitable steps to be taken in order that effect should be given to such proposals. Similarly, the Committee will study the enquiries which have been made and the measures which have been adopted in recent years with a view to reform or to the introduction of greater economy into the several departments of the Government. It is not desired that the Committee should propose any material modification in arrangements which have in recent years been carried out after mature deliberation under the sanction of the Secretary of State, but they will be expected to pursue a similar line of enquiry so far as regards departments or branches of the administration with which the changes effected in late years have not definitely dealt, or in which the reforms hitherto effected may prove to have failed to secure the economy aimed at. Bearing in mind the heavy cost to which the Government of India is committed in regard to Imperial railways and military works, the expenditure, whether Provincial or Imperial, under other heads of the Public Works, must be scrutinised with especial care.

4. Finally, the Committee should examine thoroughly the subject of the home charges, and specially the report presented to the Government of India in 1884 by Colonel Conway-Gordon, R.E., and should work out and submit such recommendations in regard to economies as their examination may suggest to them. They will, at the same time, turn their attention to the division of the military charges between Her Majesty's Government and the Government of India, and will advise the Government of India whether the present distribution of these charges seems to call for revision, and, if so, what are their practical recommendations on the subject.

5. The Government of India in the Financial Department will issue to the Committee the further instructions necessary for their guidance, the method to be pursued by them, and the procedure of enquiry, and will cause them to be furnished with all necessary information. The Committee will keep the Government of India in the Financial Department regularly informed of the progress of its enquiries, and will carry out its labours in close communication with that Department.

6. His Excellency the Governor-General in Council is pleased to nominate the following gentlemen to be Members of the Committee :—

Mr. C. A. Elliott, C.S.I., L.L.B., C.S., Chief Commissioner of Assam, President.
Hon'ble Mr. Justice Cunningham.
Hon'ble Dr. W. W. Hunter, C.S.I., C.I.E., L.L.D., C.S.
Hon'ble Rao Bahadur Mahadeo Govind Ranade, M.A., L.L.B.
Mr. J. Westland, C.S., Comptroller and Auditor General.
Lieutenant-Colonel A. J. Filgate, R.E., Accountant-General, Public Works Department.
Mr. H. W. Bliss, C.S., Commissioner of Salt and Abkari Revenue, Madras Presidency.
Mr. Robert Hardie, Secretary and Treasurer, Bank of Bengal.

With the abovenamed General Members of the Committee His Excellency will be prepared to associate, on the recommendation of each Local Government or Administration, one or at most two Local Members, who will sit with the General Members when they visit the locality, and correspond with them at other times.

65. The quorum necessary for the transaction of business at a meeting of a Board shall be one-half of the total number of members of the Board, when any of the following subjects are to be disposed of at such meeting:—

(h)—Removal of Chairman or Vice-Chairman (section 28).

For all other business the quorum shall be one-third of the total number of members of the Board.

66. If at any meeting of the Board a quorum is not present, the Chairman, or, in his absence, the Vice-Chairman, shall adjourn the meeting until such other day as he thinks fit. At each adjourned meeting any number of members present, not being less than three, exclusive of the Chairman and the Vice-Chairman, will form a quorum.

Proceedings.

67. At least ten days' notice of all meetings shall be given to every member. Provided that the annual budget estimate shall be circulated to all the members of the Board at least a fortnight before the date fixed for its consideration. Provided also that the accidental failure of service of notice on any member shall not invalidate the proceedings of any meeting.

68. The notice shall set forth clearly and fully the business to be transacted at the meeting, and no business other than that so stated shall be transacted except with the assent of the members present.

69. The latest day for holding a meeting under section 46 to determine the rate at which road cess shall be levied in the district during the ensuing cess year shall be the 31st August.

70. The Chairman, or, in his absence, the Vice-Chairman, shall preside at every meeting, and in the absence of both the Chairman and Vice-Chairman, the members present shall choose some one of their number to preside.

71. All questions duly submitted to a Board shall, unless otherwise provided by the Act, be decided by a majority of votes. If the votes are equal, the President shall have a second or casting vote. Provided that the President shall not have a casting vote if his own election to any office, or his own conduct in any matter connected with the Board, is in question.

72. The business at meetings of a Board shall, if all the members present know English, be conducted either in English or in the vernacular. 29. Each voter shall be entitled to vote for the ward in which he ordinarily resides, and for no other. He shall be entitled to vote for as many candidates as there are vacancies for such ward.

35. If the number of candidates duly proposed and seconded exceeds the number of vacancies, the presiding officer shall proceed to call for a show of hands in favour of each candidate. The presiding officer shall decide and state which of the candidates have received the largest number of votes by the said show of hands. Should no poll be demanded against any one candidate, he shall declare such candidate to be duly elected.

39. If 10 per cent. of the registered voters for the ward, or for the municipality if there are no wards, are not present (Rule 34), or have not appeared and recorded their votes (Rule 38), the presiding officer shall report that the electors have failed, under section 16 of the Act, to elect Commissioners for the ward, or for the municipality, as the case may be.

40. In case of an equality of votes for the same vacancy, and when the number of vacancies does not admit of all the candidates who have obtained an equality of votes being elected, the presiding officer shall postpone the election, fixing at the same time a date upon which the proceedings shall be recommenced. When the majority for any candidate consists only of disputed votes, with reference to which further inquiry appears to be necessary, the result of such inquiry shall be notified on a subsequent date prior to the date fixed for the adjourned election. The Magistrate shall hold such enquiry as may be necessary in regard to the disputed votes, and his decision shall be final. If the disputed votes are allowed and at the second election the number of votes is again equal, the Magistrate shall make a selection by lot in such manner as he may deem fit.

41. In the event of any candidate being elected for two or more wards, such candidate shall be at liberty to choose the ward which he will represent, and in every other ward in which the said candidate has been returned, the result of the election shall be determined as if no votes had been recorded for him.

42. The list of duly returned candidates for the whole municipality shall be forwarded to the Commissioner of the division for publication in the Calcutta Gazette.

In the case of a newly-created municipality, in which no municipal fund has been formed, the Magistrate of the district shall advance such sums as may be required; and such sums shall be recoverable from the Municipal Commissioners within six months.

The Report on Public Instruction in Bengal for the year 1890-91.

Preliminary.

The Annual Report for 1890-91 has been submitted by Sir Alfred Croft, K.C.I.E., who was in charge of the Department of Public Instruction throughout the year. It has unavoidably been laid before Government a few days after the prescribed date, and the Lieutenant-Governor trusts that next year due punctuality will be observed. According to the standing rule that full details need only be printed in alternate years, the present report might have been considerably curtailed, but the Director has rightly anticipated His Honour's wishes in treating certain portions of it at full length.

on the want of an Assistant Inspector in the Dacca Division, and will await a more detailed exposition of the difficulties which have arisen in connection with the insufficiency of inspection in the Chittagong Division. It is certainly inadequate for the Inspector to spend only four days in Noakholly and five days in Chittagong respectively. The periods spent on tour by the Deputy Inspectors vary from an average of 148 days in Chittagong to 186 days in Chota Nagpore; this range of variation is much smaller than in the previous year, but the fact still remains that in nine districts the prescribed minimum of 150 days spent on tour was not attained. His Honour is satisfied that the Census operations, in which the officers of the Education Department were largely and very properly employed, interfered to some extent with their ordinary duties, and it is a matter for congratulation that the work of inspection could be conducted with so little detriment on this score. The question of providing the Deputy Inspectors with clerical assistance on a moderate scale has recently been resubmitted by the Director, and is under the consideration of Government. The Sub-Inspectors are required to spend a minimum of 200 days in the interior of the country, and to visit 400 schools a year. The statement furnished does not indicate the individual officers who failed to conform with the standing orders; but the average of time spent on tour fell short in four divisions by various amounts, and only in the Burdwan Division the proper number of schools was visited. The Census work must also be taken as sufficient explanation for any shortcomings this year on the part of Sub-Inspectors. The 940 chief gurus and inspecting pundits paid 270,388 visits to schools. These figures should represent a considerable amount of inspection, and the Lieutenant-Governor fully approves of the plan of substituting inspecting pundits for chief gurus, so that the latter may not neglect their own pathsalas. The pundits are the more costly agency, doubtless, but by their better education they ought to improve the standard of the primary schools. Mr. Bellett has properly brought to the notice of Government his view that supervision is greatly neglected by Sub-Inspectors, and His Honour trusts that the responsibilities of these officers for watching the work of the inspecting pundits will be fully maintained.

District Boards.

The Director has rightly recorded the fact that the District Boards constituted under the Local Self-Government Act of 1885 now form a part of the regular governing machinery of the country in respect of education. For some time it was likely that difficulties would arise in consequence of the reluctance of the departmental officers to adopt a new system, and on the other hand, of the novelty of the duties imposed on the members of the Boards. As might have been expected, the experience of five years' working has produced good results. The relations between the Boards and the departmental officers are pronounced to be eminently satisfactory with hardly any exceptions. The differences between these authorities in the Burdwan and Orissa Divisions, mentioned in last year's report, have been composed. It is also gratifying that these improvements can be traced to distinct causes, such as the appointment of the Deputy Inspector as an ex-officio member of the District Board in every district but one; and secondly, the issue of revised rules under the Local Self-Government Act. The rules were framed with great care, have been found to be nearly complete, and are rarely broken. Mr. Alfred Croft has again mentioned a few instances in which there have been differences of opinion, more or less pronounced, between District Boards and their departmental officers. The instances have been few, and the Lieutenant-Governor has no wish to hamper the former by unreasonable restrictions where they are within their rights, though he thinks they would ordinarily do well to follow the advice of experts. It is observed that the Deputy Inspector is not a member of the Gya District Board, and this exception should not be allowed to continue. It is sometimes the practice for the educational work to be disposed of by the District Board, in the person of its Chairman, in direct communication with the Educational Committee by the single person of the Deputy Inspector, whereas the Government has frequently inculcated the necessity of District Boards being fully consulted, in all matters of principle and importance, through their Educational Committees. It is to be regretted, therefore, that at least one District Officer appears to have adopted a policy inconsistent with the orders of Government,

Provincial revenues from Rs. 2,52,465 to Rs. 2,43,757. The annual cost of each student in a Government college decreased from Rs. 244 to Rs. 232, and the cost of his education to Government from Rs. 150 to Rs. 141. Various causes, such as the increased fee-receipts and the gradual substitution of cheaper agency, have conduced to these results. The diminished cost of the Presidency College in five years from Rs. 91,304 to Rs. 79,836, simultaneous with increased efficiency, is very satisfactory. The following figures, which refer to the whole number of the collegiate students, are worth recording:—

The B or Science course.

7. Sir A. Croft has made an interesting comparison between the candidates for the A course in Literature and those for the B course in Science. There has been a steady decline of late years in the number of candidates taking up Science, both in aided and unaided institutions; so that, with hardly an exception, it may be said that Science is no longer taught in unaided colleges. On the other hand, the results of the examinations for the last four years have been steadily in favour of the B course candidates. As the Science candidates have succeeded better than those of the A course in the subject of English, in which they are examined in common, the Director is disposed to infer, not that the B course was the easier, but rather that it was chosen by the best candidates. The Director's views on this question are valuable and his criticisim is thorough. But some of the numerical results exhibited in his report differ strangely. It may perhaps be suggested that the B course is the more expensive to teach and requires costly apparatus, so that the result turns very much on the means available for instruction: where they are complete, as at the Presidency College, the mind is well developed and the students do better even in English; where they are incomplete, as at Dacca and Hooghly, the training is more superficial. If the Director's view as to the mental superiority of those who take up the B course is correct, it is very encouraging, as a training in Science has long been recognized as the great desideratum for the Indian mind, which has shown a greater inclination for literary and philosophic pursuits than for observation and the study of facts. Another reason is alleged for the unpopularity of this course, in the greater ease with which those who have passed in English and mathematics gain posts under Government, and teaching appointments in schools. This is a true and apposite remark. It is to be hoped, however, that a better time is coming for Physical Science and for the diversity of occupations which must follow from the development of factories, mines, and other industrial occupations in the country.

y education.

8. The number of secondary schools for native boys has risen during the year from 2,366 to 2,393, but the number of pupils has fallen from 201,452 to 199,105. The floods in the Presidency Division affected the middle schools, to which the loss is ascribed to the extent of 2,000 pupils. The expenditure on secondary instruction has varied in the last three years as follows:—

	No. of schools.	Public funds.	Private funds.	Total.
		Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
1888-89 ...	2,319	6,01,539	19,34,506	25,36,045
1889-90 ...	2,366	6,08,294	20,11,672	26,19,936
1890-91 ...	2,393	6,11,046	20,62,859	26,73,905

The increase from private funds is about eighteen times as great as that from public funds. It is a good sign that the municipal contributions to secondary education do not increase, as until adequate provision is made for primary, it is no part of the duty of municipalities to contribute large sums to secondary education. The Lieutenant-Governor will have an inquiry made in the Municipal Department to see whether the figures received therein agree with those of the Education Department. The number of High English Schools has

LIABILITY TO TAX.

Incomes liable to the tax.

4. Subject to the exceptions mentioned in the next following section, there shall be paid, in the year beginning with the first day of April, 1886, and in each subsequent year, to the credit of the Government of India, or as the Governor General in Council directs, in respect of the sources of income specified in the first column of the second schedule to this Act, a tax at the rate specified in that behalf in the second column of that schedule.

Exceptions.

5. (1) Nothing in section 4 shall render liable to the tax—

(a) any rent or revenue derived from land which is used for agricultural purposes and is either assessed to land-revenue or subject to a local rate assessed and collected by officials of the Government, as such; or

(b) any income derived from—

(c) any building owned and occupied by the receiver of the rent or revenue of any such land as is referred to in clause (a), or by the cultivator, or the receiver of rent-in-kind, of any land with respect to which or the produce whereof any operation mentioned in clause (b) is carried on:

Provided that the building is on or in the immediate vicinity of the land, and is a building which the receiver of the rent or revenue, or the cultivator or the receiver of the rent-in-kind, by reason of his connection with the land, requires as a dwelling-house, or as a store-house, factory or other out-building; or

(g) subject to any conditions and restrictions which may be prescribed in this behalf, such portion, not exceeding one-sixth, of the income in respect whereof a person would, but for this exception, be chargeable under this Act, as is deducted from the salary of the person under the authority or with the permission of the Government for the purpose of securing a deferred annuity to him or a provision to his wife or children after his death or is paid by the person to an insurance company in respect of an insurance or deferred annuity on his own life or on the life of his wife; or

(h) any interest on stock-notes; or

(j) any person whose income from all sources is less than five hundred rupees per annum.

(2) An officer or servant is not exempt from taxation under this Act by reason only of the income of his employer being exempt therefrom under this section.

Power to make exemptions.

6. The Governor General in Council may, by notification in the Gazette of India, exempt from liability to the tax the whole or any part of the income of any class or tribe, or of any persons residing in any specified area, and may, by a like notification, revoke the exemption.

CHAPTER III.

ASSESSMENT AND COLLECTION.

A.—Salaries and Pensions.

Mode of payment in case of Government officials and pensioners.

7. In the case of a person receiving any salary, annuity, pension or gratuity from the Government, any sum payable to him by the Government in respect of the salary, annuity, pension or gratuity shall be reduced by the amount of the tax to which he is liable under Part I in respect thereof.

Mode of payment in case of servants and pensioners of local authorities.

8. (1) In the case of a person receiving any salary, annuity, pension or gratuity from a local authority, the tax to which he is liable under Part I shall, at the time of the payment to him of any of the salary, annuity, pension or gratuity, be deducted therefrom by the officer whose duty it is to make the payment, and be paid by that officer within the prescribed time to the credit of the Government of India or as the Governor General in Council directs.

(2) If that officer does not deduct and pay the tax as required by sub-section (1), he shall, without prejudice to any other consequences which he may incur, be deemed to be personally in default in respect of the tax.

(3) If, when any payment is made, the tax is from any cause not deducted, it may, and on the requisition of the Collector shall, be deducted when any salary, annuity, pension or gratuity is subsequently paid to the person liable to the tax.

by Government and the Department to matters of discipline and good conduct.

Physical training.

With regard to physical training, the Lieutenant Governor has not much to add to what has already been declared to be the policy of Government, that all manly games should be encouraged, and that a reasonable amount of financial assistance will be afforded to provide gymnastic appliances and in aid of athletic clubs. The Director has rightly observed that on the whole a fairly sufficient response has been made to the invitation held out by the Government. Some of the professors and masters have shown a laudable activity in promoting and sharing in school games, and their example should be followed by all who are not debarred by physical inability from doing so. Sir Charles Elliott has noticed with pleasure Sir A. Croft's remark that the European residents of a station generally take keen interest in the games of the school-boys, and he hopes that the friendly intercourse thus commenced will develop into kindly relations between the different sections of the community.

Boarding-houses.

10. The Lieutenant Governor has perused with interest the statistics of the cost of living in boarding-houses, sometimes called hostels, attached to educational institutions. The facts have been gathered from 26 places outside Calcutta, in which 822 resident students were accommodated. The average cost for each student was almost exactly Rs. 4 a month, of which he contributed the price of his food, Rs. 2-11-6; the remainder, on account of servant, rent and sundries was supplied from Government and other sources. This charge for food cannot be considered excessive, but at most places where the Lieutenant-Governor has made enquiries as to the payment required from a student at a boarding-house, he has found it to be not less than Rs. 4 per mensem, except at Muhammadan institutions. Even at a remote place like Nya Doomka in the Sonthal Pergunnahs the charge was said to be Rs. 4, which seems too large. The families of many ryots and small landholders often live on Rs. 5 or Rs. 6 a month: and though there may not be many boys from this stratum of society in our zillah schools, it is very desirable that they should not be excluded from the boarding houses by inability to pay a sum which bears so large a proportion to the family income. A severe standard of thrift and ascetic living should be offered by boarding houses in Bengal, and Sir Charles Elliott trusts that efforts will be made to reduce the charges as much as possible.

Primary education.

11. The following figures represent the numerical fluctuation of primary education for boys during the last four years:—

	Upper Primary.		Lower Primary.
	Number of schools.	Pupils.	Number of schools.	Pupils.
1887-88	3,026	112,323	45,595	991,090
1888-89	3,077	115,485	44,854	982,126
1889-90	3,337	124,568	44,145	960,865
1890-91	3,537	128,537	43,997	942,211

It is clear from these figures that there is a natural advance of the best lower primary to the upper primary stage, and the tendency is in the direction of extending patronage to the upper primary schools, while difficulty is experienced in keeping the number of lower primaries up to the mark. The total result is a net gain of 52 primary schools for boys, and a loss of 14,685 pupils. The losses are accounted for by the floods which affected three divisions, the consequent agricultural distress, and epidemics: but the Census may also with reason be held to have affected the collection of statistics about private schools, so that the loss may not have been really so heavy as it would appear to be on paper. The following statement shows by Divisions the administration and expenditure of the primary grant upon aided schools in 1890-91:—

his income for such period as the Collector, having regard to the circumstances, directs.

List of incomes under two thousand rupees.

16. (1) The Collector shall in each year prepare a list of the persons chargeable under Part IV whose annual income does not, in his opinion, amount to two thousand rupees.

(2) The list shall be in the prescribed language or languages, and shall state in respect of every such person the following particulars, namely:—

(a) his name, and the source or sources of the income in respect of which he is chargeable;

(b) the year or portion of the year for which the tax is to be paid;

(c) the place or places, district or districts, where the income accrues;

(d) the amount to be paid; and

(4) The list so filed shall be open to inspection at all reasonable times without any payment.

(5) The list, or such part or parts thereof as the Collector thinks fit, with the notification prefixed thereto, shall be further published in such manner as the Local Government may consider to be best adapted for giving information to all persons concerned.

(6) The list to be prepared in each year may be the list of the previous year with such amendments as the Collector finds to be necessary.

Notices to persons with incomes of two thousand rupees and upwards.

17. In the case of a person chargeable under Part IV whose annual income is, in the Collector's opinion, two thousand rupees or upwards, the Collector shall cause a notice to be served on him stating the particulars (a) to (e), both inclusive, mentioned in section 16, sub-section (2), and requiring him to pay, within sixty days from a date specified in the notice, the amount stated therein as payable by him, or to apply to the Collector, within thirty days from that date, to have the assessment reduced or cancelled.

Power to modify ordinary procedure in special cases.

18. (1) Notwithstanding anything contained in section 16 or section 17, the Local Government may make rules—

(a) authorising or directing a Collector in specified cases, or classes of cases, to include in a list under section 16 any person who is liable to be served with a notice under section 17 instead of or in addition to serving him with such a notice, and to serve a notice under section 17 on any person liable to be included in a list under section 16 instead of or in addition to including him in such a list;

(b) authorising the Collector in any specified town or place to cause a general notice to be published, inviting every person chargeable under Part IV to deliver or cause to be delivered to the Collector, within a time specified in the notice, a return, in a prescribed form published with the notice, of his income during the year ending on the day on which his accounts have been last made up, or, if his accounts have not been made up within the year ending on the thirty-first day of March in the year immediately preceding that for which the assessment is to be made, then of his income during the year ending on the said thirty-first day of March;

(c) authorising the Collector in any presidency-town to cause a special notice to be served on any person chargeable under Part IV, inviting him to deliver or cause to be delivered to the Collector, within a time specified in the notice, a return, in a prescribed form accompanying the notice, of his income computed in the manner described in clause (b) of this sub-section.

(2) A return delivered under rules made under clause (b) or clause (c) of sub-section (1) must state the period during which the income has actually accrued; and there must be added at the foot thereof a declaration that the income shown in the return is truly estimated on all the sources therein mentioned, that it has actually accrued within the period therein stated, and that the person making the return has no other source of income.

(3) When a Collector authorised in that behalf by rules made under clause (b) or clause (c) of sub-section (1) has caused a notice to be published or served under those rules, he shall not include any person to whom the notice applies in any list made under section 16 or serve a notice on him under section 17 until the time specified in the notice published or served under those rules has expired.

(4) Rules made under this section shall be published in the official Gazette.

Time and place of payment.

19. Every amount specified as payable in a list or notice prepared or served under section 16 or section 17 shall be paid within the time, at the place, and to the person, mentioned in the list or notice.

Trustees, Agents, Managers and Incapacitated Persons.

Trustees, guardians and committees of incapacitated persons to be charged.

20. A person being the trustee, guardian, curator or committee of any infant, married woman subject to the law of England, lunatic or idiot, and having the control of the property of the infant, married woman, lunatic or idiot, whether the infant, married woman, lunatic or idiot resides in British India or not, shall, if the infant, married woman, lunatic or idiot is chargeable under Part IV, be chargeable under that Part in like manner and to the same amount as the infant would be chargeable if he were of full age, or the married woman if she were sole, or the lunatic or idiot if he were capable of acting for himself.

Non-residents to be charged in names of their agents.

21. Any person not resident in British India, whether a subject of Her Majesty or not, being in receipt, through an agent, of any income chargeable under Part IV, shall be chargeable under that Part in the name of the agent in the like manner and to the like amount as he would be chargeable if he were resident in British India and in direct receipt of that income.

Receivers, managers, Courts of Wards, Administrators General and Official Trustees.

22. Receivers or managers appointed by any Court in India, the Courts of Wards, the Administrators General of Bengal, Madras and Bombay, and the Official Trustees shall be chargeable under Part IV in respect of all income officially in their possession or under their control, which is liable to assessment under that Part.

Power to retain duties charged on trustees, &c

23. When a trustee, guardian, curator, committee or agent is, as such, assessed under Part IV, or when a receiver or manager appointed as aforesaid, a Court of Wards, an Administrator General or an Official Trustee is assessed under that Part in respect of income officially received, the person or Court so assessed may, from time to time, out of the money coming to his or its possession as trustee, guardian, curator, committee or agent, or as receiver, manager, Court of Wards, Administrator General or Official Trustee, retain so much as is sufficient to pay the amount of the assessment.

Occupying Owners.

Provision for tax on occupying owners.

24. (1) Where a building is occupied by its owner, it shall be deemed a source of income within the meaning of this Act, and, if liable to be assessed under this Act, shall be assessed at five-sixths of the gross annual rent at which it may reasonably be expected to let, and, in the case of a dwelling-house, may be expected to let unfurnished.

(2) "Owner," as used in this section with reference to a building, means the person who would be entitled to receive the rent of the building if the building were let to a tenant.

CHAPTER IV.

REVISION OF ASSESSMENT.

Petition to Collector against assessment under Part IV.

25. (1) Any person objecting to the amount at which he is assessed, or denying his liability to be assessed, under Part IV may apply by petition to the Collector to have the assessment reduced or cancelled.

(2) The petition shall ordinarily be presented within the period specified in the notification prefixed to the list filed under section 16, or in the notice served under section 17, as the case may be. But the Collector may receive a petition after the expiration of that period if he is satisfied that the objector had sufficient cause for not presenting it within that period.

(3) The petition shall, as nearly as circumstances admit, be in the form contained in the third schedule to this Act, and the statements contained in the petition shall be verified by the petitioner or some other competent person in the manner required by law for the verification of plaints.

Hearing of petition.

26. The Collector shall fix a day and place for the hearing of the petition, and on the day and at the place so fixed, or on the day and at the place, if any, to which he has adjourned the hearing, shall hear the petition and pass such order thereon as he thinks fit.

Petition to Commissioner for revision.

27. Subject to the control of the Local Government, the Commissioner of the Division, on the petition of any person deeming himself aggrieved by an order under section 12, sub-section (2), or section 26 shall, if the amount of the assessment to which the petition relates is two hundred and fifty rupees or upwards, and may in his discretion, if the amount of the assessment is less than two hundred and fifty rupees, call for the record of the case, and pass such order thereon as he thinks fit.

Power to summon witnesses, &c.

28. The Collector or Commissioner may, for the purpose of enabling him to determine how the petitioner or the company which he represents should be assessed, summon and enforce the attendance of witnesses and compel them to give evidence, and compel the production of documents, by the same means, and, as far as possible, in the same manner, as is provided in the case of a Civil Court by the Code of Civil Procedure:

Provided that the Collector or Commissioner shall not call for any evidence except at the instance of the petitioner or in order to ascertain the correctness of facts alleged by him.

Special instruction.

12. The number of training schools for teachers, i.e. masters, mistresses and gurus, fell from 242 to 222, and the pupils from 1,993 to 1,958; and the cost was diminished by Rs. 11,662. The results of the vernacular mastership examination for pupils of first and second grade training schools and for private candidates show that out of 609 candidates 530 passed and were granted certificates. These men are appointed to masterships in middle and upper primary schools; and it is obviously desirable that all masters in those institutions should have passed through training schools and have received certificates of competency. The next report should show what progress has been made towards reaching this ideal; how many teachers there are in those schools, certificated and uncertificated, what is the average number of annual vacancies, and whether the number who pass out from the primary schools are equal to the number of vacancies. The "other schools of special instruction" include all institutions and departments of institutions teaching Law, Medicine, Engineering, the Calcutta School of Art, industrial schools and other schools of a special character. The statistics relating to their numbers and cost are reproduced in the following form :—

The variations in the numbers of the students in the several professions are of interest, as follows:—

Year.	Law.	Medicine.	Engineering.	Arts and Industry.	Other special schools.	Total.
1888-89 ...	935	999	518	651	172	[illegible]

1890-91 ...	1,025	1,184	703	753	550	[illegible]

Having regard to the crowded condition of the profession of Law, it is not satisfactory to see that the Bengali youths throng to it in greater numbers, but the increase of recruits for Medicine and Engineering is a matter for congratulation. The falling off in the numbers under education in schools of Arts and Industry is slight and probably accidental, for there is a perceptible movement in all parts of the Province in favour of the establishment of industrial schools. a movement which the Lieutenant-Governor desires heartily to encourage, as in his opinion, what the country most wants is a diversity of pursuits for its educated youth, and not an adherence to the beaten path of literary careers. Turning to the detailed account of the institutions furnished by the Director, it is observed that in paragraph 121, Tipperah alone is mentioned as a district in which scholarships are provided for female medical education, whereas the Local Self-Government Resolution of 1889-90 records that many other districts have done the same—Midnapore, Burdwan, Bankura, Bakerganj, Chittagong, and all the districts of the Rajshahye Division. During the year certain measures of great importance were matured for the improvement of the working of the Sibpur Engineering College, for which a useful future is anticipated. In fact it is to this College and to the School of Art that Government looks as the chief institutions for imparting technical education in Bengal. The former is the centre of instruction in mechanical and manufacturing industries; artizans are trained to a high degree of skill in general processes, and a site is afforded for the development of various branches of special industry, for the supply of trained teachers to local technical schools, and for advanced instruction. The School of Art occupies a similar position in the extensive field of artistic and decorative industry. The practical importance of drawing and painting has long been recognised. Lithography and wood-engraving have for some time been taught with great and acknowledged success. Modelling has always been practised. The various branches of the fictile art had yet to be taken up. It is probable that the necessity for a School of Design will be felt as manufactures progress and the demand for ornamentation developes. The Lieutenant-Governor recognises that the idea of concentrating technical education at the Sibpur Engineering College and at the Calcutta School of Art is one that can only be carried out gradually, and that its fruits must be looked for in the next generation He will endeavour to maintain these institutions on the highest possible scale of efficiency while encouraging the establishment by District Boards, and through other agencies, of local schools of technical instruction, wherever an effective demand for them may arise. His Honour agrees in the views expressed by the Director as to the possible usefulness and future of such institutions as the Rangpur technical school, and he regrets that so much delay has been allowed to occur in the establishment of the contemplated industrial school at Maimansingh, for which funds have been provided by the liberality of Babu Jogendro Kishor Roi Chowdri.

(3) If the notice is to be served otherwise than by registered letter, the service shall, whenever it may be practicable, be on the person named in the notice, or, in the case of a firm, on some member thereof, or, in the case of a Hindu undivided family, on the manager of the joint estate of the family;

Sanskrit tols, elementary schools for boys, and other schools, have increased, but the remarkable loss in Arabic and Persian schools, already noticed, adversely affected the total. The Central Text-book Committee.

17. The Central Text-book Committee, to whom since 1875 has been entrusted the duty of approving the books to be used in schools, continued to do good work during the year. Out of 198 books on various subjects received for examination, the Committee approved 53, rejected 107, and still had 38 to peruse. A revised list of authorized text-books for middle schools was published in the Gazette of 15th July 1891. Managers of schools are at liberty to choose any of the books in the list, except when special text-books in particular subjects have been prescribed. The Committee have undertaken the preparation of similar lists for the middle classes of high schools and for primary schools. Branch Committees for Behar and Orissa deal similarly with books written in the languages of those parts of the country. The Lieutenant-Governor fully believes that Sir A. Croft's grateful acknowledgments of the laborious and important work done by these Committees are well deserved for their honest and successful discharge of their duties. Their selections have, Sir Charles Elliott has noticed, been much attacked by some members of the Press, but he has no reason to believe that the attacks are well founded: one thing, however, is clear; there would not be such emulation for inclusion in the approved list, and such vehement passions would not be aroused by the competition, unless large pecuniary profits were at stake. Other facts have come to His Honour's knowledge tending to show that the sale of school-books authorised by Government is very lucrative. Considering the poverty of students in general and the compulsion placed upon them to purchase such of these books as are adopted at their school or college, Sir Charles Elliott thinks that the Committees, besides regarding moral and intellectual excellence, which are and should be the first consideration, should also look to the price at which a book is sold, and should not enter any in their lists unless sold at the lowest price compatible with a moderate profit to the author and publisher.

18. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to take this opportunity to acknowledge publicly his obligations to Sir Alfred Croft, K.C.I.E., who has for so many years, as Head of the Department, been identified with education in Bengal. His thanks are due to the Director for his report, as well as for his general administration of his important charge. Sir Charles Elliott also desires to record his appreciation of the good work which is being performed by most of the Inspectors and their subordinates, as well as the Principals, Professors, and their Assistants throughout the Province.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

C. E. BUCKLAND,

Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

4. We have inserted in the same section a further clause (clause (g)), based on the English law, excepting from liability to the tax any portion, not exceeding one-sixth, of his income which a person pays either to the Government or to a company in respect of life-insurance or deferred annuity.

5. Clause (e) of section 5 (clause (c) of that section in the Bill as introduced) is based on a similar clause in Act VIII of 1872. The exemption appears to us to be sufficient to cover educational endowments, and does not, as has been suggested, open a door to the evasion of the Act by colourable gifts to idols or any like device.

6. We have omitted sub-section (z) of the same section in the Bill as introduced. There appears to us not to be sufficient ground for making, between official salaries and other incomes, the distinction which was proposed in that sub-section.

7. By the new sub-section (z) appended to section 5, we have made it clear that a salaried manager of land is not exempt from the tax by reason only of the income of his employer being exempt therefrom.

8. We have ascertained that companies and some other private employers are much opposed to that provision of the Bill as introduced which imposed on them the duty of deducting the tax from the salaries of their employés. To the argument that there was such a provision in force in the years 1869-72, they reply that the provision was then a fruitful cause of misunderstanding and disagreement between them and their subordinates. Under these circumstances it appears to us that companies ought not to be compelled to collect the tax. We have therefore modified section 8 of the Bill, and empowered the Collector, by a new section (section 9), to enter into an arrangement with any private employer, on terms to be mutually agreed on, for the collection by the employer of the tax payable by his employés.

9. Section 10 of the Bill as introduced followed the Acts of 1869 and 1872 in making special provision for the taxation of shipping companies. It has been stated, and we have satisfied ourselves, that the provision was unworkable and, in practice, inoperative. It has therefore been omitted from section 11, and the second schedule, of the Bill as amended by us: and we have added to section 5 a special exception (clause (d)) in favour of shipping companies incorporated or registered out of British India and having their principal places of business out of India and their ships ordinarily engaged in sea-going traffic out of Indian waters.

10. To section 18 (section 17 of the Bill as introduced) we have added clauses empowering the Local Government to authorise the Collector in any specified town or place to publish general notices inviting tax-payers to make returns of their income, and in any presidency-town to serve special notices on individual tax-payers inviting them to make such returns.

11. In section 24 (section 23 of the Bill as introduced) we have provided for houses occupied by their owners being assessed at five-sixths, instead of nine-tenths, of their annual value. We have thus reverted to the principle of section 132 of Act XXXII of 1860.

12. We have so modified section 27 (section 26 of the Bill as introduced) as to require the Commissioner to call for the record in the case of a petition for the revision of any assessment of two hundred and fifty rupees or upwards.

13. In section 30 (section 29 of the Bill as introduced) we have provided for the continuance of the summary process of recovery described in section 24 of the Bengal License Act, 1880.

14. In sub-section (5) of the same section we have provided that no proceedings for the recovery of any sum payable under the Act shall be commenced after the expiration of three months from the last day of the year in respect of which the sum is payable. The section as amended by us is more restrictive on the revenue-authorities than the corresponding section of the Bengal License Act, 1880, and less so than the corresponding section of the Northern India License Act, 1878.

15. In section 31 provision has been made, as in Act XXXII of 1860, for composition of the tax.

16. Seeing that provision is made in Chapter IV for revision of assessment, we think that section 32, sub-section (1), of the Bill as introduced should be omitted, and that section 31 of that Bill may also be omitted, as being likely, by suggesting the disturbance of settled assessments, to create irritation with which the additional revenue raised under the section would be incommensurate.

17. In section 38 of the Bill as amended by us (section 37 of the Bill as introduced) we have provided for rules being made for securing secrecy in regard to information furnished in documents relating to incomes of assessees.

18. We have deemed it desirable to specify more particularly than in section 40 of the Bill as introduced the information which may be required by a Collector for the purposes of the Act. We have, therefore, for that section substituted sections 41 to 45 of the Bill as amended.

S. HARVEY JAMES,
Offg. Secretary to the Government of India.

The following report of the Select Committee on the Bill to amend section 265 of the Indian Contract Act, 1872, was presented to the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 22nd January, 1886 :—

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

WE, the undersigned, Members of the Select Committee to which the Bill to amend section 265 of the Indian Contract Act, 1872, was referred, have considered the Bill and the papers noted in the margin, and have now the honour to submit this our Report.

From Officiating Registrar, High Court, Calcutta, No. 930, dated 20th March, 1885, and enclosure [Papers No. 1].

From Officiating Secretary to Chief Commissioner, British Burma, No. 300—16L., dated 16th April, 1885, and enclosures [Papers No. 4].
From Chief Commissioner, Ajmer-Merwára, No. 455, dated 2nd May, 1885, and enclosure [Papers No. 5].
From Chief Secretary to Government, Madras, No. 1098, dated 27th April, 1885, and enclosures [Papers No. 6].
From Secretary to Chief Commissioner, Coorg, No. 207—26, dated 4th May, 1885 [Paper No. 7].

From Registrar, High Court, Calcutta, No. 2611, dated 8th September, 1885, and enclosure [Papers No. 13].

2. We have so framed the new section which it is proposed to substitute for section 265 as to make it a declaration of law consistent with the form of plaint No. 113 scheduled to the Code of Civil Procedure, and to show that a partner may apply to have the partnership wound up not only after its termination but also when he is entitled to claim a dissolution.

3. We have not overlooked the difficulties pointed out by Mr. Justice Field and others as to the valuation and place of trial of suits under this section; but those difficulties, not being limited to suits of this class, should, we think, be considered separately and with care.

PART VI.

Bills introduced into the Council of the Governor General for making Laws and Regulations, or published under Rule 22.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

[Second publication.]

The following Bill was introduced into the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 5th February, 1886, and was referred to a Select Committee, with instructions to submit their Report within one month :—

NO. 2 OF 1886.

A Bill to amend the law relating to Government Securities.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the law relating to Government securities in manner hereinafter appearing; It is hereby enacted as follows :—

Short title and commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Indian Securities Act, 1886; and

(2) It shall come into force at once.

Act to be read with Act XIX of 1885.

2. It shall be read with, and taken as part of, the Indian Securities Act, 1885, as amended by this Act.

Repeal of part of section 3, Act XIX of 1885.

3. The words "issued before the first day of April, 1886," in section 3, sub-section (1), of the Indian Securities Act, 1885, are hereby repealed.

Holding of Government securities by holders for the time being of public offices.

4. (1) In the case of any public office to which the Governor General in Council may, from time to time, by notification in the Gazette of India, declare this section to apply, a Government security may be made, or indorsed, payable to, or to the order of, the holder for the time being of the office.

(2) When a Government security is made or indorsed as aforesaid, it shall be deemed to be transferred without any or further indorsement from each holder for the time being of the office to the succeeding holder for the time being of the office from the date on which the latter takes charge of the office.

(3) When the holder for the time being of the office indorses to a third party a Government security made or indorsed as aforesaid, he shall subscribe the indorsement with his name and the title of his office.

Prohibition of indorsements on allonges to Government securities.

5. Notwithstanding anything in section 15 of the Negotiable Instruments Act, 1881, the holder of a Government security shall not be said to indorse the security, or be called the indorser thereof, if, when he signs the same for the purpose of negotiation, he inscribes his signature for that purpose elsewhere than on the back of the security itself.

Power of Governor General in Council to make rules.

6. The Governor General in Council may, from time to time, make rules to prescribe—

(a) the mode in which payment of interest in respect of Government securities is to be recorded and acknowledged; and

(b) the circumstances under which Government securities must be renewed before further payment of interest thereon can be claimed.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

IN paragraph 5 of the Report submitted in October last by the Select Committee on the Bill which became Act XIX of 1885, it was stated that the question of applying the rule of survivorship to Government securities issued after as well as before the first day of April, 1886, would be further considered during the Calcutta session. The question has now been fully discussed, and the Government of India has decided to propose the maintenance of the rule of survivorship which has hitherto obtained. Effect will be given to this decision by the repeal of the words in section 3, sub-section (i), Act XIX of 1885, which restrict the operation of that section to Government securities issued before the first day of April, 1886.

2. By sections 4 and 5 it is proposed to introduce into the law relating to Government securities provisions (a) enabling holders for the time being of public offices to hold those securities, and (b) prohibiting the making of indorsements on allonges annexed to them.

Section 4 of the Bill, in providing that Government securities may be made and indorsed payable to the holder for the time being of an office, follows the Bills of Exchange Act, 1882 (45 & 46 Vic., c. 61), and will put an end to the public inconvenience which is caused by the present uncertainty as to the state of the law in India.

As regards section 5, the risk of fraud which attends the practice of writing indorsements upon allonges is held to justify the prohibition of annexing them to instruments which, like Government securities, are readily renewable.

3. Section 6 merely empowers the Governor General in Council to make authoritative rules for the maintenance of existing practice with respect to the record and acknowledgment of payment of interest and to the renewal of securities which have become covered with indorsements.

Read again—

Public Works Proceedings, (A) Communications for February 1885, Nos. 1-3, being the Administration Report of the Hooghly Bridge Commissioners for 1883-84, together with the Resolution passed thereon.

RESOLUTION.—The actual receipts and expenditure on the Hooghly Bridge during the year 1884-85, as compared with the estimated amounts, were as follows :—

		Estimated.	Actuals.	More.	Less.
		Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Receipts	...	5,52,271	4,60,416	.....	91,855
Expenditure	...	5,47,228	1,93,847	.....	3,53,381

2. The receipts from railway-borne and local traffic, respectively, are shown in the following table:—

	1883-84.	1884-85.
	Actual.	Estimated.	Actual.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Railway traffic ...	2,79 501	3,80,000	2,89,125
Local do. ...	1,22,200	1,33,200	1,28,301

The receipts from railway traffic were Rs. 90,376 less than those of the previous year. This decrease was due to a falling off in the quantity of goods carried, and not to any reduction in the schedule of rates, which has remained unaltered. The quantity of goods carried was less than in any one of the previous three years, and until the export trade in produce increases to its former dimensions, the receipts from railway-borne traffic will remain lower than those of former years. The receipts from local traffic were Rs. 6,101 above the amount realized in 1883-84 owing to the bridge tolls having been leased out from the 1st March 1884 at Rs. 1,000 monthly above the amount paid by the lessee of the previous year. The present lessees are Messrs. S. C. Mullick & Co.

3. No payments were made during the year under review towards the liquidation of the outstanding debt or the reserve fund. At the close of the year the debt was Rs. 10,80,000, and the reserve fund Rs. 5,37,176. The cash balance was Rs. 2,98,813. Stock to the value of Rs. 1,08,761 has been provided to meet any emergent repairs that may be rendered necessary by any accident to the bridge. Provision has been made in the estimates for the current year for making the arrear payments due on account of the outstanding debt, and the capital account will then assume its normal aspect.

4. Both the steamers Buckland and Hetty were employed throughout the year, the former in conveying passengers across the river on the days when the bridge was closed to traffic, and the latter in towing vessels up and down through the bridge opening. The East Indian Railway stage on the Calcutta bank of the river, to which the ferry steamer used to run, sank in May 1884, and was replaced without loss of time by the pontoon from the Mayo Ghât landing stage, which was the only one suitable for the Buckland to run alongside of. The place of this pontoon at the Mayo Ghât was taken by two of those belonging to the Hooghly Bridge spare section. Materials for a new gangway bridge, abutment, moorings, &c., were available from those ordered out for the new landing stages sanctioned last year. These were utilized, and the cost thereof (Rs. 11,611) has been charged against the bridge revenue for the year. No inconvenience was caused to the traffic, and the new stage will now remain a permanent fixture at Armenian Ghât.

5. No sea-going vessels collided with the bridge during the year, but there were 131 collisions of other vessels, against 142 in the previous year. None of the collisions caused any damage to the bridge, and only one of them was attended with loss of life. In this case a passenger dinghy struck the bridge and sank, and one of the passengers was drowned, the others and the crew being rescued by the police and bridge boats.

6. The bridge was maintained in good order throughout the year. The expenditure on repairs amounted to Rs. 47,000—a large sum for one year. It has been found necessary to replace many of the main timbers in the superstructure which had suffered from the attacks of white-ants and dry-rot. The upper planking of the roadway surface is now beginning to show signs of decay owing to the constant renewal of the battens spiked to it, which form the actual wearing surface. These battens last on an average only two years, and a good deal of the planking under them will have to be renewed the next time new battens are put down.

7. According to the arrangement concluded last year between the Commissioners and the Howrah Municipality, a road leading through the bridge abutment to the bathing ghât on the north side of the approach to the bridge was constructed during the year under review, and the claim of the Municipality to have an approach road on the north side of the main bridge approach has been abandoned.

8. In the resolution on the administration report of the Commissioners for 1883-84 reference was made to the question of re-adjusting the terminal charges collected on railway-borne goods at Howrah on account of the bridge, and it was stated that the division of the present terminal between the Port Commissioners and Bridge Commissioners, which was proposed by the conference held at Howrah in February 1884, had been sanctioned by Government, subject to the balance remaining to the bridge being sufficient to yield a surplus available for the payment of the annual sum of Rs. 73,333 towards the sinking fund of the bridge debt. The Board of Directors of the East Indian Railway Company did not accept the arrangement made by the Conference, and maintain that no portion of the bridge terminal charge should be made over to the Port Commissioners in lieu of wharfage charges on railway-borne goods passing over the Howrah wharves. This subject is now under reconsideration, and the bridge revenues will, in the meantime, be credited with the railway traffic receipts levied on the usual scale during the current year.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the Bridge Commissioners for information.

Ordered also that this Resolution be published in the Supplement to the Calcutta Gazette for general information.

RESOLUTION.

IN Home Department Resolution No. 360, dated 30th June 1868, a scheme was promulgated for the creation of a certain number of Government scholarships tenable in England by natives of India. It was explained that the object of creating the scholarships was to encourage natives of India to resort more freely to England for the purpose of perfecting their education, and of studying for the various learned professions, or for the Civil and other services in India. In a subsequent Resolution dated 18th January 1870, the circumstances were set forth under which it had been determined to hold this scheme in abeyance. For some time past the Government of India has been in communication with Her Majesty's Secretary of State regarding the re-establishment of a limited number of Government scholarships tenable in England by natives of India, and the Governor-General in Council is glad to be able now to announce that it has been decided to bring into immediate operation a scheme which it is hoped will have the effect of offering a certain measure of encouragement to the youth of this country to proceed to England for the purpose of completing their education either at the University of Oxford or at the University of Cambridge.

2. Six scholarships, the cost of which will be defrayed by the Government of India, will be at once established tenable in England by persons who are natives of India within the meaning of section 6 of the Statute 33 Vict., Chapter 3. The scholarships will be placed at the disposal of the Universities of Calcutta, Bombay, Madras and the Punjab in rotation, one scholarship being given to each of the first two Universities during the present year (1886) and one scholarship to each of the last two during next year (1887). In allotting the scholarships in future years the same order will be observed.

3. Each scholarship will entitle the holder to an allowance not exceeding £200 per annum payable from the date of his arrival in England, and will be tenable for three years. No candidate should be more that 21 years of age. Each candidate to whom a scholarship may be awarded will be required to proceed to England within a reasonable period from the date of his selection, and to reside there for a period of three years, unless compelled to return sooner by ill health.

4. Each scholar will be entitled to receive a sum of £100 for passage money, and a similar sum will be payable within one month before his actual return to India, if he should complete the full period of three years' residence, or be compelled by sickness to return before the completion of that period.

5. It is intended to reserve to the scholars the power of selecting, once for all, the course of study to be followed by them in England. Each scholar will be required to bind himself by a written engagement to submit to such regulations as may from time to time be framed by Her Majesty's Secretary of State for the guidance of the scholars.

6. If any scholar, not being disabled by sickness, fails to complete a residence of three years in England, or is guilty of gross misconduct or disregard of the orders of Her Majesty's Secretary of State, he will, at the discretion of the Secretary of State, forfeit his scholarship, and further be liable to refund the sum of £100 drawn by him as passage money.

7. It will be open to each University to consider whether a special examination should be held for the election of the scholars, or whether the election should be made on the results of its ordinary examinations. If special examinations are held, the regulations which the University concerned may propose to lay down in regard thereto should be submitted for the previous approval of the Government of India, the necessary arrangements for the conduct of the examinations being made under the orders of the University authorities. It is, however, desirable that the examinations should be held at such a time (probably not later than the month of June in each year) as will afford the successful candidates a sufficient interval to complete their arrangements and to reach England before the opening of the October term at the Universities of Oxford or Cambridge, to one of which Universities the scholarship-holders will be required to proceed. The candidates for the special examinations, when such examinations are held, must be young men of proved ability, and will be selected by the Vice-Chancellor on the report of the Syndicate or governing body, who will in their turn be guided by the opinion of the Professors and Examiners. The candidates for these examinations, or the persons elected as scholarship-holders on the results of the ordinary University examinations, must in all cases be graduates of the University, under 21 years of age, who are willing, with the consent of their families, to proceed to England in order to complete a University education, and will be required to satisfy the Vice-Chancellor as to their good conduct, knowledge of the English language, and physical capacity to undergo the course of life and study which they will have to follow in England. The tenure of the scholarships will be strictly dependent on good conduct in England, and will be conditional on satisfactory progress being made in study.

8. The Governor-General in Council desires to take this opportunity of expressing his acknowledgments to Mr. Monier Williams, Boden Professor of Sanskrit in the University of Oxford, with whom the present scheme originated, and who has always taken a deep interest in any measures designed to promote the educational progress of natives of India.

ORDER—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the Governments of Madras, Bombay, and the Punjab for information and communication to the authorities of the Universities concerned.

Ordered also that a copy be forwarded to the Governments of Bengal and the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, the Chief Commissioners of the Central Provinces, British Burma, Assam and Coorg, and the Resident at Hyderabad, for information; and to the Registrar of the Calcutta University for information and guidance.

Ordered further that a copy be forwarded to the Department of Finance for information, and that the Resolution be published in the Supplement to the Gazette of India.

for the past ten years. The variations are negative when the mean for the week is less than the corresponding normal mean, and positive when greater. The number denoting cloud amount represents the part of the sky covered, the whole sky being denoted by 10. Under the head "District" observations for the period in question during the past 12 years. The means of the "district" are the numerical averages of the rainfall figures recorded in those on which at least hundredth of an inch fell.

CALCUTTA, the 16th February 1886.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL FOR THE WEEK ENDING FRIDAY, THE 12TH OF FEBRUARY 1886.

THE past week has been characterised by well marked north-east monsoon or cold weather conditions, and it is very noticeable that these conditions have remained rather strongly developed up to a much later period of the present year than is usual. The northerly wind current has therefore been stronger and more steady than is usual in the middle of February; pressure has been very decidedly above the normal, and temperature rather largely below it. The air has also been very dry, the skies practically cloudless, and absolutely no rain has been reported.

Pressure—Was during the previous week about 0·05″ below the normal, and though for four days of the present week pressure has been generally falling slowly, while it has only risen on two or three days, yet the mean pressure of the province for the present week has been no less than 0·061″ above normal pressure. This is accounted for by the fact that during February pressure usually commences to fall with considerable rapidity, and that up to the present time the usual fall of pressure, which ushers in the beginning of the hot weather season, has scarcely commenced. The distribution of the excess pressure is a little irregular, and thus, while the excess is 0·08″ in Orissa, it is only 0·04″ in North Behar.

Temperature—At the close of the previous week had fallen with very great rapidity, and on the 5th instant it was largely below the normal. During the first four days of the present week temperature has generally risen at the majority of stations, but during the last three days temperature in almost all cases decreased, and from Wednesday, the 10th, to Thursday, the 11th, the fall was somewhat rapid. At this season of the year, however, temperature usually increases almost uniformly and rather rapidly, so that again this week the mean temperature has been very considerably below the normal. The defect has been so large that in Orissa, South-West and East Bengal the mean temperature has been nearly 5° below the normal, while in Behar and Chutia Nagpur the defect has been almost 3°. The variations from normal temperature have been larger in the night or minimum temperatures than in the day or maximum temperatures, and in this respect they agree with the variations in January. This is shown clearly in the table below, where the mean maximum and minimum temperatures for the week at eight selected stations in the province are compared with the normal temperatures for the same period. From this table it will be seen that at such stations as Cuttack, Calcutta, Burdwan, Jessore and Dacca the mean minimum temperature for the week has been about 7° below the normal, or taking the means of the eight stations, while the night temperatures have been 6° in defect, the day or maximum temperatures have only been 1·8° in defect.

Humidity—Has been particularly low during the week, and thus at Midnapore and Hazaribagh the mean saturation of the air with moisture for the week has been only about 25 per cent of the possible quantity, and except at the sea-coast stations, the mean humidity over the province has rarely exceeded 50 per cent. of the possible saturation.

Rainfall—As has been stated previously, has been entirely absent throughout the week.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the province for the week ending Friday, the 12th February 1886 :—

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h, and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No 96 formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

* A special census of the Europeans in the Darjiling Municipality was recently taken, as the census of this section of the community, taken in February 1881, was not reliable owing to the Europeans being at a minimum in that month. The number of the native residents is believed as it was not necessary to re-census them. The ratios have consequently been calculated on the revised population under all heads in the above table, except "Age," the ratios under which have been omitted, inasmuch as the number of the Europeans, above alluded to, cannot be employed as a basis of calculation owing to the results of the census under this head not having been recorded under the authorized form of age classification.

General Remarks on the fluctuation of principal staples carried over the East Indian Railway during the month ended 31st December 1885.

INCREASES.

Cotton.—The increase in this commodity was due to an active market at Calcutta for export, attended with advance in prices.

Piece-goods.—This increase was attributable to demand at stations in the North-Western Provinces, chiefly at Cawnpore and Delhi.

Wheat.—This was due to demand for export, the disproportion between the weight carried and the amount of freight earned may be accounted for by the short lead traffic vid Ghaziabad and Delhi, attracted by a fall in the shipping freights from Bombay.

Gram and Pulses.—The increase in these staples may be attributed to better local demand.

Railway material, foreign.—This was due to despatches of material to the Oudh and Rohilkund and the Bengal and North-Western Railways.

Rice (husked and unhusked).—There was a very marked improvement in this staple owing to good crops and to there having been an almost total failure of the crop in 1884.

DECREASES.

Coal and Coke.—Less demand on the Rajputana-Malwa and Bengal and North-Western Railways on the upwards, and in Calcutta in the downwards, direction must be held to account for the decrease under this head.

Indigo.—Supplies in the Calcutta market being short, owing to weak crops, led to the decrease in this staple.

Lac.—This decrease is assignable to less demand in the Home markets.

Oil.—This is due to ordinary fluctuation of trade.

Opium.—This decrease is nominal, there having been a large increase in the preceding month.

Seeds.—Due to partial exhaustion of the old crop and consequent want of stocks in the Calcutta market.

Salt.—The decrease was principally in downward salt which may be attributed to the decreased demand.

Saltpetre.—Due to ordinary fluctuation of trade.

RULES.

UNDER the powers conferred upon him by section 51, clause (1) of Act VI of 1884 (the Inland Steam Vessels Act), and with the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council, the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to make the following rules to regulate the carriage of passengers in inland steam vessels:—

I.—The master of any inland steam vessel may refuse to receive on board thereof any person who, by reason of drunkenness or contagious or infectious disease or madness, or otherwise, is in such a state, or misconducts himself in such a manner, as is likely to cause annoyance or danger to other passengers on board, and in the case of drunkenness, if such person is on board, may put him on shore at any convenient place.

II.—The following offenders, that is to say—

(1) Any person who, being drunken or disorderly, has been on that account refused admission into any duly surveyed inland steam vessel by the owner or person in charge of such steam vessel, and who, after having had the amount of his fare (if he has paid the same) returned or tendered to him, nevertheless persists in attempting to enter such steamer;

(2) Any person who, being drunken or disorderly on board any such steamer, is requested by the owner or person in charge of such steamer to leave the same at any place at which he can conveniently so do, and who, having had the amount of his fare (if he has paid the same) returned or tendered to him, refuses to comply with such request;

(3) Any person on board any such steamer who, after warning by the master or any other officer of the steamer, molests or continues to molest any passenger;

(4) Any person who, after having been refused admission into any such steamer by the owner or any person in his employ on account of such steamer being full, and who after having had the full amount of his fare (if he has paid the same) returned or tendered to him, nevertheless persists in attempting to enter the same;

(5) Any person having got on board any such steamer, who upon being requested on the like account by the owner or any person in his employ to leave such steamer before the same has quitted the place at which such person got on board, and who, upon having the full amount of his fare (if he has paid the same) returned or tendered to him, refuses to comply with such request;

(6) Any person who travels or attempts to travel in any such steamer without having previously paid his fare, and with intent to avoid payment thereof;

(7) Any person who, having paid his fare for a certain distance, knowingly and wilfully proceeds in any such steamer beyond such distance without previously paying the additional fare for the additional distance, and with intent to avoid payment thereof;

(8) Any person who knowingly and wilfully refuses or neglects, on arriving at the point to which he has paid his fare, to quit any such steamer;

(9) Any person who takes or attempts to take luggage with him in any such steamer without having previously paid the freight payable on such luggage, and with intent to avoid payment thereof;

(10) Any person who travels or attempts to travel in accommodation of a higher class than that for which he has paid his fare, with intent to avoid payment of the fare payable for the accommodation he is using;

(11) Any person on board any such steamer who does not, when required by the master or other officer of such steamer, either pay his fare or exhibit such ticket or other receipt (if any) showing the payment of his fare as is usually given to persons travelling by and paying their fare for such steamer, or who does not deliver up his ticket at the end of the journey;

(12) Any person who, having a ticket for any such steamer, transfers it to any other person with intent to evade the payment of fare by such other person to the owners of the steamer;

(13) Any person who travels or attempts to travel by any such steamer, without the expressed consent of the owners of the steamer, on any other day than that on which his ticket was issued;

R. H. WILSON,

Offg. Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

UNDER the powers conferred upon him by section 24 of Act VII of 1884 (the Indian Steam Ships Act), and with the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council, the Lieutenant-Governor has been pleased to make the following rules for the survey of steam-ships:—

Application for survey.

1. Application for the survey of steam-ships shall be made to the Surveyor at the port of Calcutta between the hours of 10 A.M. and 5 P.M. on any day, except Sundays and Government holidays, on a printed sheet in the form No. 4 hereto annexed, which will be supplied for this purpose at the Surveyor's office, and should be made at least three clear days before the day on which it is desired that the survey shall take place.

Time and place of survey.

2. Surveys shall be made upon due notice or application from the owner, agent, or master on any day in the year, with the exception of Sundays and Government holidays, by the surveyor or surveyors appointed under the Act.

Surveyors' duties.

3. The surveyors will be guided by the rules issued by the Board of Trade in so far as such rules are applicable to surveys made in India. In cases where two surveyors are employed, the Engineer-Surveyor will survey the engines, boilers, and all the machinery required to be surveyed under the Act. The Ship-wright Surveyor will inspect the hull, equipments, and passenger accommodation, measure and determine the number of passengers the vessel is fit to carry, and see that the certificates of the master, mates, and engineers are such as is required by the Act; also that the lights and fog signals are in accordance with the regulations for the prevention of collisions at sea.

4. The surveyors' declarations and certificates of survey shall be made and issued in the forms hereunto annexed and numbered 1 and 2, and shall contain the particulars which are stated therein respectively.

5. Every declaration shall be sent, in accordance with section 12 of the Act, by the owner, or master, or agent to whom it is given to the officer authorized to issue certificates of survey.

6. The notice to be given under section 13, sub-section (3) of the Act, to the owner or master when a certificate is ready for delivery, shall be given, under the signature of the officer authorized to grant certificates of survey, in the form No. 3 hereto annexed.

7. If every part of the steam-ship is not ready for survey at the time so appointed, or if the requisite preparations have not been made in accordance with the list forwarded to the applicant under rule 1, the surveyor may fix some other convenient time for the survey.

8. If the surveyor is unavoidably prevented from being present at the time fixed, the earliest possible intimation shall be sent to the applicant, and some other time, convenient to the applicant and to the surveyor, shall be fixed for the survey.

9. With a view to obviate inconvenience and delay, owners and masters whose vessels are in dock or undergoing repairs should communicate at once with the surveyors, if their vessels have afterwards to be surveyed.

10. If a surveyor finds that any defect exists in the hull, machinery or equipments of a steam-ship, he shall, before refusing to give a declaration regarding the ship under section 11 of the Act, address a letter to the owner or master of the steam-ship, pointing out such defect and the repairs, &c., necessary to make good the same, and to enable him to grant a declaration.

These rates are for certificates which, if not in the meantime cancelled or suspended, will remain in force for one year from the date thereof.

If the ship's hull, machinery, or equipments are stated in the certificate to be sufficient only for a period of less than one year from the date thereof, one-twelfth of the above annual amount shall be payable for each month or fraction of a month comprised in the said period: provided that—

(a) the minimum fee shall be one-fourth of the annual fee ;

(b) in the case of a new steam-ship coming under survey for the first time the full annual fee shall be payable, whatever be the nature of the certificate.

Rocks off Tripaloor Reef.

NOTICE is hereby given that, as a guide to vessls making Madras from the Southward, or leaving Madras and proceeding to the Southward, or navigating between Sadras and Covelong (Covolam), and in order to better distinguish the dangerous outlying patches of rock to the Northward of the Tripaloor Reef (which is situated about 30 miles to the Southward of Madras), on which the steam-ships Karamania and Tangier struck in December 1885, the following extract from Horsburgh is republished:—

"From the Seven Pagodas to Covelong, or Covolam, the coast extends N. by E. a little Easterly, about 3½ leagues; between them a rocky shoal projects about a mile or more into the sea, and bears E. S. E., from the small hill of Tripaloor, known by being much nearer the shore than any of the others. This reef should have a proper berth in passing, which is steep to, as will appear by the following extract taken from the ship Rockingham's journal.

Tripaloor Reef.

"'The Rockingham, 26th of May 1776, at half past 10 P.M., hauled in a little from 13½ to 12 fathoms, directly after she had 11 fathoms, and steered N.N.E.; next cast 10½ fathoms, steered N.E., the next cast had 8½ fathoms, and in hauling out to the Eastward, the ship struck upon a rock and soon bilged, had 6 fathoms under the bow, 6½ a little way ahead, 5½ under the stern, and 4½ at the main chains. From the wreck observed latitude 12° 43′ N., two of the Seven Pagodas bearing S.W., and the extremes of the land from North to S. by W., off shore about 4 miles. The Nancy, Captain Jamison, which anchored near us, to assist in saving the treasure, had two cables cut by the foul ground; and H.M.S. Sea-horse near her, parted a cable."

Note.—Mariners should therefore be specially careful, when navigating between Sadras and Covelong, not to proceed under 13 fathoms, as between those places dangerous outlying patches of rock extend some distance seaward.

Such inspection shall have no reference to religious instruction, but only to secular education.

136. Should the inspecting or examining officer referred to in the last preceding rule discover that the instruction or discipline in any school aided by a District Board is not efficient, or that the accounts are not properly kept, or that any of the conditions on which grants are made are not observed, he shall report the matter to the District Board. Should the Board on such reference omit to take the necessary action, a further reference may be made by the inspecting or examining officer to the Magistrate of the district, or to the Director in the way provided in Rule 125 above.

149. Every Union Committee school shall be liable to inspection and examination by officers of the Educational Department, by the Commissioner of the Division, and by the Magistrate of the district.

150. PART VI.

Bills introduced into the Council of the Governor General for making Laws and Regulations, or published under Rule 22.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

[Third publication.]

The following Bill was introduced into the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 5th February, 1886, and was referred to a Select Committee, with instructions to submit their Report within one month:—

NO. 2 OF 1886.

A Bill to amend the law relating to Government Securities.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the law relating to Government securities in manner hereinafter appearing; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title and commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Indian Securities Act, 1886; and

(2) It shall come into force at once.

Act to be read with Act XIX of 1885.

2. It shall be read with, and taken as part of, the Indian Securities Act, 1885, as amended by this Act.

XIX of 1885.

Repeal of part of section 3, Act XIX of 1885.

3. The words "issued before the first day of April, 1886," in section 3, sub-section (1), of the Indian Securities Act, 1885, are hereby repealed.

XIX of 1885.

Holding of Government securities by holders for the time being of public offices.

4. (1) In the case of any public office to which the Governor General in Council may, from time to time, by notification in the Gazette of India, declare this section to apply, a Government security may be made, or indorsed, payable to, or to the order of, the holder for the time being of the office.

(2) When a Government security is made or indorsed as aforesaid, it shall be deemed to be transferred without any or further indorsement from each holder for the time being of the office to the succeeding holder for the time being of the office from the date on which the latter takes charge of the office.

(3) When the holder for the time being of the office indorses to a third party a Government security made or indorsed as aforesaid, he shall subscribe the indorsement with his name and the title of his office.

Prohibition of indorsements on allonges to Government securities.

5. Notwithstanding anything in section 15 of the Negotiable Instruments Act, 1881, the holder of a Government security shall not be said to indorse the security, or be called the indorser thereof, if, when he signs the same for the purpose of negotiation, he inscribes his signature for that purpose elsewhere than on the back of the security itself. XXVI of 1881.

Power of Governor General in Council to make rules.

6. The Governor General in Council may, from time to time, make rules to prescribe—

(a) the mode in which payment of interest in respect of Government securities is to be recorded and acknowledged; and

(b) the circumstances under which Government securities must be renewed before further payment of interest thereon can be claimed.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

IN paragraph 5 of the Report submitted in October last by the Select Committee on the Bill which became Act XIX of 1885, it was stated that the question of applying the rule of survivorship to Government securities issued after as well as before the first day of April, 1886, would be further considered during the Calcutta session. The question has now been fully discussed, and the Government of India has decided to propose the maintenance of the rule of survivorship which has hitherto obtained. Effect will be given to this decision by the repeal of the words in section 3, sub-section (f), Act XIX of 1885, which restrict the operation of that section to Government securities issued before the first day of April, 1886.

2. By sections 4 and 5 it is proposed to introduce into the law relating to Government securities provisions (a) enabling holders for the time being of public offices to hold those securities, and (b) prohibiting the making of indorsements on allonges annexed to them.

Section 4 of the Bill, in providing that Government securities may be made and indorsed payable to the holder for the time being of an office, follows the Bills of Exchange Act, 1882 (45 & 46 Vic., c. 61), and will put an end to the public inconvenience which is caused by the present uncertainty as to the state of the law in India.

As regards section 5, the risk of fraud which attends the practice of writing indorsements upon allonges is held to justify the prohibition of annexing them to instruments which, like Government securities, are readily renewable.

3. Section 6 merely empowers the Governor General in Council to make authoritative rules for the maintenance of existing practice with respect to the record and acknowledgment of payment of interest and to the renewal of securities which have become covered with indorsements.

Proceedings of the Council of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations.

Present:

HIS HONOR the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, President.
The HON. G. C. PAUL, Advocate-General.
The HON. H. J. REYNOLDS.
The HON. A. P. MACDONNELL.
COLONEL the HON. S. T. TREVOR, R.E.
The HON. C. B. GARRETT.
The HON. H. L. HARRISON.
The HON. RAI JOY PROKASH LALL, BAHADOOR.
The HON. G. IRVING.
The HON. D. CRUICKSHANK.
The HON. ANUNDO MOHUN BOSE.

CANOONGOES AND PATWARIES.

THE HON. MR. MACDONNELL, in moving that the Hon. Mr. Cruickshank be appointed to the Select Committee on the Bill to amend and consolidate the law relating to Canoongoes and Putwaries, said:—The reason why

I make this motion is that it is understood that the Hon. Banbehary Kapoor will be unable to attend the meetings of the Select Committee, and that we hope to obtain valuable assistance in discussing the Bill from my hon. friend Mr. Cruickshank because of his connection with the great indigo industry in Behar. I may take advantage of this opportunity to state briefly the course which I propose to adopt in connection with the Bill. Hon'ble members will recollect that the Bill was introduced into this Council on the 14th February last, on which occasion a debate was raised on its principle and a division taken: the result of the discussion was favourable to the principle of the Bill, which was then referred to a Select Committee. The Select Committee has not yet met for two reasons. The first reason was that it was the wish of the Bengal Government—a wish to which I gave expression in my speech when introducing the measure—that the fullest opportunity should be afforded to every person interested in the measure to criticise its provisions. The next reason was that Her Majesty's Secretary of State had expressed a wish to consider the Bill and the arguments which were adduced in support of it. More than a year has now elapsed since the Bill was introduced into the Council, and during that time we have received a large body of very valuable criticisms upon it from officials and non-officials, and the Secretary of State has also considered it. I consider that the main principles of the Bill have passed satisfactorily through the ordeal to which they have been exposed, though the necessity for modifications in details and of a cautious application of the principles themselves has come home to us through the criticisms to which I have referred. These are points which I hope to lay before the Select Committee for thorough discussion. It now becomes a question of proceeding with the Bill, and what in this respect I now propose to do is to invite the members of the Select Committee to meet twice a week until we are able to present our report. This I am in hope that we shall be able to do in about three weeks' time.

The motion was put and agreed to.

The Council was adjourned to Saturday, the 6th March 1886.

THE CANAL REVENUE REPORTS FOR 1884-85 AND THE CHIEF ENGINEER'S NOTE ON THE SAME.

No. 328*I.A.*

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL, PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

Irrigation.

Dated Calcutta, the 20th February 1886.

READ—

The Canal Revenue Reports for 1884-85 and the Chief Engineer's note on the same.

THE total outlay, direct and indirect, to the close of the year 1884-85 on canals in Bengal has been Rs. 6,77,31,843. Of this sum, Rs. 7,00,000 have been contributed by the Imperial Government from the Famine Protective grant, Rs. 82,61,636 have been provided from Provincial revenues, and Rs. 5,79,91,992 have been charged to Loan funds, interest on which is chargeable to the province. In addition to the sums mentioned above, Rs. 7,78,255 have been expended on surveys for irrigation works which have not been carried out.

2. There are now in actual operation in Bengal 699¾ miles of canal, of which 489 miles are navigable. The total area commanded by these canals is 25,17,552 acres, of which 483,243 acres, producing crops of the estimated value of Rs. 1,21,82,304, were irrigated during the current year. The number of boats plying in the canals during the year was 90,515, and 776,564 tons of goods of an approximate value of Rs. 2,73,50,552 were carried. The Sarun Canals, in which the area commanded can only be imperfectly irrigated, and the Calcutta and Eastern Canals, which are mostly composed of canalized rivers, have been excluded in taking out the above figures.

3. The receipts from, and expenditure on, the canals in operation for the last three years are given in the statement following :—

NAME OF CANAL.	1884-85.		1883-84.		1882-83.

4. The net income for the year was therefore Rs. 3,34,722. Interest amounting to Rs. 22,12,626 was however payable to the Imperial Government, so that there was a deficit of Rs. 18,77,904 to be met from Provincial revenues.

The revenue for the same years under the three main heads into which the receipts are divided is shown below :—

Head.	1884-85.	1883-84.	1882-83.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Water-rates	9,46,808	7,49,122	8,67,118

Miscellaneous	1,17,593	77,893	1,07,416
Total ...	18,86,588	17,56,983	18,99,950

5. The arrears of water-rates outstanding at the close of each of the last three years is shown in the statement following :—

Names of Canals.	1st April 1885.	1st April 1884.	1st April 1883.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Orissa Canals	77,869	52,203	1,21,647
Midnapore Canal	1,11,212	1,44,691	1,42,476
Sone Canals	6,95,208	4,23,793	3,11,665
Sarun „	40,022	25,218	26,845
Total ...	9,24,311	6,45,905	6,02,633

Compared with 1883-84, the receipts of the year show an improvement of Rs. 1,29,605, wholly due to the increased water-rates received from the Sone Canals. There is a decrease of nearly one lakh of rupees in the revenue derived from the Orissa Canals, and a small falling off in the receipts from the Midnapore and Tidal Canals.

6. The increased receipts are more than counterbalanced by increased working expenses, chiefly due to the biennial silt clearance of the Western Main Canal and to renewing iron girders on some of the bridges of the Calcutta Canals.

7. There has been a considerable increase in the balance of water-rates in arrears, chiefly under the head "Sone Canals." A large part of the arrears, though due, is not, however, legally recoverable until after the close of the year, and a still more considerable proportion represents the current kharif demand, which only became payable two months before its close. Taking, however, arrears of former years only, there is an increase of Rs. 1,49,857 in the outstandings, which is not satisfactory. The Lieutenant-Governor is not, however, disposed with an increasing assessment to regard a small increase in the arrear balance of the last preceding year as indicating careless administration. The arrears shown above extend from 1878-79, and the total assessment from that year to the end of 1884-85 has amounted to Rs. 45,60,645. It is certain that from various causes a percentage of the demand will be irrecoverable. The persons liable are nearly in every case cultivators of small means, and with upwards of 50,000 of these it is inevitable that some should escape. The increase in arrears in Sarun, which should not have been allowed to occur, has since been reduced.

8. In the table following the areas irrigated since 1882-83 are detailed:—

		1884-85.	1883-84.	1882-83.
		Acres.	Acres.	Acres.
Orissa ...	Kharif	54,181	47,035	128,530
	Rabi	2,994	1,381	4,100
	Perennial	197	344	398
	Total ...	57,372	48,760	133,028

	Total ...	356,577	350,614	173 824
	Grand Total ...	483,243	497,293	408,791

9. In the province, as a whole, there has been a small falling off in the area irrigated, which has occurred in that commanded by the Midnapore Canal: it may be accepted that the limit of area likely to be irrigated in the present state of the canal was nearly reached in 1882-83, and that the area leased will fall short of this in years, such as the present, when the rainfall is favourable. The irrigation from the Orissa Canals is, despite a small increase over the year preceding, disappointing. The recommendations of the Commission which sat last December to consider the complaints made are now being considered, and it may confidently be hoped that a steady improvement will ensue when the uncertainty and disturbing causes noticed in the Chief Engineer's note have been removed. It is perhaps desirable to add that, during the year now passing, there has been a slight further improvement, and that the remedy for the present low returns is certainly not to be found in indiscriminately leasing small areas, the evils of which are forcibly referred to in the Chief Engineer's remarks on the Sone Canal irrigation, and which was stopped in Orissa in 1872. In Behar (the Sone Canals) there is a large increase in the area under five years' lease, and nearly the whole of the water-supply which can be made available is required for the area at present irrigated in the kharif season. Further returns from these canals depend on—firstly, the full demand being collected; secondly, on a greater area being irrigated with the supply of water available—in other words, more economy being exercised in distribution; and thirdly, on the extension of rabi irrigation. All these matters demand the closest attention of responsible officers The Chief Engineer adverts to the low duty obtained from the Eastern Main and Patna Canals, and no efforts should be spared to bring these canals up to the standard secured in the others comprised in the same project.

10. There has been a falling off in the returns from navigation, partly owing to Government having ceased, as far as possible, from having any direct connection with the transport service in accordance with the policy which was referred to in the resolution for 1883-84, and which has been pursued for some years past. The steamer line between Cuttack and Bhuddruck is the only one at present directly managed by public officers, and the Government steamers will be withdrawn from it so soon as there is a prospect of the service being efficiently maintained by a private company. The steamer services maintained by private enterprise on the Kendrapara, Midnapore, Patna, Arrah, and Buxar Canals are reported to be efficient and to meet the public convenience.

The decrease in tollage in Orissa is due to a reduction on the tolls, averaging 40 per cent.; in Midnapore there is a slight increase; whilst in Hidgellee there is a considerable falling off, owing partly to the canal having been closed for two months, and partly to the depth of water in the canal having in places throughout the year been so shallow through silt deposits that large boats could not pass. The remodelling of this canal is an urgent matter, as it forms the first section of the Orissa Coast Canal, which, it is expected, will be opened for traffic in July next.

11. The tollage collections from the various canals for the last three years are given in the table following:—

Year.	Orissa.	Midnapore.	Hidgellee.	Sone.	Calcutta Canals.	Total.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
1882-83	66,736	1,06,157	43,694	39,304	5,33,722	7,89,613
1883-84	61,602	1,08,931	62,317	48,032	5,24,752	8,05,634
1884-85	52,784	1,19,797	41,382	37,335	5,08,466	7,59,764

12. The Lieutenant-Governor notices with regret the early death of Mr. F. M. S. Douglas, late Executive Engineer, Arrah Division, an officer of much promise, who showed a special aptitude for canal revenue administration.

13. The late date at which the revenue reports were submitted by some Superintending Engineers is commented on in the Chief Engineer's note. A further period of fourteen days has been allowed for their preparation, and Sir Rivers Thompson expects that in future they will be submitted with complete punctuality.

Order.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution, and of the note and its accompaniments, be submitted to the Government of India in the Public Works Department for information; also that copies be forwarded to the Appointment, Revenue, and Financial Departments of this Government; the Board of Revenue, Lower Provinces; the Commissioners of the Presidency, Burdwan, Patna, and Orissa Divisions; the Collectors of the 24-Pergunnahs, Hooghly, Midnapore, Burdwan, Patna, Shahabad, Gya, Cuttack, and Balasore; the Superintending Engineers of the Orissa, South-Western, and Sone Circles; and the Examiner of Public Works Accounts, Bengal, for information.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

There has been an increase of six miles in the length of canals in operation, due to the opening of the Gobri Extension Canal, by which 32,000 acres has been added to the area commanded. The area provided with distributaries is 6,500 acres in excess of that so shown last year, owing to the completion of 1·66 miles of distributaries taking off from the Machgong canal.

14. The area irrigated without authority was 1,938 acres only, against 21,801 acres shown in the previous year's report as coming under this head. The Superintending Engineer attributes the decrease partly to the increased area leased, partly to careful supervision, and chiefly perhaps to the fact that irrigation was not required. The rainfall was somewhat scanty, but well distributed throughout the kharif season, in the critical months of September and October, being well up to the average; in October it was greater than that of 1883-84 by 1·75 inches, and the falling off in surreptitious irrigation, which usually occurs at this time, is said to be due to this favourable circumstance. The area assessed is again gradually increasing though slowly, low prices, fairly plentiful rainfall, and possible changes in the water-rates, all having some effect in inducing the cultivators to refrain from executing leases as long as possible.

15. The whole subject of the assessment and collection of water-rates was considered by a commission which sat in Cuttack in the cold weather of 1884. An exhaustive report has been presented, and is now under the consideration of Government.

16. The assessments of the year on account of water-rates amounted to Rs. 82,185, the balance at its commencement was Rs. 52,203, making a total of Rs. 1,34,388. Of this sum Rs. 5,274 was remitted, and Rs. 51,245 realized, leaving a balance of Rs. 77,869 outstanding on the 31st March 1885. It is stated that "the fact that the Deputy Superintendent was powerless to enforce his own assessments, accounts for such unsatisfactory results." As legal assessments can be recovered under the certificate procedure, it cannot be admitted that the short realizations are fairly attributable to this cause. A special officer has since been deputed to dispose of the long standing certificates, and considerable progress has been made, but the sitting of the Canal Commission, and the general impression which got abroad, and no doubt still largely exists, that an immediate and important reduction of rates was about to be made, have operated to prevent the taking of fresh leases. The general uncertainty which must exist until final orders have issued on the report of the Commission cannot but have an unfavourable effect on the collections as well as on the execution of new leases.

17. There has been, compared with the previous year, a considerable falling off in the duty obtained from the water utilized—the table below showing an average duty of 66·33 acres only per cubic foot of water utilized against 90·25 acres obtained in 1883-84:—

NOTE.—On the quantity of water entering which is to a considerable extent determined by the requirements for navigation the duty per cubic foot per second is $\frac{51212}{1265}$ = 39·85 acres.

No explanation of this falling off is given, but the Superintending Engineer remarks that the months of June, July, and November should be excluded from the calculations, and that calculated in this way the duty for the Kendraparah canal is reduced to 55 acres per cubic foot, which he considers to be the practical duty now obtained from water on the Orissa canals. In former years under any system of calculation much better results have been obtained, and it is hoped that an improvement in this respect will be recorded in the report for the current year. Of the irrigation, 3·97 per cent. was by lift and the remainder by flow.

18. Experiments to ascertain the value of irrigation to the crops were carried out, the average difference in its favour on the money value of the produce being Rs. 6·06 in the Mahanuddy Division and Rs. 4·34 in the Brahminee-Byturnee Division. Details regarding these experiments will be found in paragraph 20 of the Superintending Engineer's report.

19. The receipts under the head "Navigation" amounted to Rs. 79,802, of which Rs. 27,018 were on account of the earnings of the transport service, and Rs. 52,784 from tolls on boats. The collections for 10 years under the above heads are given in the table below:—

	Tolls.	Transport service.	Total.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
1875-76	16,377	Nil	16,377

1883-84	61,602	48,550	1,10,152
1884-85	52,784	27,018	79,802

20. It will be noticed that, compared with the previous year, there has been a decrease of Rs. 8,818 in the tollage receipts, and of Rs. 21,532 in the earnings of the transport service. The decreased revenue is, however, not due to any falling off in the traffic, which has in fact increased, but as regards tollage receipts to a revision of the rates of toll, involving a reduction of upwards of 40 per cent. on those previously charged, and as regards transport earnings to the fact of Government steamers on the Kendraparah canal having been withdrawn in favour of private companies, who have provided steamers of their own.

21. The length of navigable canal open at the close of the year, as shown in the Superintending Engineer's report, is 170½ miles. In this length, however, six miles of the Gobri Extension canal, which was not formally open for traffic until the 5th June 1885, are included. Through communication was not established until the date mentioned nor tolls charged, so that it is obviously proper to exclude the six miles mentioned in the statistical returns of tollage.

22. The earnings of the year under the head "Navigation" amounted to Rs. 77,780 against Rs. 1,07,147 in 1883-84. In that year, however, the higher scale of tollage was in force until the 1st of December, and during 1884-85 there were no receipts from the transport service on the Kendrapara canal after October, in which month Government steamers ceased to ply.

23. In the two following tables the result of the year's operations are contrasted with that preceding, the figures are based on assessments, which, however, do not differ materially from the collections:—

There is a considerable and satisfactory increase in the number and tonnage of the boats not employed on account of Government.

24. The cost of the establishment employed on working the locks was Rs. 8,379 against Rs. 8,603 so expended in 1883-84.

25. The Superintending Engineer observes, paragraphs 36 and 37 of his report, that Rs. 37,560, the tollage receipts from private traffic on the Kendrapara canal are sufficient to pay working expenses, and 4 per cent. interest on all special navigation works, which he calculates at Rs. 36,361; he adds that this canal "has created a trade between Cuttack and the Sea Coast of 86,000 tons per annum, and a passenger traffic of 32,693 persons, which is steadily increasing, and it is to the indirect results from the extension of trade and its development by private enterprise that Government must chiefly look for a return from the capital invested on these canals."

26. The actual receipts for the year credited to the transport service amounted to Rs. 27,018 against Rs. 48,550 in 1883-84, the cost of working was Rs. 19,572, so that there was a profit of Rs. 7,446. Two steamers plied for eight months, and one for four months only.

It was stated in last year's report that the policy of Government was to withdraw, as soon as possible, from all direct connection with the transport service; the Cuttack-Chandbally line, in which it has been demonstrated that a service can be profitably maintained is now entirely in the hands of three private companies, and the Aurora will be taken off the Cuttack-Bhuddruck line so soon as it is apparent that an efficient service will be kept up by private enterprise.

27. The miscellaneous receipts for the year amounted to Rs. 12,538, showing a decrease of Rs. 3,322 compared with that previous. The table following shows these receipts by sub-heads for the years mentioned:—

Source of Revenue.	Year in which received.		Difference.

Indirect charges amounting to Rs. 13,629 must be added to the figures noted above, the result of the year's operations being a loss on these canals—excluding interest of Rs. 1,85,781 against Rs. 67,662 in 1883-84, and Rs. 35,271 in the previous year.

This very disappointing result is mainly owing to the low receipts, the working expenses being only Rs. 23,047 in excess of those incurred in the year preceding.

30. The expenditure on works only was Rs. 1,89,780 against Rs. 1,66,238 in 1883-84. A comparative statement showing the distribution of the cost of maintenance for the principal works follows :—

Head.	1883-84.	1884-85.	Increase.	Decrease.

Total ...	1,66,238	1,89,780	26,412	2,870

The increase under 'Head Works' is wholly due to the cost of repairing the damages sustained by the Pattia weir in the floods of 1884, the expenditure on that work during the year under review was Rs. 18,904 in excess of that incurred in the year preceding. There was a slight decrease in the cost of maintenance of the remaining weirs, but the large excess noted above has raised the average cost of maintenance, per foot run, from Rs. 2·70 in 1883-84 to Rs. 3·14 in 1884-85.

The table following shows the expenditure for the last three years by canals, the extra cost of repairs during 1884-85 is due to the construction of new gates for the Marsaghai Lock :—

Last year the area under irrigation showed a decrease of 3,718 acres compared with that previous, and in 1884-85 there has been a further falling off of 28,625 acres.

34. The following table shows the rainfall for the three years referred to:—

Station.	Rainfall, 1882-83.	Rainfall, 1883-84.	Rainfall, 1884-85.	Remarks.
Midnapore	66·04	43·61	54·98	Average of 16 years previous to 1884-85, 54·21 inches.
Panchcoorah... ...	51·59	51·92	48·84	Average of 15 years previous, 51·06.
Contai	61·01	60·31	77·30

35. It will be noticed that at Midnapore the rainfall was slightly in excess of the average, and the Superintending Engineer remarks that in the year under review the rains were timely and sufficient, and the cultivators were able to secure their crops independently of irrigation. In July, when leases are usually entered into, the rainfall at Midnapore was 22·64 inches against 10·82 in the year preceding, and in October, which is the critical time when the crop ripens, 5·64 inches against 0·32. The average falls in these months are 11·86 and 5·36 inches respectively. The consequence of the favourable rainfall was that out of leases for 43,593 acres, which lapsed during the year, those for 14,968 acres only were renewed. Of the area irrigated, 98 acres only were by lift and 65,997 acres were under five-year leases, and 18 acres under annual leases. The unauthorized irrigation, which is not included in the foregoing figures amounted to 3,181 acres.

36. The duty obtained from the water utilized was 125 acres for the area commanded by the Midnapore, and 81 acres for the area commanded by the Panchcoorah weir, against 208 acres and 81 acres per cubic foot obtained in 1883. The Superintending Engineer observes that—

"The distribution of water under the Midnapore weir was not conducted with the same rigid economy as in the previous year, nor is this surprising, as in 1883-84 the most rigid economy had to be exercised owing to the short supply of water and the excessive demand for it."

It must, however, not be lost sight of that with a sufficient rainfall the same quantity of canal water would not be required: ordinarily in a season like the one under review, the duty obtained should be higher than when there is a scanty rainfall.

37. The Superintending Engineer quotes a lengthy extract from the report of the Executive Engineer, Cossye Division, on the method in which the canal discharges have been calculated. The results are of doubtful value, and it is clear from the remarks made that the instructions given in letter No. 8T—I, dated 13th May 1882, have been either imperfectly apprehended, or not sufficiently attended to. The most important point on which information is required is the duty calculated on the quantity of water entering the canal, and to admit of this being given with approximate accuracy, actual daily observations with mean velocity rods of the discharge about one mile below the head-sluices at Midnapore and Panchcoorah are necessary. Arrangements will be made for their being taken in future from July to October

38. The assessments during the year on account of water-rates amounted to Rs. 1,22,321, the balance due on the 1st of April was Rs. 1,44,691, making a total of Rs. 2,67,012. Of this amount Rs. 1,16,807 was realised and Rs. 38,993 remitted or written off as being irrecoverable, leaving a balance due at the close of the year of Rs. 1,11,212. Of the balance Rs. 52,165 is on account of assessments of the year under review, and Rs. 59,047 arrears of previous years. The Commissioner states that of the balance due on account of arrears of previous years, remission can, under the rules in force, be claimed for Rs. 28,419, and that this sum was included in an application made to Government for sanction to write off water-rates amounting to Rs. 31,431, orders on which were deferred pending the receipt of further information. The arrears for years previous to 1882-83, amounting to Rs. 3,840 according to the Examiner's account, have been remitted, so that the balance of undisputed arrears has been reduced to moderate dimensions.

The large remissions which Government has been from time to time asked to sanction appear to a very great extent due to needless delay in collections The present Collector writes—

"The first is the delay in filing certificates for arrears. As stated above, the demand fell due in February, but the practice in the Canal Office for some years past has been to take no coersive steps for realization till December....."

The whole matter has been urgently pressed on the notice of the Commissioner and it is hoped that there will be in future a marked improvement.

39. Experiments on the yield of irrigated and unirrigated crops were carried out in 1,103 different places. The results of these and of the experiments carried out in the two preceding years are shown in the table below :—

The large yield on unirrigated land was in consequence of the favourable season, which has previously been noticed.

40. The receipts for the year under the head "Navigation" amounted to Rs. 1,28,747, of which Rs 1,19,797 was received from tolls on boats and Rs. 8,950 from the Calcutta Steam Navigation Company on account of hire of steamers and compounded tolls. Compared with the preceding year, there is an increase of Rs. 8,167 on the gross receipts, though the reduced tolls mentioned in last year's revenue report had effect throughout the year instead of during four months only.

42. The first reach of the Midnapore canal was closed for silt clearance and repairs from the 1st to the 21st of February 1885. The steamer service between Calcutta and Midnapore continues to be worked by the Calcutta Steam Navigation Company, Limited, and appears to meet the public convenience. The number of passengers and weight of goods carried both show an increase. There has been a steady increase in the tollage receipts since 1880-81, and both in that respect, and in the tonnage of boats, the traffic in 1884-85 has surpassed any year to date.

43. The amount received under the head "Miscellaneous" during the year was Rs. 12,401. Of this sum Rs. 11,628 was received by the Deputy Revenue Superintendent, and Rs. 773 by the Executive Engineer.

44. The statements below show the receipts on revenue account and the working expenses since 1875-76:—

45. To the working expenses shown above, indirect charges debitable to revenue amounting to Rs. 8,741 must be added, the net earnings for the year being Rs. 26,040 against Rs. 40,990 in 1883-84.

This unfavourable result is partly due to the decreased receipts under the head "W ter-rates," consequent on the favourable rainfall, and partly to the increased expenditure on repairs and revenue establishment. The extra cost of the latter is mainly due to the commission now paid to headmen, which, for the year under review, aggregated Rs. 4,781 against Rs. 425 in the previous year. The Sub-Deputy Collector is no longer employed, so that in this respect there will be a decrease in 1885-86; but the payment of commission was deliberately resolved on, and the extra cost of this measure must be accepted. The increased expenditure under the head "Repairs and Maintenance" was almost wholly due to the larger quantity of silt removed from the main canal.

46. The table below shows the cost of maintaining the canal and distributaries for each of the last five years:—

Year.	Main canal.			Distributaries.
	Length of canal.	Total cost of works.	Rate per mile.	Length of distributary channels.	Total cost of works.	Rate per mile.
	Miles.	Rs.	Rs.	Miles.	Rs.	Rs.

1884-85	48	1,15,171	2.399	277	18,365	66

47. The expenditure on distributaries shows a satisfactory decrease compared with last year's rate. It is still, however, in excess of what is found necessary elsewhere, and requires the careful attention of the responsible officers. It is possible that the comparison is to some extent vitiated by the Narainghur navigable channel being classed as a distributary. This canal has a discharge of 240 cubic feet per second at its head and 5 locks, and is accordingly quite out of its proper classification when included amongst distributaries, in which class it might possibly fairly have remained before being remodelled and rendered navigable.

The dredging operations of the year have not been successful. The expenditure has increased from Rs. 47,351 in 1883-84 to Rs. 54 621 in 1884-85, whilst the quantity of silt excavated has diminished from 45 lakhs of cubic feet to 31 in the same period. The cause of the increased cost is stated to be that there was an extra dredger to keep up, that the steam had to be used more for towing purposes, and that the Hector's ropes and other gear had to be renewed. The unsatisfactory result of the year's work is apparently chiefly due to the dredgers frequently breaking down, the three chief dredgers Hector, Ajax, and Atlas being under repair for 567 days in the aggregate. The Superintending Engineer notes that the Ajax and Atlas worked under unfavourable conditions as regards depth of water, which affected their daily outturn. A special report on the matter is promised. Particulars regarding the cost and outturn of work for each particular dredger for the year and that previous will be found in the table below:—

49. This canal is not used for irrigation; the revenue is entirely derived from navigation tolls and miscellaneous receipts. Compared with the previous year, there has been a falling off in the gross revenue of Rs. 20,083 due entirely to diminished receipts from tolls, the miscellanous revenue being in excess of that received in 1883-84. There was also a decrease in the expenditure which amounted to Rs. 36,886 against Rs. 46,581 expended in the previous year. The net revenue exclusive of indirect charges, was, as shown above Rs. 6,621 against Rs. 17,009 in 1883-84

50. The decreased receipts is thus explained by the Executive Engineer—

"I should have given as a reason for the falling off of the tolls on the Hidgellee Tidal Canal during 1884-85, not only that the second range was closed during February and March, but that in consequence of the canal having been silted more or less at the Kallynagore end for the whole year, the passage of heavy boats (by which rice can most economically be exported) was hindered. As far as I can ascertain, there was another reason, viz. that the price of rice ruled lower in the Calcutta market than during the previous year, and consequently the export trade fell off."

The canal was closed from the 26th January to the 15th May 1885.

52. It will be noticed that there has been a decrease in every item of traffic, except fuel and building materials. The tonnage carried by each boat has also decreased owing to the depth of water in the canal not having been sufficient for heavily laden boats to pass through.

53. The expenditure on maintenance was Rs. 26,862, or Rs. 505 per mile, against Rs. 32,994 expended in the previous year. The decrease is wholly in the item silt clearing, which cost Rs. 12,718 against Rs. 23,706 debited against this head in 1883-84.

54. Until the long and frequent closures now necessary can be dispensed with, and a uniform depth of water maintained in the canal, material increase in its earnings cannot be expected. Silt is becoming yearly more and more a serious item in the cost of maintaining canals in Bengal, most especially so in those connected with tidal reaches. In the early years of the existence of this canal, the formidable difficulty and cost of silt clearing was not appreciated, and the canal was left so unprotected from the ordinary influx and efflux of the tides that the channel has been in some places almost entirely silted up. Extensive improvements are urgently required on this canal, for which an estimate, amounting to Rs. 10,39,571, is now ready, and will shortly be submitted for the orders of the Government of India.

55. The tables below show the receipts and working expenses of this canal for the last ten years:—

During the year there was no addition to the lengths of canals, but 53¾ miles of distributaries were completed

59. Of the area under command 1,361,151 acres are, as nearly as can be ascertained, cultivated or culturable. The area which can be irrigated is obtained by assuming a duty of 80 acres per cubic foot per second of discharge for kharif, and 180 acres for rabi cultivation. The maximum discharge is allowed for the kharif season, and 3,000 cubic feet per second, which is the average quantity available for the rabi season It was explained in last year's report that in dry years not more than 456,000 acres of kharif and 336,240 acres of rabi irrigation could be counted on.

60. The usual table showing the progress made with village channels follows :—

	Total length of village channels completed.	Area commanded.	Total number of outlets	Number of permanent outlets.
	Miles.	Acres.	No.	No.

Total, 1883-84 ...	1,361	342,231	5,825	407

Of the channels 141 miles were carried out by Government officers under the provisions of Act III (B.C.) of 1876 and 39 miles were under construction on the 1st of April 1885. There has been, it will be seen, considerable progress made in providing permanent outlets, except in the Eastern Sone Division.

61. The water-rate assessments for the year and that preceding are shown below:—

62. Last year it was noticed that the area irrigated was in excess of any year to date, and it is satisfactory to find that further progress has been made, notwithstanding a considerable falling off in the hot weather irrigation due to the western main series of canals having been closed for silt-clearance during the months of April, May, and June. There has been a large increase in the area under five year leases, which the Superintending Engineer remarks "are increasing in favour, especially in places where the land, whether altogether suitable or not, can be cultivated with kharif crops." These areas are divided in the statement below between kharif and rabi, in the proportions followed last year:—

	1883-84.	1884-85.

64. The rainfall during the year was below the average, and as regards locality was very unequally distributed—a fact which will be apparent from the following table extracted from the Superintending Engineer's report, showing the total fall at various stations for the months of August, September, and October :—

66. The rainfall in October enabled the greater part of the rabi to be sown without irrigation, and a fall varying from 0·25 inches in the Eastern Sone to 0·65 inches in the Buxar Division in January prevented canal water becoming a necessity later in the season. There is always a strong indisposition to take water for rabi crops, unless the rainfall in October is scanty. In 1883-84, when there was considerable extension of rabi irrigation, the rainfall in October varied in the different divisions between 0·68 and 0·81 inches.

68. The total area leased was 287,445 acres, of which 145,094 was under five years and 142,351 under annual agreements. The area under annual lease as measured by the patrols amounted to 200,017 acres, and as measured by the ameens to 220 506 acres, some of which was subsequently included in five-years leases.

69. In the table following the areas leased and irrigated during the last five years are given :—

70. There is some improvement in the proportion of the area irrigated, for which leases had previously been granted, and the progress of the five-year lease system is noticeable.

71. The proportion of flow to lift irrigation was 93 to 7; in 1883-84 it was 90 to 10.

72. So far it has been assumed that the areas assessed correspond with those irrigated during the year. This, however, is not strictly correct, there being a considerable difference in the Arrah Division in the item rabi irrigation, and for the calculation of duty the area actually irrigated has been taken, though in the statistical tables prescribed by the Government of India, which follow, it has been calculated on the area assessed to correspond with the other forms. The additional area of irrigation taken into account is 14,074 acres.

73. In the kharif season the quantity of water available is limited. From the Western Main series of canals, at any rate, the area under irrigation is in dry years like 1883-84 dependent on the discharging power of the canal, and there is no impropriety in calculating the duty on the actual quantity of water entering the canal. In the rabi season the case is different, the quantity of water available is far in excess of the demand, and the discharge is more dependent on the requirements for navigation and miscellaneous purposes than on the quantity of water required for the crops, the duty calculated on the discharge utilized is therefore of most value as indicating the irrigating power of the canal in that season. Calculated as indicated, the duty given by the Superintending Engineer, paragraph 16 of his report, is as follows :—

	Kharif area in acres.	Rabi area in acres.	Average discharge entering canals, kharif season.	Average discharge utilised, rabi season.	Kharif season duty. Cubic feet per acre.	Rabi season duty. Cubic feet per acre.
Eastern Main series of canals ...	59,336	12,717	1,312·38	351·71	45·21	36·15
Western ditto	204,445	102,080	2,808	740	72·8	137·94

74. The Superintending Engineer makes the following remarks on the very low duty obtained from the Eastern Main canal—

"The duty obtained from the Western Main series of canals is much higher than that so far secured from the Eastern Main series. This is partly due to the very long distributaries which are the rule in Patna and Gya, which not only legitimately consume more water than is required with the shorter distributaries general in Shahabad, but also afford more opportunities for unauthorized irrigation. The matter, however, requires very close attention. The difference of situation by no means explains the wide variation in results, and it does not appear that assessments in the Arrah and Buxar divisions are imposed under less stringent conditions than are exacted in the Eastern Sone division. So far as can be judged from the remission statements received by the Superintending Engineer, a contrary tendency is observable, water-rates having in some cases been assessed in the Eastern Sone Division on evidence which should not have been accepted as a sufficient warrant."

75. It is obviously necessary to localize the waste ; when this is done the remedial measures necessary can be determined on. The Superintending Engineer will be directed to have such observation taken during the current year as will admit of the matter being thoroughly investigated.

76. The total demand for the year, including the balance due on the 1st of April, amounted to Rs. 15,39,192. Of this sum Rs. 7,70,359 was collected and Rs. 73,625 remitted, leaving Rs. 6,95,208 outstanding at the close of the year. Of the remissions Rs. 65,571 was the amount remitted by the Executive Engineers on account of incorrect assessments and Rs. 8,054 that written off by civil officers, as being irrecoverable. Of the remissions made by the Executive Engineers, Rs. 44,237 were on account of the assessments of 1883-84 ; in last year's report it was explained that owing to a breach in the main canal and the character of the season, the Lieutenant-Governor had sanctioned extensive remissions on grounds not provided for in the rules. Assessments withdrawn from any cause, for instance, demand statements on annual permits superseded by five-year leases, are at present shown as remissions. The accounts will from the commencement of the year 1886-87 be modified to show such cases which are not in reality remissions, as a reduction of the original assessment. The Superintending Engineer states that the actual amount remitted on account "of want of proof of irrigation, or to the person charged not being legally liable" was Rs. 5,134.

77. The following extract from the Superintending Engineer's report is deserving of attention.

"The provisions of the law, sections 79 and 80 of Act III (B.C.) of 1876, are exceedingly stringent, and it is only in particular cases that persons who benefit by the unauthorized use of canal water can be made to pay for it. Aharas are very numerous in the district, and constant endeavours to fill them with canal water and to irrigate therefrom are made, in which case it is generally impossible to levy water-rates on the land benefited, and practically very often no return for the water thus utilized can be recovered. At certain periods it is necessary for cultivators to dry (neegar) their lands, and the water drained off is utilized by their neighbours whose crops are more backward. There does not appear to be any practicable remedy for this, except to refuse leases as far as possible where lands not leased must benefit in the way described."

Permits should certainly be refused in cases where land beyond the leased area will certainly or probably be irrigated without incurring liability for water-rates.

78. The following table shows the demand, collections, and balances for the last five years :—

Year.	Demand.			Remission.	Net demand.	Collection.	Balance.	Percentage of collection to current demand.
	Arrears.	Current.	Total.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.

79. The increase in the arrear balance from Rs. 4,23,793 to Rs. 6,95,208 requires serious consideration. The actual collections Rs. 7,70,359 are more than 25 per cent in excess of any year to date, so that at least in actual receipts there is an improvement. Of the balance Rs. 4,77,522 is on account of the current year's assessments, and Rs. 2,17,686 on account of previous years' demands.

80. The current year's assessments include the greater part of the rabi demands, which, though due on the 15th of March, are not legally recoverable until after the close of the year, even the kharif demands, which forms the greater part of the revenue, are not payable until the 31st of January, so that a considerable arrear balance in respect to the current year's assessments is inevitable.

The arrears with regard to former years' demands have, however, increased from Rs. 1,37,928 on the 1st of April 1884 to Rs. 2,17,685 on the 1st of April 1885. Of this increase no satisfactory explanation is forthcoming ; the khatioucs (demand statements) are said by the Collector to have been imperfect, and the numerous remission and alteration statements to have caused the rate-payers generally to withhold payment in hopes of a remission. Rules have been prescribed, which it is expected will lead to objections being preferred and disposed of at an earlier date, but so long as changes in the occupation of land continue alteration statements are inevitable. The remissions were Rs. 72,349 below those granted in 1883-84, the increase in the arrear balance being Rs. 79,857, so that it is not improbable that the large remissions granted in 1883-84 indisposed the cultivators to pay in 1884-85. The increase in the arrear balances has been separately reported on to the Government of India, but it is quite clear that no heroic remedies are practicable; improved administration will do something, and no effort to secure this has been wanting, but at least 50,000 cultivators have to be dealt with, and it is quite certain that a portion of the assessments will always be found to be irrecoverable. It is not desirable to fix any absolute percentage, as that which, it may fairly be expected, will have to be written off, but it is necessary to keep in mind the difference between receipts from water-rates assessed yearly on a fluctuating population on crops, the yield of which is only under exceptional circumstances taken into account, and those from land revenue permanently fixed at a fraction of its present letting value.

The balance for the years 1878-79 to 1882-83 inclusive has been reduced to Rs. 84,157, and it is thought that, considering all things, this sum on assessments amounting to Rs. 27,02,935 is not an excessive loss.

81. The expenditure on the revenue establishments employed is shown below:—

	1883-84.		1884-85.
	Amount.	Percentage on collections.	Amount.	Percentage on collections.
	Rs.		Rs.
Permanent and temporary establishments, such as zilladars, ameens, &c. ...	42,105	8·69	63,064	8·19

Headmen's fees	30,176	6·23	41,237	5·35
Total ...	1,14,005	23·54	1,29,308	16·78

82. The increased cost of collection is a consequence of the increased receipts, the percentage on which 16·78 against 23·54 last year exhibits a marked improvement. On the area assessed the cost of establishment was $\frac{114,005}{350,614}$ = annas 5·2 per acre in 1883-84, and $\frac{129,308}{356,577}$ = annas 6·0 per acre in 1884-85.

83. In former reports some information as to the cost of measuring the crops and preparing the demand statements has been given, the figures in these statements have necessarily been approximations, as the permanent establishment is also employed on investigating complaints and preparing alteration statements for existing five-years leases. The following table exhibits the charges for the current year, 101,622 acres under five-year lease on the 1st of April 1884 being excluded from the areas assessed:—

Name of Division.	Area measured and assessed.	Cost of measuring crops.		Cost of preparing demand statement.
		Total.	Per acre.	Total.	Per acre.
	Acres.	Rs.	Rs. A. P.	Rs.	Rs. A. P.

Arrah	114,163	3,804	0 0 6·3	8,327	0 1 2
Buxar	86,717	3,098	0 0 6·7	1,324	0 0 2·9

84. Considerable trouble is still experienced in obtaining the attendance of putwaries at measurements, and there has been no improvement in this respect during the past year. In a few cases where great inconvenience was caused, and the putwaries were legally bound to attend, they have been prosecuted and punished. In the Nasrigunge and Ramnagar sub-divisions 94·7 and 91·7 of the measurement papers were signed by the putwaries, results partly apparently due to the good management of the sub-divisional officers and zilladars, an example which might with advantage be followed elsewhere.

85. There has been no diminution in the number of complaints; 9,592 remission, and 259 miscellaneous applications were disposed of during the year. The revised rules alluded to in last year's report were formally sanctioned by the Lieutenant-Governor on the 27th April 1885, and they have so far had a good effect in hastening the presentation of objections to the assessment.

86. The number of crop experiments was small; in some sub-divisions this duty has not been sufficiently attended to, the average of 184 observations on the yield of rice crops gives 2·36 maunds of grain and 8·23 maunds of straw as the increased yield due to canal irrigation.

87. The receipts of the year under the head "Navigation" amounted to Rs. 51,761 against Rs. 85,193 so credited in 1883-84. Of the falling off Rs. 22,735 was in the item transport service receipts, and Rs. 10,697 in the item tollage on boats. The decrease in the transport service receipts is owing to Government having ceased to work the service, and is balanced by a corresponding decrease of Rs. 20,277 in the working expenses. The decrease in tolls on boats is due to the Western Main canal having been closed for three months for silt clearance. In 1882-83 a similar closure occurred, and the tollage receipts amounted to Rs. 39,804 against Rs. 37,335 in 1884-85.

90. The expenditure on navigation establishment, including the cost of working the locks and collecting tolls, was Rs. 13,595 against Rs. 13,654 expended in 1883-84.

91. It has already been stated that Government has now withdrawn entirely from direct connection with steam transport service. The following extract from the Superintending Engineer's report shows the arrangement at present in force:—

"The steam transport service in the Eastern Sone division, the Eastern Main, and Patna canals has been leased out to a contractor since the 21st of January 1884. and the steamers in the remaining canals were made over to him on the 20th October 1884. There are four steamers. viz. the Banas and Koel with stern paddle-wheels, and the Buxar and Umpire with side paddles. One of the stern-wheel steamers is kept in reserve; the other plies on the Arrah canal, the Umpire on the Patna canal, and the Buxar on the Buxar canal. There is a bi-weekly service between Arrah and Dehri, and Buxar and Sasseram, and a weekly service between Dinapore and Baroon. The deck fares are 3 pies per mile. The amount payable by the contractor is Rs. 10,000 per annum, or Rs. 833⅓ per month; which is credited as follows; Hire of steamers Rs. 333⅓; tollage, Patna canal, Rs. 150; tollage, Buxar canal, Rs. 150; tollage, Arrah canal, Rs. 200. The actual receipts during the year according to the Examiner's figures were Rs. 14,426 against Rs. 37,161 received in 1883-84. The working expenses in 1884-85 amounted to Rs. 12,198 against Rs. 32,475 expended in the year previous These figures include receipts and expenditure on cargo boats. The detailed tables regarding the working of the steamers are omitted. as they would only cover a portion of the year, during a great part of which the Western Main series of canals was closed. The contractor maintains the crews of the vessels at his own expense, and pays for all repairs not caused by fair wear and tear. The arrangement has so far been satisfactory. No complaints of the public being inconvenienced by the change have been received, and the time formerly given by the Executive Engineers to managing the traffic can with more effect be bestowed on the other important duties with which they are charged. Financially, the change does not cause Government any loss."

There are four cargo boats belonging to Government, three of which were hired to contractors during the year; they pay a reduced rate of toll, and apparently exert an unfavourable influence on private traffic. It is intended to dispose of them as opportunity offers.

92. The miscellaneous receipts during the year amounted to Rs. 40,354 against Rs. 34,405 in 1883-84. The increase is almost wholly in the item "miscellaneous," and is chiefly due to larger receipts on account of costs of process.

93. The financial results of the Sone canal system for the last four years are shown in the statement following, which gives the receipts and working expenses for the last four years:—

There has, it will be seen, been a very considerable increase in the net revenue, notwithstanding the much greater expenditure on maintenance. The cause of this satisfactory result is the large increase in the irrigated area which occurred in 1883-84, and as a considerable proportion of it is under five-year leases, it is hoped that retrogression will not occur. In 1885-86 a slight further improvement is expected.

94. The expenditure per mile incurred on repairs to the canals and distributaries for the last three years is given in the statement following:—

95. The increased cost of maintenance during the year was chiefly due to the silt-clearance of the Western Main canal, on which Rs. 83,677 were expended against Rs. 32,651 in the previous year. This with the percentage charge for establishment accounts for Rs. 62,700 out of the excess expenditure of Rs. 75,518, and of the remainder Rs. 11,074 were due to special repairs to the Sone weir, consequent on the injuries sustained by that work in the flood of the 7th July 1876, when three piers were entirely destroyed and twelve injured. The Eastern Main series of canals was not closed during the year, and the quantity of silt excavated was 3,564,795 cubic feet, at a cost of Rs. 17,414, the average rate being Rs. 4-12 per 1,000 cubic feet. The Western Main series of canals was closed during the months of April, May, and June, when 12,490,428 cubic feet of silt were excavated by hand; during the rest of the year 5,725,707 cubic feet were dredged, the average rates being Rs. 4·71 and Rs. 5·67 per 1,000 cubic feet respectively. The total quantity of silt removed from the Western Main and Arrah canals was 18,216,135 cubic feet, and the expenditure thereon Rs. 91,365, the average cost per Rs. 1,000 cubic feet being Rs. 5·01.

96. The expenditure on weed clearing continues to diminish, as will be seen from the following table extracted from the Superintending Engineer's report:—

The excess of working expenses over receipts was Rs. 16,252 as shown above against Rs. 1,025 in 1883-84. No report regarding these canals has been received from the Commissioner, but the Superintending Engineer states that owing to the year 1884-85 having, as regards the manufacture of indigo, been unprofitable, the guarantee which at present amounts to Rs. 21,750 was for the most part not paid within the year. There is a considerable balance to the credit of the Maharajah of Hutwa, and only a nominal balance against the Ramcola concern, with these exceptions from one to nearly three years guarantee is due from the guarantors. In some instances remissions could, under the rules, be claimed: these cases have been disposed of, and during the current year progress in reducing the arrears balance has been made. The price of indigo in 1884-85 was abnormally low, and there appears to have been real difficulty in realizing the assessments. This year the market has taken a favourable turn, and there should be no hardship in realizing the current revenue as well as the arrears.

98. The rainfall during the year is shown in the table below :—

99. The Superintending Engineer remarks that generally speaking the rainfall in July and August was good, and the hatia in October, when rain is of primary importance, very general

100. Owing to the favourable rainfall the area irrigated during the year was 7,223, acres against 21,122 in 1883-84. The operations of the year are thus described by the Executive Engineer.

"The area irrigated is one-third of last year, as few rice lands were irrigated.

"The factories to the south of the district irrigated their indigo lands, as the hatia rainfall was deficient during February and March of 1884-85. The irrigation done in Sadowa was effected in April 1884.

"The river was abnormally low during the year. It was owing to this cause that it was an impossibility to supply water in the Gandaki during part of the year Without a regulator across the Rupon Chap sota below the head sluice of this canal it will be impossible to supply water if the river be low. On the 24th of March the call for water for irrigation of indigo lands became so loud that a bund was thrown across the sota and the full supply sent down the canal for ten days. The supply to the canals below was, however, entirely cut off and some discontent was caused in consequence. The regulator across the sota is a necessity, and one should be put in, not only to supply water in the Ganduki when the river is low, but also for irrigation in the other canals in September and October, when the discharge in the sota is too great to admit of a bund being constructed, but yet the water level is too low for it to get into the canals.

"The working of the head cut and canals was as follows:—

"The head cut was kept open until the 20th June, when the feeder to the sluice was closed by a bund at its mouth. The river rose early in June, and the sota began to discharge on the 13th, the gauge at Sissua reaching 233·05. The head cut was kept closed until November, when the bund was removed, and it was worked for twelve days, and again closed for the removal of silt and weeds, which had largely accumulated in the first two miles. It was finally opened on the 14th December, and was continuously worked up to the end of March 1885. The Rupon Chap sota was bunded on the 20th December, and a full supply let down the Gangri and Dhanai canals as required. The Daha can always be supplied."

101. The primary object of these canals was the supply of water for the manufacture of indigo, and this end has been fully attained. There is a guarantee amounting to Rs. 21,750, which, however, is dependent on water being supplied in all months of the year, which in the case of some of the canalized rivers is quite impracticable. The present agreement will expire in October 1889, and a full report on the working of these canals has just been received and is now under consideration. In any future arrangements it will be necessary to secure at least a guarantee which will fully cover the working expenses. It is not likely that it will be possible to obtain any interest on the capital expenditure Rs. 6,65,609, which was provided from provincial funds.

CALCUTTA AND EASTERN CANALS.

102. The canals continued during the year to be controlled by the Board of Revenue, Lower Provinces, and are separately reported on. A resolution by the Lieutenant-Governor, dated 28th September 1885, reviewng their administration for 1884-85 was published in the supplement to the Calcutta Gazette of the 28th October 1885.

104. The revenue accounts for the last two years are given below :—

	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
1883-84	5,64,101	2,32,031	2,04,652	1,27,418
1884-85	5,69,726	2,91,214	2,07,882	70,630

105. The receipts from tolls on boats during the year were Rs. 5,08,546 against Rs. 5,24,752 realized in that preceding : the increased revenue shown above is due to a payment of Rs. 35,185 made by the Calcutta Municipality on account of land acquired by the Corporation in connection with the new drainage works. The increased charges are mainly owing to Rs. 78,575 having been expended on original works chargeable to revenue, against Rs. 27,897 so debited in 1883-84.

106. The following table gives some particulars regarding the traffic for 1883-84 and 1884-85 :—

Year.	Number of boats.	Weight of cargo.	Value of cargo.	Tonnage of boats.	Tollage.
	No.	Mds.	Rs.	Tons.	Rs.
1883-84	181,301	2,87,77,043	7,01,99,912	24,11,423	5,24,752
1884-85	162,347	3,17,73,576	6,40,60,329	24,85,322	5,08,466

The Supervisor of the canals attributes the diminished receipts to the general depression in trade, a reduced demand for firewood, and a partial failure of the rice crop.

107. Estimates for providing Tolly's nullah with locks have been submitted to the Government of India in connection with the docks proposed to be built at Kidderpore ; it is not, however, expected that any material increase to the revenue will accrue from these works. Further development of traffic depends on the improvement of the Bhangore khall, which lies on the main line of traffic, and in which boats are sometimes kept for upwards of a week waiting for a high tide.

NUDDEA RIVERS AND EDEN CANALS.

108. Capital and revenue accounts are not kept for these works. During the year Rs. 97,335 were expended on works at the heads of the Bhagiruttee, Mathabangha and Jellinghee rivers, which it is sought to keep navigable throughout the year. The tolls collected, inclusive of miscellaneous receipts, amounted to Rs. 1,95,457.

109. The primary object of the Eden Canal, on which the expenditure to the close of the year on original works has amounted to Rs. 6,22,633, was to supply water for domestic purposes. There being, however, a scanty rainfall, water was, at the urgent request of the civil officers given free of charge, the cultivators making their own arrangements entirely for its distribution after issue from the canal bank. From a careful report made by the Executive Engineer on such enquiries as he could institute, no detailed measurements being possible as to the area irrigated, it appears to be a safe conclusion that fully 3½ lakhs of rupees worth of crops were saved to the proprietors and cultivators in some proportion or other. The following extract from the Land Revenue Report on the subject is reproduced here :—

"In the Burdwan District it appears that no action was taken during the year for extending irrigation from the Eden Canal at the expense of the proprietors to be benefited by the work. The utility of the canal has, however, been generally appreciated by the people, and the Collector says that it has given about 60,000 acres of abundant crops in thanas Satgachia and Salimabad."

The Collector remarks—

"'The number of regulators and sluices now existing is not, however, sufficient for the thorough utilization of the quantity of water available, and many applications were received, praying for the insertion of pipes in the canal banks and construction of sluices, which were refused, as the Irrigation Department would not allow them.'"

110. The effect of the increased supply of water brought into the canal was to cause a greater deposit of silt, and to increase the cost of maintenance, on which, excluding establishment, Rs. 15,821 were expended. In anticipation of a similar demand for water being made again, the Commissioner of Burdwan was asked in March last to consider whether the increased burden thus thrown on Government could not be recovered from the persons benefited. No action in the matter was, however, taken by the civil officers concerned, though attention was called to it more than once; and during the rains of 1885 a precisely similar application, involving the expenditure of public funds for the benefit of the persons interested in the land in the vicinity of the canal, was preferred. Under the urgency of the request, although the rainfall was on the whole favourable both as to amounts and distribution through the district, it was considered impossible to refuse, and 15,000 acres have again been irrigated, for which no charge is possible, and which will, owing to the extra silt brought into the canal, entail a further burden on the general revenues of the province.

If this canal is to take its place as an "irrigation" work, it is clearly necessary that proper rules should be drawn up, and arrangements made for securing some reasonable return to Government, and the consideration of this matter is still being pressed on the local civil officers, with a view to the submission to Government of some workable scheme.

General Remarks.

111. The net income received during the year from the canals in Bengal, which have been constructed by Imperial Funds, viz., those classed as productive public works, amounted to Rs. 1,27,763, against a budget estimate of Rs. 1,26,000. The actual receipts and working expenses (direct charges) amounted respectively to Rs. 13,07,521 and Rs. 11,79,758, against the budget estimate of Rs. 12,50,000 and Rs. 11,24,000.

115. The revenue reports of the various projects were received on the dates mentioned below :—

	Ditto ditto, Sarun canals	11th „ „

The reports are due on the 1st of September. In no case has the Superintending Engineer's report been written by the officer who held charge of the circle during the year; but, making all possible allowances for the extra time required, by officers not familiar with the canals described, for preparing the report, it is clear that there has been great and preventible delay. The Superintending Engineers' reports cannot be completed until the Examiner's finance and administrative accounts for the year are received, and in recognizing this fact by fixing the date on which they are due for the future at the 15th of September, it is expected that complete punctuality will be observed. Delay such as has occurred this year takes away all interest from the report, and indicates a want of proper attention to the orders of Government.

The statistical tables prescribed in India Government Resolution No. 166 I, of date the 11th July 1885, are necessarily imperfect, information being required on points, especially in the forms regarding navigation, regarding which no accounts have hitherto been kept in this province. It is doubtful whether the orders referred to can be fully complied with, even in the report for 1885-86, as they involve a complete recasting of the accounts and returns at present kept.

116. I regret to have to record the death, on the 31st of March last, of Mr. F. M. S. Douglas, late Executive Engineer, Arrah Division, an officer whose tact and ability had led to his being placed in charge, whilst comparatively young, of the largest irrigating division in Bengal.

CALCUTTA, the 23*rd February* 1886.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL FOR THE WEEK ENDING FRIDAY, THE 19TH OF FEBRUARY 1886.

In the previous week the north-west monsoon conditions were, for the middle of February, unusually strongly developed; pressure had been largely above the normal, and temperature rather decidedly below it; northerly winds were stronger and more steady than usual, the air was very dry, and the skies cloudless, and absolutely no rain had been reported. For the first three days of the present week barometric pressure decreased rather rapidly, while temperature and humidity increased, and the northerly winds fell off in strength, and became rather variable. On Monday, the 15th, a rather rapid fall of pressure commenced over Northern India, which resulted in the formation of a slight barometric depression over Rajputana and the Punjab, while a second but more feeble depression was produced over Northern Bengal. On the 16th the depression over Upper India intensified considerably, and it advanced to the North-West Punjab; the fall of pressure in Upper India on this day was so rapid that it exceeded a third of an inch in the 24 hours. As the result of this disturbance, rain fell at many of the Punjab stations on the 16th and 17th, and on the latter date a snow-storm was reported from Murree. The disturbed conditions extended apparently to Bengal, and on these dates the changes of pressure were very variable, and over considerable parts of Behar and North Bengal the disturbed conditions were followed by thunder-storms accompanied by rain, so that rain was general in North Bengal on the 17th and 18th, while it was also fairly general in Behar on the 17th, and in some cases on the 16th and 18th. A few isolated showers were also reported about this time in the Burdwan and Bankoorah districts of South-West Bengal, at Berhampur and in the Mymensingh district, and also at one or two stations in Chutia Nagpur. An excessively rapid rise of pressure, however, took place on the 17th in the Punjab, where at such stations as Peshawar and Dera Ismail Khan the rise equalled nearly half an inch, and these conditions again caused a fairly strong northerly current to set in from Northern India over Bengal, when pressure rose considerably, temperature and humidity fell very rapidly, the sky became practically cloudless, and rainfall entirely ceased over Behar and North Bengal.

The variations of pressure during the week, it will be seen, have to a great extent been dependent on the larger changes in Upper India, and for the first three days pressure decreased rather rapidly; on the 16th there was a slight increase, which was followed on the 17th by a further fall, and on the last two days of the week pressure again generally increased. On the whole pressure has therefore decreased somewhat, and while during the previous week there was a mean excess pressure of 0·06″, during the present week this excess above the normal has been reduced to 0·018″.

The changes of temperature as usual have been in the reverse direction to those of the pressure, and there has been a decided increase during the present week. Thus temperature increased on the 13th, fell on the 14th, increased rapidly on the 15th, 16th and 17th, and then with the setting in of the stronger northerly wind current fell very rapidly up to the 18th. On this day so rapid had been the fall that the 10 A.M. temperature of the 18th at Hazaribagh was 13·3° lower than that on the 17th, and at Gya the fall in the same period was 10·5°. For the whole week the mean temperature of the Province has been not far removed from the normal, and thus the variation from normal is less than a tenth of a degree. The distribution of temperature has, however, not been very equal, and while the average temperature in Orissa, South-West and East Bengal has been below the normal, the temperature in Behar and Chutia Nagpur has been above it. Again, while the mean temperature has been nearly normal, the day temperatures have been in decided excess, and the minimum or night temperatures have been in equally decided defect. This is shown clearly in the table below, where the mean maximum and minimum temperatures for the week at eight selected stations are compared with the normal temperatures for the same period. From the table it will be seen that the average day temperature of the eight stations has been 1·5° in excess of the normal, while the average night temperature has been 1·7° in defect.

Some very high maximum or day temperatures have been recorded during the week, and particularly on the 18th, and thus Cuttack on this day reported 94·4°, Balasore 92·9°, and Midnapore 92·8°.

The distribution and occurrence of the rainfall have been described previously; North Bengal has received the largest amount and has averaged 0·21 inch, while South Behar has received the next largest amount, but it only equals 0·17 inch. The fall in North Behar has only averaged 0·09 inch, and the amounts received in South-West Bengal and Chutia Nagpur are so small that the average for each district is only a hundredth of an inch. East Bengal and Orissa have received practically no rain.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the province for the week ending Friday, the 19th February 1886 :—

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No 96 formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

* A special census of the Europeans in the Darjiling Municipality was recently taken, as the census of this section of the community, taken in February 1881, was not reliable owing to the Europeans being at a minimum in that month. The number of the natives remains as before, as it was not necessary to re-census them. The ratios have consequently been calculated on the revised population under all heads in the above table, except "Age," the ratios under which have been omitted, inasmuch as the census of the Europeans, above alluded to, cannot be employed as a basis of calculation owing to the results of the census under this head not having been recorded under the authorized form of age classification.

Increase.	Tons.
Coal	546
This increase is due to merchants not laying in stock during the rainy season as they used to do before; also to extensive brick-burning for repairs of buildings damaged by earthquake.
Edible grains	332
This increase is due to fair crop in this year.
Sundries	107
This increase is due to export of onions to Calcutta and import of potatoes to Azimganj.

Rocks off Tripaloor Reef.

NOTICE is hereby given that, as a guide to vessls making Madras from the Southward, or leaving Madras and proceeding to the Southward, or navigating between Sadras and Covelong (Covolam), and in order to better distinguish the dangerous outlying patches of rock to the Northward of the Tripaloor Reef (which is situated about 30 miles to the Southward of Madras), on which the steam-ships Karamania and Tangier struck in December 1885, the following extract from Horsburgh is republished:—

"From the Seven Pagodas to Covelong, or Covolam, the coast extends N. by E. a little Easterly, about 3½ leagues; between them a rocky shoal projects about a mile or more into the sea, and bears E. S. E., from the small hill of Tripaloor, known by being much nearer the shore than any of the others. This reef should have a proper berth in passing, which is steep to, as will appear by the following extract taken from the ship Rockingham's journal.

Tripaloor Reef.

"'The Rockingham, 26th of May 1776, at half past 10 P.M., hauled in a little from 13½ to 12 fathoms, directly after she had 11 fathoms, and steered N.N.E.; next cast 10½ fathoms, steered N E., the next cast had 8½ fathoms, and in hauling out to the Eastward, the ship struck upon a rock and soon bilged, had 6 fathoms under the bow, 6½ a little way ahead, 5½ under the stern, and 4½ at the main chains. From the wreck observed latitude 12° 43′ N., two of the Seven Pagodas bearing S.W., and the extremes of the land from North to S. by W., off shore about 4 miles. The Nancy, Captain Jamison, which anchored near us to assist in saving the treasure, had two cables cut by the foul ground; and H.M.S. Sea-horse near her, parted a cable."

Note.—Mariners should therefore be specially careful, when navigating between Sadras and Covelong, not to proceed under 13 fathoms, as between those places dangerous outlying patches of rock extend some distance seaward.

127. No annual grant shall exceed one-half of the income guaranteed from private sources except under special orders of Government.

128. Such inspection shall have no reference to religious instruction, but only to secular education.

136. Should the inspecting or examining officer referred to in the last preceding rule discover that the instruction or discipline in any school aided by a District Board is not efficient, or that the accounts are not properly kept, or that any of the conditions on which grants are made are not observed, he shall report the matter to the District Board. Should the Board on such reference omit to take the necessary action, a further reference may be made by the inspecting or examining officer to the Magistrate of the district, or to the Director in the way provided in Rule 125 above.

137. District Boards shall not, without the permission of the Director of Public Instruction, make a grant to any school, except a school for training teachers, that does not require a fee from all its pupils; provided that this rule shall not apply to scholarship-holders, who, in accordance with rules prescribed by Government, may be entitled to free tuition.

144. Should any difference of opinion arise between the District Board and the Inspector, the matter shall be referred either by the Inspector or by the Board through the Magistrate to the Commissioner. The Commissioner's orders on such reference shall be final as between the Inspector and the Board, unless a question of principle be involved. In matters involving questions of principle, if the Inspector be dissatisfied with the Commissioner's orders, he may refer the matter to Government through the Director of Public Instruction.
